NAVY CHIEF WILL BE DELEGATE TO LONDON PARLEY

Hoover Makes Peace with Admiral Jones.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—(Special.)—President Hoover has quelled the time being at least the navy department's intention to send the navy to the London arms conference. He did it today by appointing the secretary of the navy to the delegation.

REAR ADMIRAL
WILLIAM V. PRATT

The membership of the delegation is constituted up to date, follows:

Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state, chairman.

Charles Francis Adams, secretary of the navy.

Charles G. Dawes, ambassador to Great Britain.

Hugh S. Gibson, ambassador to Belgium.

David A. Reed, senator from Pennsylvania.

Joseph T. Robinson, senator from Arkansas.

Admiral William V. Pratt, commander of the United States fleet, and Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones, retired, will accompany the delegation as naval advisers.

Four Added to Delegation.

The only members of the delegation whose names had been previously announced were Secretary Stimson and Senators Reed and Robinson. The selection of Admiral Pratt and Jones as advisers had also been announced. As a result of the ruction over the nomination of the navy, the President held numerous conferences today, following which the state department announced that he had added Secretary Adams and the three ambassadors to the delegation.

This action has established peace for the administration, though for how long, of course, nobody can tell.

Rear Admiral Jones, who, as a retired officer, is not subject to orders by Commander in Chief Hoover and, therefore, is not compelled to go to London as an adviser, had threatened to decline to serve because of the cavalier manner in which the administration was treating the navy and the open attack on his head by the British in the naval parity negotiations.

Forewarn Navy Inferiority.

The members of the general board of the navy, the most authoritative repository of naval opinion we possess, fully perceived that if the administration accepted the British proposal, the result would be parity in armaments, and actually a British superiority in cruisers. The British proposals were patently designed to bring about the scrapping of the prospective cruiser superiority of the United States, as the prospective battleship superiority of America was scrapped in the Washington arms conference, and to establish the permanent inferiority of the United States in auxiliary craft.

At the Geneva conference of 1927 Admiral Jones, as a full fledged delegate, stood like a stone wall against the British proposals, which resembled those of the MacDonald government in the present negotiations. Admiral Jones, who headed the delegation, stood with him, and President Coolidge backed them.

Jones in Rebellion.

In this instance Admiral Jones found himself isolated to go to London in the subordinate capacity of naval adviser, without a voice in the actual negotiations. But what gave him greater concern was the apparent intention of the administration to allow the navy to vote at all in the negotiations. The state department and the diplomatic corps, untrained, were to have the whole say. The glimpse he had been afforded of what the state department and the diplomats intended to do to the navy increased his anxiety.

The revolt of Jones created consternation at the White House. Mr. Hoover had set his heart on having Admiral Jones go to London, in a purely advisory capacity, of course, but still as part of the scenery. Jones was last mentioned on page 13, column 2.

JOKE OVER HIS GOING TO JAIL FOR NOT TALKING

Insists He's Innocent and Not Disgraced.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Harry F. Sinclair, multi-millionaire oil man, walked out of the District of Columbia jail at 12:05 o'clock this morning after serving 198 days for contempt of the senate and of the District Supreme court.

Sinclair, smiling broadly and looking the picture of health, emerged from the grim, red structure accompanied by his brother, Earle; his personal attorney, George T. Stanford of New York, and George P. Hoover, his Washington counsel. He posed for several minutes for news photographers.

Under a previous agreement with the camera men, Sinclair posed so that no part of the jail was included in the picture.

Secular, but Brief.

Obviously happy over freedom, Sinclair consented to say a few words for the movie camera, referring to a statement issued earlier in which he reiterated his innocence of any legal or moral wrongdoing and thanked the assembled newspaper men for "the wonderful turnout at my coming out party."

He refused to make a lengthy statement. He said:

"I came to jail for not talking, you know."

Sinclair announced that he would spend the rest of the night at the Mayflower hotel here, where Mrs. Sinclair awaited him, but would leave some time today for his Ranocas estate in New Jersey.

Railroaded, He Says.

In the statement, Sinclair, after asserting that "no jury has ever convicted me of wrong," and that "the courts have admitted I am guilty of no moral turpitude in the contempt cases," declared he was "railroaded to jail in violation of common sense and common fairness." The imprisonment, he contended, was "in violation of common sense and common decency" to make him the scapegoat for corrupt politicians.

He refused to be "contrite for sins which I know I have never committed, nor can I pretend to be ashamed of conduct which I know to have been upright."

"I was a victim of political campaigns," he said, "to elect 'honest' Democrats by proving how dishonest Republicans were. When I was assaulted in this worthy enterprise, the Republicans discreetly replied that guilt, if any was personal."

A Political Victim.

"I was politically assailed but not politically defended. . . . The prosecution of the senate contempt case was moved by political prejudice and misunderstanding. A citizen has rarely been denied the presumption of innocence or been subjected to such violence and animosity as was exhibited in my case."

"If politics can railroad me to jail," he added, "it can railroad others."

Sinclair reiterated his assertion that he did not employ detectives to shadow the jury in his conspiracy trial until convinced that attempts were to be made to tamper with it to his prejudice.

Ask Doheny Trial Jan. 13.

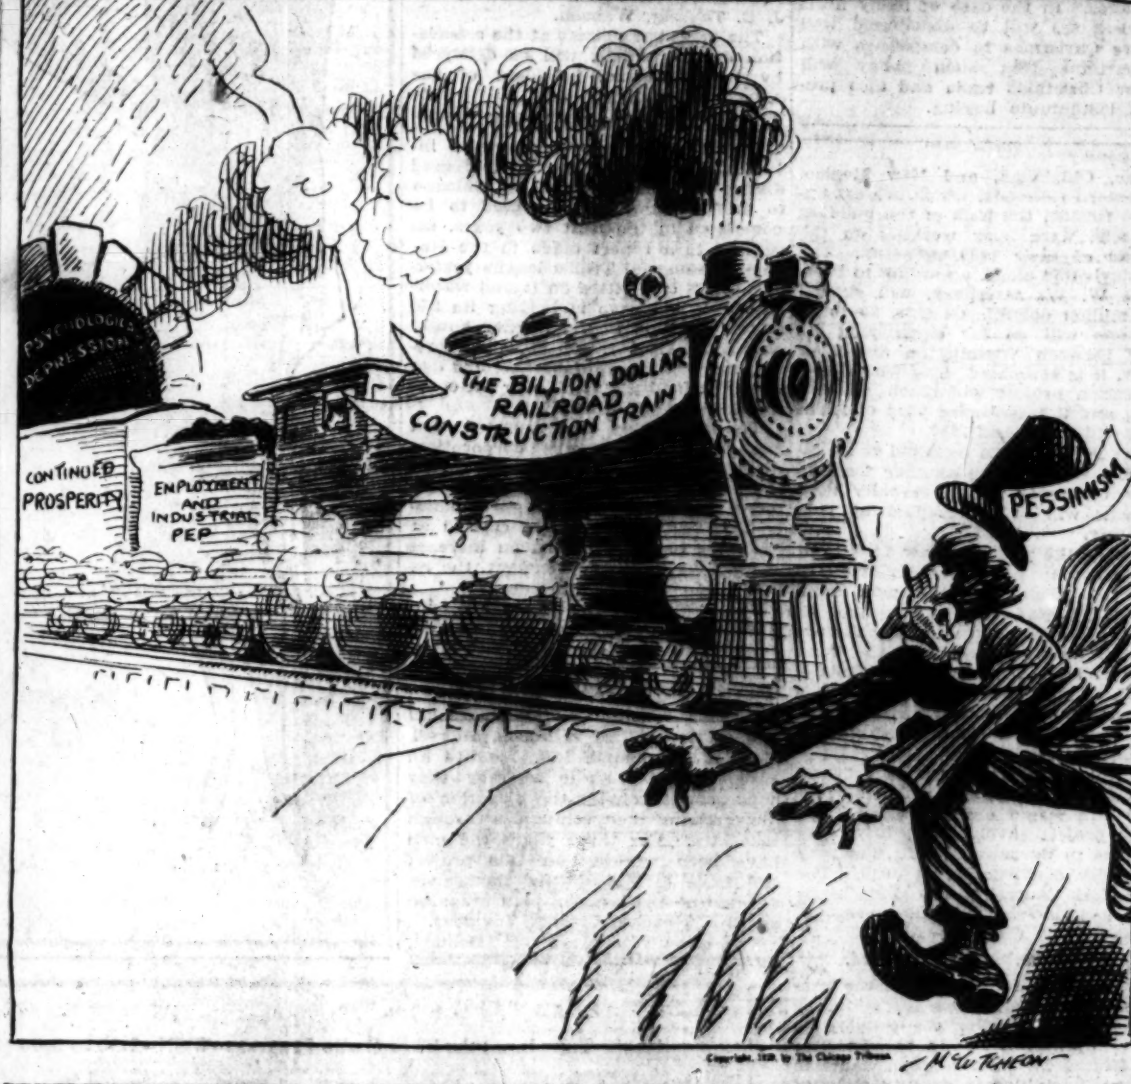

Although Sinclair is the only one of the three major figures involved in the oil scandals to see the inside of a jail—and then only because of conviction on collateral issues—Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, is under sentence to serve a year in jail and pay a $100,000 fine for accepting a bribe of like amount from E. L. Doheny, California oil magnate, who faces trial in January for giving the bribe.

Henry Mason Day, vice president of the Sinclair Exploration company and Sinclair's closest aide, served a three months' sentence for engineering the alleged jury tampering plot evolved, it was charged, by his chief.

Immediately after he entered the jail on May 5 to begin service of the first sentence, Sinclair was assigned as an assistant to Dr. Morris Hyman, the jail physician, and placed in charge of the jail pharmacy where his early training as a drug clerk stood him in good demand. A near scandal broke when it was discovered that Sinclair was allowed to leave the jail with Dr. Hyman to treat prisoners at the municipal wharves, and the privilege of daily automobile jaunts was hastily withdrawn from the oil man, by direct order from the district commissioners.

FRIGID WEATHER TO KEEP CHICAGO IN GRIP TODAY

Freezing weather held Chicago in its grip throughout yesterday, with a forecast of continued cold and fair weather for today, with the minimum between 22 and 25 degrees above zero. The cold weather is expected to continue through tomorrow.

Chicago got its touch of winter out of a northwest wind which is moving a high pressure area down from the Mackinac river basin. The high pressure area carried with it a genuine cold wave which sent temperatures down to six degrees below zero in Minnesota and North Dakota last night and as far as 12 below in Wyoming. Readings were below normal generally in the middle west and far below normal in the northwest. The mean temperature of 32 degrees in Chicago for yesterday was six below normal. Temperatures will begin to rise in northwestern sections tomorrow.

While the temperature in Chicago was 25 degrees at midnight, it was 12 below at Lander, Wyo. The thermometer registered 6 below at Yellowstone Park and 2 below at Cheyenne. Other low readings for the day were: The Pas, 4 below; Denver, 5; Minneapolis, 14; Sioux City, 14; Bismarck, 6, and Sault Ste. Marie, 16. Heavy snow falls added to the discomfort in the northwest.

TIPSY COLLEGIANS
PUT HOOVER BUST
ON CAR TRACKS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LOUVAIN, Belgium, Nov. 20.—President Hoover was discovered hanging from a street car track in the center of Louvain this morning. An artistic bronze bust of the President of the United States smiled upon surprised traffic cops as they started their duties in Place du Peuple.

A slightly inebriated crowd of Louvain university students had climbed the high entrance gate of the university library last night and taken President Hoover's bust from its pedestal and placed it on the tram track. The bust is in perfect condition. The students probably thus demonstrated their disapproval of President Hoover's stand in the university library inscription controversy.

The President recently voiced his indignation over the lawsuit of Whitney Warren, New York architect, in which he won his fight to have the inscription, "Destroyed by German fury; rebuilt by American generosity," restored to the facade of the library.

So Sues Biology Husband

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—(Special.)—Mrs. Signe G. Bartch today sued for divorce. She says her husband, Paul, a biologist in the National Museum and professor of biology at George Washington and Howard universities, regarded her a specimen in his studies and not as a wife.

Pilot Dies to Save Crowds in City Crash

New York, Nov. 20.—(Special.)—An aviator stuck with his crippled plane, where thousands saw plunge earthward, wing over wing, in the heart of New York today, and died when it crashed against a building. He might have leaped to safety with a parachute, but he did not. Instead he fought to the last to keep the plane from crashing in a crowded street where scores might have been killed.

A passenger landed by parachute on a building top.

Of the pilot he said:

"He had a parachute, but he stuck with the plane. He was that kind of a fellow."

Flyers Were Friends.

Charles I. Reid, booking agent and aviation enthusiast, was the pilot; Robert J. Baile, a friend, the passenger.

Reid strove manfully to bring his ship down in Central Park. As the plane flew over the park the crowds on the streets heard the coughing motor and watched the ship in its dizzy descent until it crashed into the new Y. M. C. A. under construction at 10 West 64th street.

Baile delayed leaving the plane until there was barely time for his parachute to belly out and keep him from being dashed to death. Though he saw him cling to the wing of the faltering ship, then leap and float down to a building top.

Skinned Building Tops.

Meanwhile the plane, completely out of control of Reid, executed weird contortions, coming lower and lower. Abruptly the ship careened west above 64th street, with Reid trying vainly to get to the park. Just skimming the tops of buildings, it shot along, its motor echoing in the quiet side street.

Racing along just a few feet over the cornices of the buildings, the plane crashed into a seventh story window of the new Y. M. C. A. building. Striking with terrific force, the plane nosed down, crumpled, and fell thirty feet into a well-like niche on the side of the building at the fifth floor, a mass of wreckage, with the pilot wedged inside it, his skull crushed.

A few moments after the crash Baile, struggling to his feet on the roof opposite, bruised and dazed, heard a woman shouting to him hysterically that the plane had struck the other building.

Then came the crowds, attracted by the extraordinary spectacle of an airplane swooping suddenly out of the sky to batter itself against a building in the heart of New York. Rescues from several police stations were called and kept the throngs back while police climbed to the roof and removed the body.

Baile said later his friend had faced an impossible dilemma. He declared he believed the plane had been so out of control that Reid could neither make a safe landing in the park nor keep the ship in the air. So Baile, with a nod to his friend, jumped and Reid, who also had a parachute, stuck to his ship, fearful of what might happen if a plane were left to fly wild over the city.

Woman Tries to Take Blame for Other Man

Breaking down after seventeen hours of questioning, Mrs. Genevieve O'Brien, 26 years old, last night confessed that she and Howard Dorr, her landlord, had plotted to kill her husband, William, 27 years old, and that Dorr shot him yesterday morning in their apartment at 7328 South Maplewood avenue.

Previously, in an effort to shield Dorr, Mrs. O'Brien had maintained that she shot her husband, a clerk in the office of the recorder of deeds in the county building, because of his continued abuse and threats to kill her. O'Brien, however, had told the police that Dorr shot him.

Father Urges Confession.

Mrs. O'Brien's confession was made near midnight after her father, Thomas Keegan, 5935 Wentworth avenue, had appeared at Deputy Commissioner Stege's office in the detective bureau and urged her to tell the truth. She then took Stege and Assistant State's Attorney Harry Ditchburn aside out of her father's hearing and told of her love affair with Dorr which culminated in the shooting, which may be fatal. Having told her story, she went to sleep, worn out by the day's events. She is to become a mother early next spring.

Dorr, when informed that the woman had revealed their plans to kill O'Brien and had accused him of firing the shots, merely shrugged his shoulders.

"I have nothing to say," he said.

Suspect Life Insurance Plot.

Dorr, who is an insurance agent, had sold O'Brien a $5,000 life insurance policy recently. According to O'Brien's father, Don O'Brien, who is superintendent of warehouse for the election commission, Dorr had tried to persuade the younger O'Brien to take out $15,000 more in insurance. The police believe that a desire to collect the insurance money may have motivated the death plot.

Mrs. O'Brien, in her confession, said that Dorr had spent the night with her while her husband was at work as a street car conductor. She said O'Brien had been working nights for several months to supplement his salary as a county employee. The wife confessed that she and Dorr had been intimate for a long time and that her husband's suspicions were the cause of their frequent quarrels, but his suspicions were not directed especially at Dorr. The O'Briens celebrated their fourth wedding anniversary last Saturday with a party at a roadside home and Mr. and Mrs. Dorr accompanied them there.

In Separate Bedrooms.

Because of her husband's suspicions, Mrs. O'Brien said she and her husband had not been on friendly terms for several weeks and he had been occupying a separate bedroom. When he returned home from work yesterday morning he retired to his own room, and when he arose to prepare for his day's work at the city hall he entered the bathroom between the two bedrooms.

Mrs. O'Brien tried the bathroom door and, finding her husband in there shaving, slipped back to her own bedroom and informed Dorr. She said Dorr then left the room and she thought that he had returned to his own apartment on the first floor, but instead he had gone into O'Brien's room and was hiding in the closet when O'Brien left the bathroom.

"When my husband returned to his room," she said, "Dorr fired a shot at him, but missed. My husband ran out and said, 'Somebody shot at me. But I just laughed and said it was only an electric light bulb bursting.'"

When O'Brien started back into the

BIG INDUSTRIAL LEADERS MEET HOOVER TODAY

Ford, Rosenwald at Prosperity Rally.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—(Special.)—A notable aggregation of industrial leaders will meet with President Hoover tomorrow morning.

The list of acceptances for this conference, the third to be held as part of the President's movement to maintain business progress, is headed by Henry Ford and includes Julius Rosenwald, Owen D. Young of the General Electric company, and a score of others. It will be the most impressive group of business leaders to assemble in Washington since the war.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and other prominent labor leaders will confer with the President tomorrow afternoon.

A conference not heretofore announced will bring together leading public utility magnates Monday afternoon.

The conference of farm leaders scheduled for Friday has been postponed until Monday morning.

Boston Cuts Money Rate.

The trend toward cheaper money was made evident by an announcement by the federal reserve board of its approval of a reduction in the discount rate at the Boston federal reserve district from 5 to 4 1/2 per cent.

The Boston bank is the second of the twelve federal reserve banks to make this reduction, the New York bank having taken the lead last week.

Most of the other ten banks, which are still on a 6 per cent basis, are expected to fall in line. The directors of the Philadelphia and St. Louis branches met today but made no announcement. The directors of the San Francisco bank will meet tomorrow and the Chicago directors Friday.

The directors of the New York bank, which are to meet again tomorrow, are understood to contemplate reducing its rate before long to 4 per cent.

is concerned, and that if those who control the major industries of the country will demonstrate by their example that they have faith in the future of business the wave of hysteria incident to the Wall street crash will blow over and the prosperity of past months continue unabated.

The President particularly is anxious that construction activities of the various industries shall be expanded, in line with his theory that construction work can be used to take up the slack in employment. Some of those who will participate in tomorrow's conference were associated with Mr. Hoover when he served as chairman of the conference on unemployment convened by the late President Harding in September, 1921. Mr. Young was appointed by Mr. Hoover at that time as chairman of a subcommittee on "business cycles and unemployment." Mr. Trigg was chairman of a subcommittee on seasonal operation in the construction industries.

Hoover Views on Problem.

Mr. Hoover expressed his views on this subject in a foreword to a report of the subcommittee on seasonal operation in the construction industries which was issued in April, 1924.

"Construction is the balance wheel of American industry," said Mr. Hoover at that time. "Activity in construction bears a close relation to general industrial conditions. The construction and equipment of new buildings result not only in the employment of building trades labor but in production of a variety of materials.

"The demand for construction thus to a large degree affects our economic stability."

As a result of the series of conferences it is planned to set up some sort of an organization to act as a clearing house for the activities of the different groups. Mr. Barnes and Mr. Butterworth, in cooperation with Secretaries Mellon and Lamont, will figure prominently in this work.

Secretary of Labor Davis will attend tomorrow afternoon's conference with labor leaders.

MORGAN FINDS BUSINESS TREND IS SATISFACTORY

New York, Nov. 20.—[Special.]—J. P. Morgan told his partners in the house of J. P. Morgan & Co. today that he is "satisfied with the trend of business and the security markets and the extent to which confidence in the business structure has been restored."

Mr. Morgan, who had been in Europe since early summer, arrived on the ship proceeded to his office, where his son, Junius, and others of the firm awaited him.

To reporters who met him a quarantine he had nothing to say. To those who waited in his office he sent his "regards and respects," but he had no statement to make.

The stock market signaled his return by continuing the marking up of prices, which ranged from 1 to 12 points higher at the close.

Cincinnati to Carry On Public Works in Winter

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Ordinarily winter in Cincinnati is regarded as the closed season for public work and contractors lay off thousands of employes. This year, however, the city will push its public improvements through the cold months. It was revealed today by Col. C. O. Sherrill, city manager. Col. Sherrill said that he believed there was much public work that could be done during the winter. He said he was inspired in his decision by the efforts of President Hoover to speed up employment.

RAILROAD CHIEFS TELL PLANS TO SPEND A BILLION

Executives Coming Here to Attend Dinner.

BY WILLIAM SHINNICK.

Detailed information on where and for what purposes the railroads of the United States will expend their promised billion dollars for expansion and equipment in 1930 is expected to come from a meeting of rail officials in Chicago tomorrow.

Twenty-five or more presidents of class roads are to be here today to attend the annual dinner of the Railway Business Association in the Stevens hotel. Included are most of those who gathered hurriedly at the request of President Hoover and pledged their support of full construction and betterment programs as an answer to any of those whose confidence in business has been shaken by declines in the stock markets.

1,800 to Attend Dinner.

It is expected that more than 1,800 delegates and guests will attend the dinner. Railway equipment manufacturers, who make up the membership, are vitally interested in the railroad programs for the coming year. Their orders this fall have been larger than they were last year and a continuation of heavy railroad buying would have the effect of keeping their plants busy and taking up much of the slack that may be caused by a falling off in demand for luxury goods.

Some of the larger railroads already have ambitious plans laid out for the next twelve months. A few are willing to talk about them.

Burlington Plans Told.

An inquiry yesterday disclosed that Chicago, Burlington and Quincy has let contracts for $5,000,000 worth of freight and passenger cars and locomotives and $2,500,000 worth of new rails. Work has just been started on a project to cost five million dollars, the expenditure to be for new yards and improvements at Galesburg, Ill.

"We are also spending $200,000 on our new passenger terminals at Omaha and the same amount for a grain elevator at St. Louis," said C. St. Spens, executive vice president of the road. "Work is about to be started on the separation of grades at 16th street in Chicago. We have asked the interstate commerce commission for permission to build a line of 100 miles in Texas to cost four millions. Other improvements on our lines will entail an additional ten millions."

Altogether the Burlington has plans that call for an expenditure of $32,600,000.

C. & N. W. Orders New Rails.

President Fred W. Sargent of the Chicago and North Western, who already had outlined his road's plans for betterments to follow the huge yards at Proviso, announced yesterday that a contract for 68,000 tons of steel rails to cost five million dollars had just been let. Delivery is to be made early in 1930.

The North Western is spending a total of eight to ten millions in equipment, including cars and engines. Its new freight station at the Merchandise mart will cost two millions. Building improvements in Chicago are expected to reach five millions. Track elevation in Cook county and at Kenosha will mean another five millions. The Santa Fe, according to President W. B. Storey, has placed orders for eighteen million dollars' worth of new equipment. It is awaiting official permission to start construction on 380 miles of new lines in Colorado.

BONUSES TO GIVE YULE AND THANKSGIVING JOY TO BROKERS' STAFFS

Thanksgiving and Christmas will not lack joy for the thousands of clerks and bookkeepers in La Salle street who have labored early and late during the recent exciting weeks in the stock market. Some brokerage firms are planning double bonus payments, dividing the amount customarily given to employes between Thanksgiving and Christmas. Others will conform to their usual schedule.

In some cases the Thanksgiving bonuses will represent a liberal reward for extra work and prolonged hours of the last month or two. In other cases the brokerage firms have been paying liberally for all overtime by employes and all extra expenses involved, such as meals and taxi fares, and will give bonuses as well.

A Thanksgiving bonus for each employe, equal to three weeks' salary, was announced by Hornblower & Weeks, one of the big brokerage firms. Such a bonus has been given occasionally in the past in good years. And the firm will consider the question of a Christmas bonus later.

Other firms will give straight bonuses of two or three weeks' salary, while still others will give salary percentages. In the case of many firms the bonuses will be distributed well before Christmas in compliance with suggestions that such policy will foster Christmas trade and also prevent last-minute buying.

Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico.

Eastern railroads, which are expected to furnish the bulk of the building projects, were busy working on the details of their 1930 spending. The Pennsylvania alone, according to President W. W. Atterbury, will expend 100 million dollars. Of this, 20 to 25 millions will go for electrifying its road between Washington and New York. It is estimated. The whole electrification project will reach 100 millions and it is assumed that one-fifth of it will be done in 1930.

The Pennsylvania terminal in Philadelphia will take up another ten millions this year and eventually fifty millions will be represented by this property.

During the year the New York Central plans to spend seventy-five millions on railroad improvement, new signal systems, the elimination of grade crossings, and other similar activities. A few days ago the road gave an order for nine million dollars' worth of steel rails. In September it placed on order locomotives that will cost five millions. It had ordered 150 engines in June.

For its four track system between Beacon and Garden, N. Y., this railroad will spend eight millions. Another project involves ten to twenty millions in Syracuse, N. Y., and may be under construction in 1930. The New York Central is also going along with a big track elevation program in New York City.

Ask Permits to Go Ahead.

Before the interstate commerce commission are applications for authority by railroads all over the country to start improvements. In the Dakotas the Mound City and Eastern wants to put half a million in seventy miles of new road. The Great Northern asks to be allowed to spend $750,000 on 105 miles in Montana. The Northern Pacific has ambitions to build eighty-seven miles in the same state. The Southern will, if allowed, put $3,690,000.

400 in new equipment at once.

On the Pacific coast the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific desire to build 201 miles of road from Klamath Falls, Ore., to Kettle, Cal. All that is necessary is interstate commerce commission approval and thirteen million dollars in work will be released.

The Wyoming and Montana wants to issue stock for eighteen millions and bonds for fifteen millions and build a line with the proceeds from Craig, Colo., to Miles City, Mont.

The Delaware and Hudson is reported to have 225 millions ready to spend if the interstate commerce commission will approve its plan for a new New York-Pittsburgh-Chicago trunk line. This project includes wholly new construction of 233 miles in the east.

Executives to Be Here.

Among the railroad presidents who are to be in Chicago for the Railway Business Association dinner and for the annual meeting of the member roads of the American Railway association today will be P. E. Crowley, New York Central; Daniel Willard, Baltimore and Ohio; John J. Barnett, Chesapeake and Ohio; F. D. Williamson, Burlington; J. E. Gorman, Rock Island; C. E. Denney, Erie; Ralph Budd, Great Northern; C. E. Johnston, Kansas City Southern; W. L. Ross, New York, Chicago and St. Louis; L. W. Baldwin, Missouri Pacific; J. M. Davis, Lackawanna; Charles Donnelly, Northern Pacific; Carl R. Gray, Union Pacific; J. S. Frey, Denver and Rio Grande, and J. E. Taussig, Wabash.

The principal address at the association dinner tonight will be delivered by L. A. Downa, president of the Illinois Central.

Traffic League Meets.

Interest in the development of inland waterways has greatly increased during the last year, and the Chicago to Gulf waterway is expected to be completed in the next two years, according to a report made to the National Industrial Traffic League yesterday by its committee on inland waterways. The league is holding its 25th annual meeting in the Palmer house and some 1,200 traffic experts representing 500,000 manufacturing and distributing institutions all over the country are in attendance.

The committee also reported that the Inland Waterways corporation, owned by the government, during 1928 carried the largest tonnage in its history. This amounted to approximately 1,900,000 tons and was carried at a saving to shippers and an increase in revenue to the government, the report said.

The sessions of the league will continue today and end this evening with a banquet.

PROJECT IN HAMMOND

Executives of six railroads, all residents of Hammond, Ind., reached an agreement last night whereby they hope soon to obtain the elevation of the tracks of their companies through that city. For three years the men have been working on this project and have divided among themselves the cost of an elevation plan prepared by E. J. Noonan, Chicago engineer. The executives are C. E. Denney, president of the Erie; W. L. Ross, president of the Nickel Plate; A. R. Kurrie, president of the Monon; T. W. Evans, vice president of the Indiana Harbor Belt line; and Henry Shearer, vice president of the New York Central and general manager of the Michigan Central.

Last night the five men arranged a conference between Noonan and engineers of their railroads three months from now. As a result of this conference it is hoped that the railroads will be won over to the project.

Waukegan Plans $1,500,000 Street Building Program

Commissioner Nicholas M. Keller of Waukegan announced yesterday that plans have been drafted for street improvements for 1930 to cost $1,500,000. The program includes paving and sewer and water main installation. According to Commissioner Keller, when the paving program is completed Waukegan will have more miles of paving than any other city of its size in the middle west.

Teeth Whiter Today Than Yesterday—Sparkling White Tomorrow

for Unmarried Girls

Test this amazing Kolynos Antiseptic Foam with its Unique Dry-Brush Technique that gets astonishing results—quickly restores teeth to their natural, gleaming whiteness by removing Bacterial-Mouth (You have it)

If the mere thought of your teeth causes bitter regret, switch to Kolynos. Within a few days you will discover to your delight how brilliant and sparkling white your teeth can be. As your dentist will tell you, ugly yellow discoloration, decay, and even gum diseases are unnatural. They have a common source in a condition that confronts all of us—all the time.

It is due to germs that sweep into the mouth with every breath. They drive and attack teeth and gums. Authorities call it Bacterial-Mouth.

Remove this condition and teeth whiten amazingly. The ordinary tooth paste won't do it. But Kolynos will. It quickly and safely kills the germs that cause Bacterial-Mouth.

Dentists Approve Amazing Dry-Brush Technique

Use no water with Kolynos. It is totally different from any tooth paste you have ever used. It permits the wonderfully effective Dry-Brush Technique, approved by dental authorities. For each brushing a half-inch of Kolynos on a dry brush is prescribed.

As soon as it enters the mouth Kolynos instantly multiplies 25 times. It becomes a surging, antiseptic foam, cooling, refreshing, and smooth. This foam gets into every crevice, pit and fissure. It kills germs that cause Bacterial-Mouth. It purifies oral cavity and neutralizes acids that promote decay. It combats tartar.

Without injury to teeth or gums it cleans teeth down to the naked white enamel—makes them sparkling white as they were in your childhood.

Safeguards Beauty

For 3 hours after each brushing this famous Kolynos Antiseptic Foam continues to polish teeth and guard you against Bacterial-Mouth.

Switch to Kolynos and see how gloriously white your teeth can be. Scrub teeth and gums vigorously morning and night—using the Dry-Brush Technique. Within 3 days your teeth will look whiter—fully 3 shades. Gums will look firmer, pinker. Your mouth will feel cleaner and fresher. And you'll understand why this amazing dental cream is winning thousands of new users every day. Get a tube from your druggist. Or fill in and mail this coupon for a FREE 2-weeks' trial tube.

HEIRESS TO WED? YES, SAYS MA; NO! SAYS HER DAD

Such Is Status of Miss
Cunningham's Romance

A report that Margaret Janice Cunningham, daughter of John T. Cunningham, millionaire ice cream manufacturer, was to have been married at 8 o'clock last night to Capt. Emery Williamson was affirmed later by her mother and denied by her father, Capt. Williamson is a regular army signal corps officer, stationed at Corcoran, Canal Zone.

"The wedding will be postponed for a few days," said Mrs. Cunningham as she met a Tribune reporter at the door of their apartment at 1930 Sherbourn road. Miss Cunningham and her fiancé had gone out, she said.

No Wedding, Father Says.

"There isn't going to be any wedding at all," exclaimed Mr. Cunningham, striding into the reception hall. "My daughter is not marrying any one, tonight or at any time."

"But Mrs. Cunningham said your daughter and Capt. Williamson were to be married in a few days," he was reminded.

"Well, they aren't—not if I know it," he said.

He was asked if an engagement had not been informally announced.

"There has not," he replied. "There is no engagement."

"But John," his wife said, "you now there have been all these dinner parties and other parties given in their honor."

"His Consent Not Asked."

"They think they're engaged, but they're not," Mr. Cunningham replied. "No one's asked my consent and I'm not going to be left out of this deal. You say they're engaged?—he turned to his wife—where do you get your information?"

"From my daughter," she answered firmly.

"From your daughter? Well—"

He turned and walked out of the room. He soon came back, however.

"There may be lots of parties going on, but there'll be none in this house, and there'll be no wedding here," he said loudly.

"Do you have any objections to Capt. Williamson?" he was asked.

"Never met him, Dad says."

"I don't know him," he said. "I've never met him."

Miss Cunningham met Capt. Williamson in Panama last winter while she was on a world cruise.

"She's taken lots of those trips around the world," her father said. "But I'd never have sent her on this one if I had thought this would have happened."

Capt. Williamson has been in Chicago two weeks, during which a round of parties have been given for the supposedly betrothed pair.

"They may run off and get married, but they will not get married here in this house," said Mr. Cunningham.

"O John, you do talk foolish," his wife said quietly, and left the room.

"Maybe I do, but I say what I mean. I'm not going to give out a penny my daughter's getting married when she isn't."

Miss Cunningham is a graduate of Penn hall, Chambersburg, Pa., and was grand president of the Mu Delta society in 1924. She is 25 years old.

CANADIANS JOIN WITH U. S. FOR BIG BUSINESS BOOM

Millions.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 20.—Confidence in the essential soundness of business conditions in America is being shown by Canadian leaders of industry and commerce simultaneously with expressions of such confidence at the present time in the United States.

The Canadian National railways today announced an ambitious capital expenditure program. About $20,000,000 will be expended by the company during the next twelve months on new equipment, passenger and freight cars and locomotives. The branch line program of the company, authorized by parliament in 1929, will be proceeded with at a cost of $10,000,000.

Work will also be started on a new terminal at Montreal for the C. N. R., construction of which will continue for five years, and which will run into millions of more dollars.

Will Build New Hotels.

The Canadian National railways will also build a new station at Hamilton, new hotels at Vancouver, Saskatoon, and Charlottetown, and will at an early date complete a combined station and hotel at Halifax.

The Canadian Pacific railway has made no official announcement of its plans, but it was estimated in financial circles here today that it will make expenditures on equipment and improving service this year roughly $10,000,000.

These large undertakings are planned despite the fact that the railways this year will show a reduction in earnings due to the holdup in the country's business in wheat and corn, consequently upon the smaller crop and the action of the wheat pool in conserving the wheat until the world is prepared to pay more.

Other private companies with headquarters here have given out statements giving an optimistic outlook for the future. Building activity in Canada made a new high record during the first ten months of 1929, with an aggregate value of $203,754,599, and there is every indication of continuing on the upward trend.

Italy Warned Against U. S.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
ROME, Nov. 20.—Senator Albert Pirelli's speech a few days ago, drawing attention to the American economic competition and its danger to Europe, is having a wide repercussion in the Italian press, which apparently is starting a campaign warning against the menace of the American economic colossus.

"Not only will American products flood Europe, but other markets which Europe formerly had will be hard to keep as a result of the American overflood," the press says.

"The United States will seek to make up for the deficiency of home purchasing power by selling abroad and for some time American producers probably will sell their goods much under cost rather than slow up their production, which would aggravate the present situation and increase unemployment."

NEW POSTOFFICE WILL RISE HERE IN COMING YEAR

Federal Improvement to Provide Many Jobs.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Construction of the new $17,000,000 postoffice at Chicago is to be begun as soon as possible as a part of the Hoover administration's program of business stimulation. Treasury officials said today that while no definite date could be set to start work, contracts will be let as soon as completion of the designs for the postoffice make this possible.

"We are going to push the Chicago postoffice project as rapidly as possible," Maj. Perry Heath, assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of public buildings construction, said today when asked why greater progress had not been made. "We are waiting now for the designs and floor plans. As soon as the Chicago architects have completed the designs, we will be set to work to complete the working drawings, which must be completed before bids for construction work can be asked."

Architects Are Busy.

Maj. Heath said that he was confident work on the building could be started in 1930. He said that Graham, Anderson, Probst and White, the Chicago architects, have conditionally promised to complete their work by Feb. 1.

"The sketches and preliminary floor plans are now at the postoffice department," Mr. Heath continued. "Officials there have promised to correct the drawings as soon as possible and notify the Chicago firm what changes are wanted. We hope the floor drawings and designs of the building will be ready by February. That would give us time to complete the working drawings by assigning special men, so that the construction work could be started during the 1930 calendar year."

Bids Will Be Asked.

Once the working drawings are completed bids will be asked for excavation work and erection of the postoffice building, treasury officials said. It is possible that bids for excavation work will be asked before the working drawings are finished.

"The department," Maj. Heath said, "is fully alive to the Chicago situation. We want to have the contractors throwing dirt as soon as possible. Letting of contracts for this building will not only give work to thousands of men, but it will apply big orders for steel fabricators. Several thousand men can be set to work fabricating steel as soon as contracts are let."

Maj. Heath said there need be no further worry regarding finances for the new building.

"Now that we have the authorization," he said, "we will be able to get the money as fast as we can spend it economically."

Du Page Mosquito District Beaten, Returns Indicate

Returns last night from the special election in Du Page county on the question of creating a mosquito abatement district indicated that the proposal would be defeated by a vote of approximately four to one. The first four of the twenty-one polling places to report gave a total vote of 487 for the proposal and 1,917 against it. The vote in the four communities reporting was as follows: Wheaton, 244 for, 446 against; Downers Grove, 133 for, 412 against; Glen Ellyn, 85 for, 135 against; Naperville, 25 for, 924 against.

WOMAN RETURNS KIDNAPED BABY, COVETED CHILD

New York, Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Donald Larnie, 3 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Larnie of Brooklyn, who disappeared Tuesday afternoon from in front of a store where his mother was shopping, was returned safely to his parents tonight.

And with the return of the child there came to light the story of a woman who wanted a child of her own so intensely that she walked away with Donald when he cooed at her as she caressed him in his carriage, and took him home with the idea of bringing him up as her own.

The woman, Mrs. Irene Roosevelt, was being held tonight by the police. She will be arraigned tomorrow on a charge of kidnapping.

During the child's absence advertisements were placed in the papers asking return, as the child might die if it missed the special diet prescribed for it.

Walter Carothers, 36 years old, 2229 Austin avenue, took home yesterday by Mrs. Lydia Mack, 68 years old, as the bandit who beat her on Tuesday in her grocery store at 1837 Maple avenue. Carothers was captured at Hoyne avenue and Lake street by Sgt. James Kilgore and his squad.

IF I WERE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

The Tribune invites other brief statements describing what you would do if you were President of the United States. The invitation is to Tribune readers everywhere. Address Government Editor, The Tribune.

Editor: If I were President I would exclude all residents of the petrified states [New England and eastern] from my cabinet. I would say NO, ofteners than YES.—G. G. H., Grand Rapids, Mich.

Editor: I would see that the government and its officials would have more to say about their government than Wall Street.—A. B. Bagdad.

Editor: I would order an investigation of our banking system and ascertain why savings banks pay only 3 or 3½ per cent to the millions of savings bank depositors who need the maximum income from savings, while they are making loans to borrowers at 6 per cent or better and corporations handling trust funds are paying as much as 4½.—Morris West.

Editor: I would make good on the platform on which I was elected to help the grain growers, and I would do it by letting the world know that the government will take all the wheat at a price not under $1.50 per bushel. By so doing the wheat would never go below that price.—J. J. S.

Editor: If I were President I would start action to abolish the United States senate.—J. L.

Editor: If I were President I would do everything in my power to abolish prohibition, because it has accomplished only crime and disrespect for all our laws.—F. T. P.

HAWK (OR EAGLE) CAUGHT IN WIRES BATTLES 2 COPS

A huge bird which became entangled in electric wiring in the subway under the Chicago and North Western railroad tracks at Foster avenue last night gave two policemen a fierce battle before they finally subdued it long enough to tie its wings and feet.

The bird had broken one wing in its struggles to free itself, but it fought desperately, scratching Sgt. James Curran and Patrolman Leo McGourty of the Summerdale station with its claws and beak when they started to extricate it from the wires.

The two policemen insisted the bird was an eagle, but the Lincoln park police, who because of their proximity to the zoo consider themselves qualified as ornithologists, decided that the bird was a large hawk. The bird measured five feet from wing tip to wing tip. It was turned over to the park police to be cared for at the zoo.

COUNTY SWINGS ITS BUDGET AX; HOSPITAL IS CUT

Let All Suffer, Plan of Commissioners.

Two significant one minute periods of silence marked the opening of the preparation of the 1930 county budget in the face of a $5,000,000 deficit by the county commissioners yesterday. Both intervals commemorated the passing of hopes for outside aid. First, there was the refusal of the Circuit Judges' committee on help to slash the number of county jobs. Second, was the coolness of Gov. Emmerson toward the suggestion that a special session of the legislature be called to clear the financial morass.

Only seven of the fifteen commissioners answered the call for the meeting. They were Chairman Newby of the finance committee and Commissioners Busse, Kris, Schmidt, Metzger, Kavanagh, and Jaranowski. President Cernak is in Florida. It was said that an S. O. S. message has been sent urging his immediate return in view of the unfavorable developments.

No Hope for Help. "Well, fellows," Newby said, surveying the solemn faces of his fellow commissioners, "the judges have spoken."

A full minute of silence elapsed before Commissioner Busse answered: "The worst is yet to come. The governor doesn't warm up to the idea that a special session of the legislature is necessary."

This remark was followed with another silence.

"This sort of business won't get us anywhere," Newby broke in with attempted cheerfulness. "We have to swing the ax. Let it fall on every one alike. Twenty-five per cent is our slogan. Let's go. Here's Warden Michael Zimmer of the county hospital, our first victim."

The pleasant fall flat. The county hospital was given $1,000,000 in the 1929 budget. The commissioners explained sorrowfully that it was none of their doing, but the figure would have to be cut by $201,252 in the 1930 budget. The cut falls alike on salaries and supplies. The warden explained that the cut would seriously affect the poor of the county in reducing the efficiency of the hospital, but declared himself willing to aid in general retrenchment.

Still Hope for Aid. "That's getting somewhere," Commissioner Kris said after the slash was tentatively agreed upon. "Now if we carve the mothers' pension, public welfare, blind relief, and the old people at Oak Forest, maybe the public will be aroused and force the legislature to meet and give us necessary relief. The public won't stand for impairment of welfare and charitable work."

County Clerk Swetzer followed. He declared himself willing to live with-

N. U. EDUCATOR URGES WOMEN TO ATTACK STATE TAX PROBLEM

Declaring that there is no other state in the union in such utter confusion over the tax problem as Illinois, Ernest Hahn, professor of economics at Northwestern university, yesterday urged the women voters of the state to assume the leadership in matters of state finance.

"You women will have to assume leadership," Prof. Hahn told 300 members of the Illinois League of Women Voters in their ninth annual convention at the Orrington hotel, Evanston. "We men have tried to remedy this thing for years."

What we need today in Illinois is a concentrated responsibility in the state tax commission. We need one tax commissioner who shall appoint the assessors, and upon whom the total responsibility may be centered. We should get rid of the board of review because it is a nuisance. In short, responsibility in taxation should be placed in a definite spot, and the personal property tax should be replaced by an income tax."

In his 1929 appropriation of $288,539 in spite of the fact that his office will do no work next year. He said that his employees are willing to be paid for eleven months for the year's work and work overtime without pay.

"Which would you prefer?" Commissioner Schmidt asked, "a cut in jobs or a cut in pay?"

"Well, you know jobs are scarce and there's an election on the way," County Clerk Swetzer answered. "I

You Meet Septics in the Movies!

There is a certain fastidiousness which habits of cleanliness cannot achieve alone. The person who sometimes expects of cleanliness may have failed within the hour.

If you are a septic, soap and water will not solve the difficulty. Now with any retentive neutralizing secretions of the body, or the breath for any length of time.

Nobody is septic by nature. It is a condition anyone can correct. Just a few days are sufficient to take the taint out of perspiration, and render one's breath as pure as can be; and this perfect personal cleanliness made permanent. Ask any doctor—or sure—about Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

You may not know whether you are a septic. Try Stuart's Calcium Wafers, and see if there is any stagnant matter in the system, everything will speedily be sweet and clear. Your skin will be less acid; color improved; this chronic condition over brightens eyes and whitens teeth! And you will never need another harsh cathartic from the time you have learned to prevent even semi-constipation by just occasionally taking a tiny calcium wafer.

MAKE THIS TEST A five day test will prove to you very conclusively the system's need for Stuart's Calcium Wafers, and the decided benefit from these little wafers. Your druggist has them—the next size for pocket is 50c. Or the family size, 60c.

Judge Reineke to Aid.

No other official appeared to go under the ax. It was explained that the majority were before the judges' committee, consisting of Circuit Judges Kerner, Elarkowski, and Feinberg, explaining their 1930 job requests.

News of the slashing was received without interest by the judges. "It is no concern of ours," Judge Feinberg voiced the general opinion. "The commissioners are responsible for the deficit. Let them worry their heads over it. It is not in our province to give relief."

Two officials boasted of savings during the day's session before the judges. Recorder Clayton F. Smith promised to reduce 40 jobs in his office, a purported saving of $300,000. Coroner Burdick declared that he has saved $50,000 in stenographers' fees in 1929 and predicted an even greater saving in 1930.

SCHOOLS WANT AID

The board of education, at its meeting next Wednesday, will formally request Gov. Emmerson to call a special session of the legislature to revise the so-called obsolete tax laws and solve the chaotic financial condition of the Chicago school system, H. Wallace Caldwell, president, said yesterday. Legislation is the only method of preventing the schools from closing for a month or more in 1930, he declared.

The announcement of the board's proposed action was made at a meeting of the trustees, sitting as the committee of the whole, for the purpose of considering the tentative educational fund budget for next year.

The budgetary requirements total $54,371,143.46. In addition, a 1929 deficit of $7,948,783.36 must be absorbed in the 1930 appropriation. Estimated revenues in 1930 indicate that the board will face a new deficit of approximately $7,000,000 at the end of 1930.

The board hopes to accomplish two things in its request for a special session. President Caldwell said; first, to offer the assistance of the trustees in planning relief legislation, and, second, to give warning one year in advance that the schools must shut down by Dec. 1, 1930, unless relief measures are passed.

GRAND JURY GETS CIVIL SERVICE JOB BUYING EVIDENCE

Official Refuses to Sign Immunity Waiver.

Evidence which the state's attorney's office hopes will eventually lead to the indictment of at least two, and possibly three, city hall jobholders and one former official was given to the grand jury yesterday afternoon by Assistant State's Attorneys George Lavin and Homer Dodge.

The evidence was only preliminary to documents to be presented within the week which the prosecutors say show a conspiracy to violate the civil service law. The charges, if they are proved by the grand jury, are expected by the prosecutors to be based on alleged evasions of the civil service law since the advent of the last Thompson administration.

"I intend to investigate every reinstatement of a civil service employee during the administration of Thomas J. Houston, former president of the civil service commission," said Prosecutor Lavin after the grand jury adjourned for the day.

Mum on Calling Denmark.
Mr. Lavin refused to say whether he will call E. J. Denmark, one of the commissioners before the grand jury. Bishop Archibald J. Carey, the other member of the commission, has already been indicted on charges of selling jobs and promotions.

James C. Osborne, secretary of the commission, refused to sign an immunity waiver before the grand jury yesterday and was not allowed to testify.

"I refuse to sign it," said Osborne when the immunity waiver was given to him and its significance explained. Under the law a person signing a waiver can be indicted. If a waiver is not signed then the person testifying is immune from indictment in that case.

Woman Talks Willingly.
Anna M. Kelley, head stenographer of the commission and private secretary to Mr. Houston when he was president, was a willing witness. She said without reservation, it was reported, who visited her employers and how certain papers were filed and kept by the commission. One lawyer visitor especially interested the prosecutors and the witness is reported to have said that he made frequent appearances at the office of the commissioners.

The testimony of a reinstated policeman, who has been in technical custody of the state's attorney's detectives for several days, started the line of inquiry in regard to putting back on the pay roll men who were removed under charges.

The policeman testified that he was discharged in 1924 when accused of taking a bribe from a motorist. Without a hearing or a petition of record being filed the policeman was given back his position five years later, Feb. 4.

Talk of Reinstatement "Fee."
The policeman said he was told to go to a certain lawyer. He did, and for a "fee" of $500 he was reinstated.

Wins Seven Homes

ROSALYN BLOOM.

COURT AWARDS ORPHANED GIRL TO SEVEN HOMES

Settles Battle of Clans by Compromise.

Six year old Rosalyn Bloom, orphaned by the suicide of her mother and the mysterious murder of her father, yesterday was given seven mothers and seven fathers by Judge John R. Prichard of Bureau county, who is assisting Probate Judge Horner. Rosalyn was given seven homes in a compromise decision of the claims made for her custody by the Tiger and Bloom clans.

The girl was left in the custody of her great-uncle and great-aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tiger, 2641 Almsie street, five years ago, when her mother, Mrs. Katherine Bloom, ended her life. On June 3 of this year her father, Herman Bloom, a painter, was shot and killed by mysterious assassins in front of his home at 1115 Drexel avenue.

The commission minutes show that a hearing was had, but no record of it or a petition can be found in the files, Lavin said.

The law is that a petition for reinstatement must be filed within 30 days from the time of discharge or the hearing can never be reopened. Violation of this section carries a penalty of a fine or imprisonment.

The lawyer named in the case will be called before the grand jury later. He has handled many cases before the commission.

Another bit of evidence is from a witness who said he carried an envelope from the lawyer's office to a certain commissioner. This envelope, he said, contained money, but the amount is not known.

CITY WINS DELAY IN COURT WAR ON 10 CENT "L" FARE

Assistant Corporation Counsel Edward C. Higgins yesterday asked Master in Chancery Roswell B. Mason to give the city more time in the elevated fare federal injunction case on which hearings began more than a year ago. Mason reluctantly granted a delay of thirty days to permit Higgins to prepare arguments. The elevated lines are seeking a permanent injunction in federal court to prevent the Illinois commerce commission from interfering with the collection of a straight 10 cent fare.

Mr. Higgins pointed out to Master Mason that Congressman Frank R. Reid, who, as a special assistant corporation counsel, cross-examined the elevated lines' witnesses during the last year, has dropped out of the case.

"This leaves us in a situation where we must beg the indulgence of the court," he said.

POLICE OFFICERS ACCUSED AFTER GAMBLING RAIDS

Charges of neglect of duty were made yesterday against Capt. Alfred Christensen of the Racine avenue station because of a gambling raid made by police of the state's attorney's office on Oct. 16 at 4752 West Lake street, in the Austin district, which Capt. Christensen then commanded.

Similar charges were preferred against Lieut. James Kerr, who was acting captain of the Des Plaines street district, because of a raid by Chief Investigator Pat Roche of the state's attorney's office at 520 South Halsted street. In the Austin raid Roche's men found 25 persons shooting dice; 37 were arrested at the Halsted street place on the same charge.

"I didn't know that Capt. Christensen was included in the charges," Commissioner Russell said last night. "I served notice on all commanding officers some time ago that whenever any outside agency was able to make arrests for gambling the men in that district would be held responsible. These charges are in accordance with that notice."

Several policemen and sergeants under the commands of Christensen and Kerr were also charged with neglect of duty. They and the commanding officers will be tried on Nov. 25. Neither Christensen nor Kerr was suspended.

10 RICH PEASANTS CONDEMNED TO DEATH IN RUSSIA

MOSCOW, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Death sentences were pronounced today on ten wealthy Russian peasants. Eight were condemned in the Poltava district for the murder of soviet village officials and two in Minsk were condemned for burning fourteen homes belonging to poor peasants.

Most of the difficulties that soviet authorities have had with rich peasants, who also are known as kulaks or futs, have come in connection with the soviet gathering of grain from the peasantry and converting the present small land holdings into large collective farms.

Horsewoman, 20, Trampled by Mount in Rodeo Arena

Grace Runyon, 20 years old, of Spearfish, S. D., former champion girl broncho rider, was seriously injured last night when a horse, from which she had dismounted, trampled her in the arena of the Rodeo at the Chicago stadium. She was taken to the county hospital with a sprained back and a possible fracture of the pelvis. Ralph Stanton, 23 years old, of Roundout, Mont., broke a leg while "bulldogging" a steer at the afternoon performance.

GOOD'S BODY ON LAST JOURNEY TO BOYHOOD HOME

Hoover Mourns Him at White House Rites.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—(Special.)—Secretary of War James W. Good, an integral part of the busy official life of the national capital for two decades, left Washington for the last time today. His body, resting in a flag-draped casket banked by masses of flowers, was speeding by special train tonight to the war secretary's boyhood home in Cedar Rapids, Ia., where interment will take place Friday.

The four-car funeral train, traveling as a special section of the Capitol Limited on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, pulled slowly out of the city at 3:15 this afternoon. Four hours after President Hoover and the notables of the national capital had paid final tribute to the dead cabinet officer in simple, solemn services held in the east room of the White House.

Recalls Harding Ceremonies.
Not since the funeral of Warren G. Harding in 1923 has one of the nation's distinguished sons received such honors as were accorded today to the departed cabinet member.

Not only did the elite of the capital attend the White House funeral services, but the man in the street paid his tribute as well.

Long before the time for the trip to the station, crowds began congregating on Pennsylvania avenue in front of the White House, where the body rested. At 2 o'clock, when the army band took up its position on the front lawn, the street was packed. Hopes were spread along the sidewalks to hold back the people.

Sharply at 2 o'clock the army band came to attention. Four flourishes were sounded, then the musicians broke into "Lead, Kindly Light."

Funeral Cortege Starts.

The members of the cabinet formed in double line on the front porch. The flag-covered coffin carried by six enlisted men was carried out between the cabinet ranks and strapped on a cradle covered with artillery caisson.

The six bay horses drawing the artillery caisson on which the body rested was halted at the presidential entrance to the White House grounds while a half mile long procession of cavalry, artillery, infantry, marines, and blue jackets marched past in review, to the strains of Chopin's funeral march. Then the funeral procession moved slowly down Pennsylvania avenue.

At the railway station the body was placed in the front compartment of a special car. The car was filled with flowers sent from the White House conservatory and by brother cabinet members and friends.

Family Travels with Body.

The two cars immediately to the rear were placed at the convenience of Mrs. Good, her two sons and other members of the funeral party. These included Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams, as representative of the administration; Senators Charles E. McNair (Rep., Ill.), Smith W. Brookhart (Rep., Ia.), Representative Crenshaw Cole (Rep., Ia.), acting Secretary of War Patrick Hurley, and Maj. Gen. Charles P. Summerall, army chief of staff. The train will arrive at the North Western terminal in Chicago at 9:30 tomorrow morning, spending one-half hour there before moving on to Cedar Rapids.

The Funeral Service.

Throughout the time of the funeral services at the White House the wheels of the government were at a standstill. All executive departments were closed, the senate was recessed.

The President and Mrs. Hoover were at the front door of the White House when the caisson carrying the body arrived at 9 o'clock this morning. A few moments after the caisson had been placed in the east room, the President went quietly to look again on the face of his old friend.

Early arrivals for the 11 o'clock services found every wall of the east room banked high with flowers. A single palm wreath rested against the front of the casket. All portraits except those of George and Martha Washington had been stripped from the walls for the occasion. The life size portrait of Washington was on the right of the casket, that of his wife on the left.

fixed stood constantly at attention in front of the casket.

Longworth Early Arrival.

Speaker Longworth was one of the first to arrive. He took his place in the front row. A moment later he was joined by the venerable justice, Oliver Wendell Holmes. Chief Justice Taft and his wife arrived a moment later.

Before 11 o'clock the room was crowded; in the group were members of the diplomatic corps, headed by Ambassador Velarde of Peru; Vice President Curtis and delegations from both houses of congress. Color was lent to the scene by the gold braided full dress uniforms of the high naval and army officers.

Just before 11 o'clock, the cabinet filed slowly in. Every one rose a moment later as the President and Mrs. Hoover entered and took seats directly in front of the casket. Mrs. Good and her two sons, James W. Jr., and Robert Edmund, with intimate friends, listened to the services from the green room.

As the President took his seat the Rev. Joseph R. Sizoo of New York Avenue Presbyterian church, which Secretary Good had attended here, began the simple burial service by reading from John 11:25.

Then followed the reading of the Lord's Prayer, in which those present joined. The minister concluded the first part of the service by reading three stanzas of the poem by Margaret Sangster, "Going Home." A woman's quartet sang "Abide With Me," then the services closed with a prayer.

Plan Military Rites at Grave.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Nov. 20.—(Special.)—Funeral services will be held here at 11 a. m. Friday for James W. Good, late secretary of war, and a few hours later the body of Harry B. Lutz, his boyhood friend, will be laid to rest in a country graveyard. Mr. Lutz had planned to attend Mr. Good's funeral, but dropped dead yesterday morning. They were boys together on the farm and attended the same country school together fifty years ago.

Senate Defers Action on Judge Nominations

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—(AP.)—Consideration of the nominations of Albert L. Watson of Scranton to be judge of the middle district of Pennsylvania and of Richard J. Hopkins of Kansas to be federal judge for that state were deferred again today by the senate and will be put over until the December session.

NEW GRANADY MURDER STORY STIRS UP TRIAL

Witnesses Against Carroll Contradict Each Other.

An entirely new version of the Octavius Granady murder was told yesterday by a state witness in Judge David's court where Lieut. Phil Carroll and eight others are on trial. The witness' testimony provided an unexpected climax to a day of evidence which, at varying times, provoked the spectators to laughter, aroused them to excitement, or held them in breathless tension.

Other state witnesses had pointed, without hesitation, to Lieut. Carroll as an occupant of the police squad cars which chased the automobile on April 10, 1928, in which Granady, co-ordered opponent of Morris Eller for the post of committeeman of the Twentieth ward, was slain.

New Story of Shooting.

Then along came Bryant McDonald, colored, 1214 Throop street, who gave the following story of the shooting and staunchly stood to it. He said: "I was standing there in front of the police at 1222 Blue Island avenue around 5 o'clock in the evening when I saw a man walk out into the street. He was a little man dressed in a light tan topcoat, tan hat, brown suit and tan shoes. He pulled a gun out of his pocket and began shooting at an automobile passing by which I later learned was Mr. Granady's car."

"I saw a uniformed policeman who I knew was a sergeant from the gold bars on his sleeve, run out and grab the man with the gun. Then, three men in plain clothes came up and flashed stars. The sergeant surrendered the man with the gun to them, and they took him to an automobile, which looked like a Buick coach, and drove off."

Can't Identify the Men.

This story brought gasps from the listeners. Judge David took up the questioning of McDonald. "Could you identify this man with the gun?" he asked. "No, sir."

"You're not afraid of any one, are you?" demanded the judge, sharply. "I'm not afraid of any one," returned McDonald.

"Were Lieut. Carroll and his men these officers who took the man with the gun away?"

"O. no, sir," said McDonald. "These were other men. The last I had seen of Lieut. Carroll was when he and

LIQUOR LAW SAPPING CONSTITUTION, JUDGE TELLS LAW STUDENTS

Attacking the eighteenth amendment as an "infamous falsehood," Judge Joseph B. David last night charged the national prohibition act and subsequent decisions of the United States Supreme court with "emasculating, if not destroying," the fourth, fifth, sixth, ninth, tenth and fourteenth amendments to the constitution. He said this before a meeting of the Wig and Robe club, University of Chicago law fraternity, at the Palmer house.

"From lips saturated with fanaticism," Judge David said, "come charges that the opponents of the eighteenth amendment are nullificationists. But the eighteenth amendment is in itself the greatest of all nullificationists. It has reduced the bill of rights to a piece of waste paper. It has destroyed the citizen's protection against unwarranted search and seizure, his right to trial by jury, his freedom to live as a human being."

Judge David further charged that the Volstead act operates with "chicanery, hypocrisy, buncombe, and in fact, a small but the eighteenth amendment make to high heaven in the nostrils of decent citizens."

His men started toward their car parked up the street.

McDonald's story was not the only evidence which contradicted previous testimony. Other state witnesses had differed in giving details of the shooting. The day's testimony started with George McDonald, colored, no relation of the other McDonald, on the stand.

This witness was rebuked by the judge, following his testimony, for apparent concealment of the fact that he was well acquainted with Lieut. Carroll's appearance. Asked to point out the police lieutenant, McDonald professed to hesitate greatly and walked, throughout the courtroom, scanning many faces before he picked out Carroll, whose head and shoulders loomed above the other defendants.

Judge David at this time sent the jury from the room for the second time since the trial started and warned Assistant State's Attorney Frank J. Loesch, Charles Lounsbury, and William Haynes that he would be forced to take the case from the jury if more pertinent evidence was not offered.

Loesch Makes Reply.

Mr. Loesch was moved to reply briskly: "Will your honor wait till we get through? That's all we ask of you."

McDonald told of seeing a man in the middle of the street shooting at the Granady car. The gunman then got into a car and both automobiles disappeared. One minute later, a detective bureau squad car with the curtain up in the rear came flashing by, he said.

"Can you recognize anyone in this courtroom who was in that squad car?" he was asked.

"Well, I'd have to look around," said McDonald. "There was a big, heavy set man in the front seat."

He arose from his seat and picked his way through the courtroom. He stopped in front of Carroll and eyed him, then walked on. Returning, he again stared at Carroll but returned to the witness stand without speaking.

"The man had a cap on," he explained to the judge. "I'd like to have that big man put on a cap."

Crowd Gets a Laugh.

Carroll first tried on a cap that was too small for him and the courtroom wits laughed while Judge David pounded the bench and shouted that the courtroom would be cleared. Finally, Carroll found a cap that fit and McDonald said:

"I feel that that is the man. The cap brings me back to me."

On cross-examination, Attorney Milton and W. W. Smith for the defense brought out that McDonald had examined Carroll in a show-up at the state's office and also had known Carroll as long ago as the primary day on which the shooting took place.

"If you knew Carroll already, why this parading in court?" demanded the judge of the witness. "Why all this foolery about a cap? Why didn't you tell us you knew him?"

Witness Was Afraid.

McDonald—Well, you see, Judge, I was afraid.

JUDGE DAVID—Afraid of what?

McDonald—I was just afraid. [More laughter and more orders from the court to clear the courtroom.]

JUDGE DAVID—I'm here to protect witnesses. Now tell us what you were afraid of.

McDonald—I thought, when I left the courthouse, those policemen might shoot me or something.

Judge David then dismissed the jury and called the attorneys before him. Addressing the state's counsel, he said:

"Gentlemen, you realize that all evidence, honest as it may be, with reference to identification, such as this evidence, is of such a character that no court would have the slightest idea of allowing such evidence to sustain a verdict. I want an assurance that the future evidence will be more pertinent."

Judge Tells His Stand.

"I'm not here to whitewash anybody. But you ought to know when you are introducing contradictory evidence you are in no position to go to a jury."

"It is my conception of the state's duty that evidence should be presented as it comes," replied Mr. Loesch.

"All right, go on," said the judge.

"But let me tell you frankly that my viewpoint, and it may be wrong, is that the state's attorney is not interested in getting a conviction, but in seeing that a fair trial is given. You have no right to spend the time of the court and the time of the jury at the expense of the taxpayers in presenting an inconclusive case."

Following up the charges that telephone wires in his chambers have been tapped, the judge summoned a telephone company repairman to the Criminal Court building to examine the wires. The repairman made an examination and reported that it would be impossible to tap the wires.

Heard It Could Be Done.

"I've been told that it can be done and done easily," the judge remarked. "But I must accept your verdict. I will say again that such espionage is a disgrace to civilization and in the words of Supreme Court Justice Holmes 'dirty business'."

Another witness yesterday was John Marcus, 117 West 21st street, who told of hearing shots fired and seeing Granady's car flee. A minute elapsed before Lieut. Carroll's squad car appeared in the chase, he said. In cross-examination attorneys sought to prove that Marcus was unfriendly to Carroll because the lieutenant frequently questioned him and his friends when they loitered about 14th place and Halsted street.

The final two witnesses were Louis Rosfield, 18 years old, 1227 Roosevelt road, and Betty Morgan, 19 years old, colored, 331 East Garfield boulevard. The boy said the squad car followed the Granady car at an interval of one minute and the girl said two minutes intervened before the police car appeared.

The trial will be resumed this morning.

Even with odds against them, they made their Dream Home come True

The inspiration of their experience, as told by Emily Newell Blair in the December issue, affords a good example of the practical help on home problems that has made BETTER HOMES & GARDENS the largest non-fiction monthly magazine in America.

FORTUNATELY for Jared and Marian, they realized that having the home they wanted was not so much a matter of money as of taste—taste in distinguishing the essential from the nonessential, in choosing permanent beauty rather than passing fancy.

Even though it seemed that the unsettled nature of Jared's business would deny them a real home for years, they turned this apparent handicap into a definite advantage. From their experience, other families who must face similar situations may gain help and inspiration. And all of us will enjoy a pleasant acquaintance with this delightful couple, through Emily Newell Blair's feature article in the December issue of BETTER HOMES & GARDENS.

What to plant in your window box for zero weather.

Why not use your window boxes this winter? How glorious it is to have them fresh—green—growing—right through the coldest weather! Not only do they brighten the exterior of your home, but they also provide a pleasant frame to the winter view from your windows. What to plant?—another discovery in your December copy of BETTER HOMES & GARDENS.

What's the right answer to—"Is there really a Santa Claus?"

When Junior climbs into your lap with this question on his lips and in his eyes, there are many answers you can give. Most of them are wrong, from the standpoint of their effect on him. Gladys Denny Shultz, authority on child development, throws new light on this important point, in an article on helping children to have a happy Christmas.

And do you know that you can keep the needles from dropping off the Christmas tree? How to do it is just one of the many helpful hints in "Unusual Christmas Trees" by Dick Cole, in the December BETTER HOMES & GARDENS.

Do you know the secret of room X?

"Room X costs the least of any room in the house, yet often is the most valuable," says Leland A. McBroom, creator of original houses, in presenting a new thought on building for the present with an eye on the future. Which room is Room X? What makes it most valuable? Vital reasons why you'll enjoy Mr. McBroom's "House That Meets Growing Needs," in BETTER HOMES & GARDENS for December.

Then, too, you'll want to read Remaking the Old Interior—Hints on Successful Roasting—Home Gifts That Are Different—Things for Youngsters to Make—New Aids to Housekeeping—How Christmas Plants Grow—Making Unusual Christmas Goodies.

These brief glimpses are only a fore-taste of the good things which the December issue of BETTER HOMES & GARDENS holds in store for you. It is packed with articles you'll enjoy—with ideas you'll be glad to use. When you read it, you'll understand why, in the short space of seven years, BETTER HOMES & GARDENS has won more readers than any other non-fiction monthly magazine in America.

The December number is on sale today. Ten cents, or many times that amount, could hardly buy a bigger investment in real living. Make a mental note to get it at the nearest news-stand.

And look what you get for your money!

You get a Frigidaire equipped with the famous

Frigidaire "Cold Control". You get an extra-powerful compressor. You get elevated shelves that make stooping unnecessary. You get beauty of finish, line and color. You get a refrigerator with the mechanism completely concealed within the cabinet—away from dust and dirt. You get value that only Frigidaire can give.

Visit our display room and see the new Frigidaires.

Notice the amount of food-storage space—the seamless Porcelain-on-steel lining—the rounded corners. Note the quiet operation. You don't hear the mechanism start, stop, or rum. Examine the self-sealing freezing trays. See the many features that save time, work and trouble.

And while you're here, let us give you a complete demonstration of the "Cold Control". Let us give you prices. Let us tell you about the liberal monthly payment plan. Come in today.

DENISON LIQUOR TRUNK RECEIPT SHOWN TO JURY

Delay in Filing Charges Causes Speculation.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—New details of the evidence, on which the district grand jury based its indictment of Representative E. E. Denison [Rep., Ill.] for illegal possession of liquor, made public today, increased widespread speculation as to how and why the charges against the supposedly dry congressman were suppressed for eleven months after a leaking suitcase in the Union station here led prohibition agents to a trunkful of liquor in his capital office.

Today it was disclosed that Denison's receipt for the trunk, containing 15 bottles of Scotch whisky and 6 bottles of gin, addressed to John H. Layne, a former secretary, in his care, was laid before the grand jury. Denison, in a statement yesterday, denied ownership of the trunk or suitcase and declared that both he and his nephew, Charles Lane, who accompanied him on a trip to Panama last winter, received the wrong baggage as the result of an express company error.

Council Retained.

During the day E. Hilton Jackson, prominent local lawyer, appeared at District Attorney Leo Royer's office to inform the latter he has been retained to defend the congressman and to secure a copy of the indictment. Layne, the former secretary to Denson, now an employee in the internal revenue bureau, has flatly denied any connection with the liquor and Mr. Royer announced that an investigation is under way to determine if Denison's nephew should have been indicted instead of Layne.

Meanwhile Prohibition Commissioner James E. Dornan declined to comment on reports that responsibility for the belated presentation of the evidence to the grand jury belonged to the prohibition bureau. W. I. Blandford, deputy dry administrator, pointed out that the seizure occurred in January before he assumed charge of enforcement in the capital.

At the district attorney office it was authoritatively asserted that the charge against Denison was never heard of there until the evidence was brought to Mr. Royer from the prohibition bureau headquarters on Nov. 6.

Outbursts Believed Cause.

Elsewhere it is generally believed that nothing would have been heard of the case except for the outbursts of Senators R. B. Howell [Rep., Neb.] and S. W. Brookhart [Rep., Ia.] on local liquor law enforcement conditions and that their recent speeches tearing the hides off of both the prohibition enforcement bureau and the district attorney's office prompted the bureau to go through with the case.

Aid of Defeated Mayoralty Candidate Confesses Theft

Byron Dempsey, 30 years old, of Hammond, secretary to William A. Kirkheiser, defeated mayoralty candidate, confessed to Hammond police yesterday that he had embezzled $750 from the Consumers company at Hammond, of which Kirkheiser is the head. Dempsey is said to have told police that he used the money to pay off bills and gambling debts.

Round the World Flyers Damage Plane in Storm

Altoona, Pa., Nov. 20.—[AP.]—The trimotored monoplane in which William F. Brock and E. F. Schlee, around the world flyers, were en route to Detroit from New York was forced down by a storm and a low ceiling at Plattsville, about 40 miles north of here, yesterday afternoon. The plane was badly damaged, burying its nose in the ground as it landed on a soggy field. No one was hurt.

THERE IS WISDOM IN BUYING DIAMONDS

Events of late have somewhat changed the general conception of investment values. Securities and valuables of all kinds have been subjected to a pitiless analysis. Few have retained their stability in the bitter test. The Diamond, however, emerges unscathed. The intrinsic worth of this everlastingly beautiful jewel is just as great today as it ever has been.

KEGEL DEFENDS CUNEO TOWER IN COURT BATTLE

Wouldn't Affect Health,
He Declares.

Commissioner of Health Arnold H. Kegel yesterday testified in defense of the proposed sixty story John F. Cuneo tower at Michigan avenue and Randolph street before Justice Taylor of the Circuit court in the hearing of certiorari proceedings brought by those neighboring property owners attacking the validity of the amendment to the zoning laws under which Cuneo won the right to build.

The tower would have an infinitesimal effect on public health, Commissioner Kegel declared. He said that the difference between the proposed tower and a building built to conform with laws prior to the amendment would be so slight as to be beyond consideration. Dr. Kegel added that the tower might have a beneficial influence on its occupants in that many office workers could be above the street noises, which bring nervous ailments, than in a lower building.

Admits Theoretical Case.
Under cross-examination by Attorney Joseph E. Fleming, representing property owners, Dr. Kegel said that theoretically the proposed tower would throw off smoke, blot out more light, and decrease air more than a smaller structure. He also said that these annoyances would be greatly increased if a wall of buildings soaring 440 feet without setbacks be constructed around the loop under interpretations of the amendment.

Another defense witness was E. J. McRath, engineer for the Chicago Surface Lines, who testified that the tower would only slightly increase traffic and pedestrian congestion at Michigan avenue and Randolph street.

Close Defense Today.
All of the witnesses for Mr. Cuneo have admitted that the testimony offered by the property owners is correct, but dispute the degree of the claims. Attorney David Levinson, representing Mr. Cuneo, announced that he will complete his case today. Attorney Fleming will introduce rebuttal witnesses this afternoon. Final arguments are expected to begin early next week.

BANKER BRINGS LOBBY QUIZZERS CLOSE TO SPLIT

Sugar Statement Request Enlivens Hearing.

[Chicago Tribune From Service.]
Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—Gordon Shon Rentschler, president of the National City Bank of New York, today unwittingly brought the senate's lobby investigating committee dangerously near an open split on the question of its impartiality. The rumored friction in the committee was not aired but before the banker, a leading low sugar tariff advocate, left the stand he was given an unexpected dose of the bitter medicine handed out to every high protectionist who has thus far appeared before the committee.

The clash between Senator Arthur Robinson (Rep., Ind.), the one regular Republican on the committee, and Senators T. H. Caraway of Arkansas and T. J. Walsh of Montana, both low tariff Democrats, was averted only when the two latter reluctantly agreed that Rentschler should submit the financial statement of General Sugars, Inc., demanded by the Indiana senator.

Subsidiary Organized.

General Sugars, Inc., is the National City subsidiary organized to salvage something out of the wreck of the Cuban sugar industry in the 1920s, a nation which carried with it between $35,000,000 and $40,000,000 loaned by the bank to island planters and refiners.

Rentschler declared rumors that General Sugars, Inc., had proved as profitable that the bank's holdings are now valued at over $100,000,000 are "greatly exaggerated," but he demurred at offering the corporation's last statement and after questioning the pertinency of the demand to a lobby investigation, said he would seek legal counsel on the point.

"I wish you would let me advise about that," he asked when Senator Robinson insisted on a definite pledge. "There is no advising about it," responded Robinson sharply. "We are asking you when you can have it here. It is not for you to decide whether it is pertinent or germane. That is for the committee to decide. Not only that, but we may want some of your correspondence, too. This is letting you down easy."

Walsh Patient This Time.

"Well, if he wishes to take advice of counsel," suggested Senator Walsh, noted for his impatience in this and other senatorial investigations with witnesses who quibbled over their right to decline to testify or produce documents.

Walsh's suggestion and I would like to get advice of counsel." "Why," said Robinson, turning to Walsh who sat at his right, "there is no question that Senator Walsh's position is any different from any other member of the committee, is there?"

Cannot Hear Walsh.

Walsh mumbled something that even the stenographer could not catch and Senator Caraway, who within the last week pounded at J. A. Arnold, a protectionist lobbyist, until the latter surrendered even his personal income tax returns for several years, offered the suggestion that the statement probably appears in the annual statement of the bank.

"No, it doesn't," said Rentschler. "The capital stock is all held by the National City company, as trustee for the stockholders of the National City bank, and the statement is only rendered to the National City company."

"Of course, if you want to talk to other people associated with you," said Caraway when that solution failed.

Wants to See Attorney.

"I would like to talk to our counsel about it," reiterated Rentschler. "I am sure your counsel will advise you to do it," continued Senator Caraway, adding, "There is nothing you want to conceal, is there?"

"O, not a thing," protested Mr. Rentschler. "If there is such an impression in your mind you would be perfectly welcome to it."

"Well, I hope you will furnish it to the committee," said Senator Caraway. "I am frank to say that I have been very much impressed with your frankness, except that you leave me in doubt."

"What I want to know," interrupted Senator Robinson, "is if the statement will be forthcoming and when."

"After I consult with counsel, if you please," said Mr. Rentschler.

Views Akin to Own.

Senators Caraway and Walsh plainly indicated by their unusually cordial manner that they had no intention of embarrassing one whose view on tariff matters was so akin to their own.

Senator Robinson, however, had no such scruples against delving into the banker's participation and interest in the sugar rate squabble which has raged on Capitol hill since last January.

32 MORE POISONED BY SODIUM CYANIDE AS SILVER POLISH

Health Commissioner Kegel received reports yesterday on 32 additional poisoning cases due to the use of sodium cyanide as a silver polish. The latest cases were diners at the Medinah Athletic club during the past two weeks. Many guests at leading hotels and clubs have been poisoned recently.

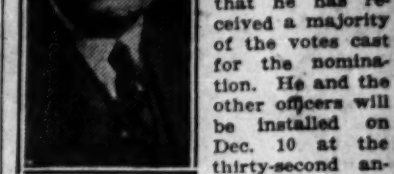

"Several leading hotels and clubs and restaurants have been using a silver polish prepared by a chemical company," Dr. Kegel stated. "The polish consists of egg-shaped pieces of sodium cyanide, two or three of which were dropped in a vat of water in which silverware was dipped and then rinsed. In the rinsing, however, little crystals remained on the silverware and the poisoning came from them."

"None of the cases are dangerous. Some of the persons have been ill a week or ten days but none are in danger. I have forbidden the further use of this poison in kitchens."

OUT OF the welter of super-ornate radios on the market today, comes one of charming simplicity—the Majestic 92, now featured by Spalding.

Here assuredly is a cabinet that is clean of line and in perfect harmony with those homes that follow the modern trend toward tasteful simplicity. And into those homes the Majestic 92 will fit as though it were an integral part of the original plan of decoration.

Tune in the Majestic 92 on your favorite station. Catch the program at but a whisper—it will come to you clear, realistic, living. Turn the control. Steadily let the volume mount far beyond the requirements of the average room—and even then you will find that there is not the faintest distortion of that crystal-clear, life-like tone.

Test the Majestic 92 for range, for selectivity, test it in any way you wish and you will understand why this set has passed Spalding's rigid requirements so successfully. And by buying Majestic 92 at Spalding's, you get the benefit of Spalding's new idea in radio—the idea of taking all the risk and the trouble out of radio buying and owning.

At the Spalding Shop you will talk to experts who will tell you frankly just how the Majestic 92 is suited to radio conditions in the vicinity where you live. Other experts will make the installation for you—and if at any time something should go wrong with the set they will be on hand promptly to fix it. It's part of Spalding's idea of increasing the pleasure and removing the bother of radio owning.

CARSON PIRIE
SCOTT & COSENATE VOTES TO END SPECIAL SESSION FRIDAY"Young Turks" Beaten; Tariff's Status Same.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—The die adjournment of the special session of congress will take place on Friday. The senate today, despite the continued opposition of the "Young Turks" or "Hoover Regulars," approved, 49 to 33, a concurrent resolution for its own adjournment at 10 p. m. on Friday and for that of the house at such hour as suits the convenience of the lower branch of congress. The resolution will receive the perfunctory approval of the house tomorrow.

Adjournment on Friday will allow an intermission of ten days before the regular session convenes on Monday, Dec. 2.

The adjournment of the special session will not affect the status of the tariff bill which retains its place on the senate calendar as the unfinished business. While the Vane case is scheduled to come up for disposition during the opening week of the regular session, it is the hope of the senate leaders that the tariff bill can be passed before the Christmas holidays.

Old Guard Disgusted.
Under this program it is not likely to be enacted into law until the latter part of the winter as several weeks will be required for an adjustment of differences in the senate bill and the bill as passed by the house last May.
Today's action by the senate was engineered chiefly by the Democrats and made possible by the assistance of the Old Guard Republicans who are disgusted with the tariff bill as it now stands and a few of the radical Republicans. The adjournment resolution was offered by Senator Thomas J.
Walsh [Dem., Mont.], acting minority leader.

When the Simmons adjournment resolution met defeat last week it failed to receive the support of all the Democrats and the radicals lined up solidly against it. Today the radicals who swung into line for it took the position that considerable progress had been made on the tariff bill since the other resolution was acted upon and that it was evident the measure could not be passed before the beginning of the regular session. Voting for the Walsh resolution were 35 Democrats and 14 Republicans. Against it were 32 Republicans and one Democrat.
Seven of the Republicans opposing adjournment were radicals, while the

WORLD COURT CALLED G. O. P. "ARTICLE OF FAITH" BY FLETCHER

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 20.—[AP.]—
Henry P. Fletcher, who recently resigned as ambassador to Italy after a long career in the diplomatic service, told the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women tonight that a permanent world court was distinctly an American idea. In advocating entering the world tribunal he said: "We should no longer hesitate to take this step toward world peace."

The world court, he said, should not become a home of party contention.
It had received "fine and loyal support from distinguished members of both parties."

"But as a Republican," he added,
"I would remind you that it is an article of our faith, fathered by Ellihu
Root, sponsored by Charles Evans
Hughes, advocated by Presidents Harding, Coolidge and Hoover."

While personally still "unalterably opposed to the United States joining the league of nations," Mr. Fletcher said he "would assure those timorous souls in and out of the United States senate that the United States has nothing to fear from cooperating with any agency of the league" in advancing some world object.

"We are doing it," he added, "in connection with the suppression of the opium traffic, in connection with disarmament, and we are none the worse for it."

other 25 represented the strength of the "Young Turks."

"Young Guard's" Aim Explained.
Senator A. H. Vandenberg [Rep.,
Mich.], who has been one of the leaders in the "Young Turk" movement, expressed his regret over the action in a speech immediately following the vote. He explained just what his group has been trying to do.

"I regret that the senate has voted to adjourn," said Senator Vandenberg.
"The progress made since last Thursday night, when the other adjournment resolution was defeated, is complete vindication for those who insisted that the senate should carry on."
Prior to Thursday night the senate had completed but four rate schedules. Since Thursday night the senate has completed five schedules as the result of the new impetus. If the other adjournment motion had carried it is common knowledge that quorums rapidly would have disintegrated and little or no subsequent progress made.
Instead, we have gone through more than fifty pages of rates in four days and nights, where previously we used

KING WELCOMES
NEW U. S. ENVOY
GARRETT TO ITALY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
ROME, Nov. 20.—John W. Garrett, new American ambassador to the Quirinal, formally presented his credentials to King Victor Emmanuel today. The ceremony passed in accordance with the usual protocol. The king sent three gala coaches to the American embassy to convey the ambassador and members of his diplomatic staff to the Quirinal palace.
Mr. Garrett's coach was drawn by four horses while the other two coaches were drawn by two horses.

Ambassador Garrett was met by the aged Duke D'Olina, the perfect of the royal palace and the king's aide de camp, who presented him to King Victor. The two conversed for half an hour and then other members of the embassy were introduced.

SENATE REJECTS
HOOVER'S CHOICE
AS POSTMASTER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Democrats and Republican radicals in the senate today rejected a postmaster nomination submitted by President Hoover.

The senate had before it, among other nominations, that of Albert C.
Gruwell to succeed J. C. Faller as postmaster at Dillon, Mont. Senator Thomas Walsh [Dem., Mont.] objected on the ground that Gruwell was picked by the Montana Republican national committeeman and received a lower civil service examination grade than Faller, who, he added, is an ex-service man.

Seizing the opportunity for partisan criticism, Senators Hugo L. Black [Dem., Ala.] and Claude A. Swanson [Dem., Va.], and others held up the nomination as an example of political favoritism, a flaunting of civil service, and a betrayal of an ex-soldier.

In a standing vote, with most of the regular Republicans out of their seats, the nomination was rejected and sent back to the President.

PARIS AND BERLIN OPEN PARLEY TO FREE SAAR BASIN

Seek Treaty to Eliminate Plebiscite in 1935.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Free Service.)
PARIS, Nov. 20.—Tomorrow morning, at a long green table at the French foreign office, French and German experts will fall to work in an attempt to evolve a plan for disposing of the problem of the Saar basin. This is part of the general liquidation of the problems left over from the aftermath of the great war, and is an attempt to ease the situation without waiting for the Versailles treaty to take its natural course.

Over the protests of America, the rich Saar basin was taken from Germany after the war and confided to the care of the league of nations. It was arranged that in 1935 there was to be a plebiscite held in the region, when the natives would be given an opportunity to say whether they favored French or German rule. The mines of the Saar basin were handed over to France for all time, except that the Germans were entitled to buy them back after 1935.

Many Months of Work.

Many months of arduous work are ahead of the two commissions before a deal is reached by which France will abandon its rights and the territory go back to German rule, along with the mines—for a fat cash settlement.

But the question of control of the Saar basin is far more complicated than that, and it was predicted here last month. However, reliable sources report that Dr. Leopold von Hoesli, German ambassador to France, informed French Foreign Minister Briand yesterday that Germany expects some satisfactory accord in principle to be reached before the league conference meets next January, and that if such an accord is not reached Germany probably would hold up its signature to the Young reparations plan.

At the same time powerful French industrial interests, particularly the coal barons of the north, are bringing their influence to bear on the negotiations to hurry the parley and blot from the map of France this rich Saar area which is competing with them.

Nationalists Fight Plebiscite.

The French Nationalists who are in a position to knock the props from beneath the Tardieu government, are also raising a cry for abandonment of the plebiscite. It is conceded in France that Germany would win the 1935 plebiscite hands down. The inhabitants of the Saar region are mostly German. M. Briand wants to use this as his trump card, to lay the cornerstone for his long cherished project for an economic United States of Europe. Under his plan the Saar would be returned to German sovereignty, but would become a free zone as far as customs are concerned, while the mines would be administered jointly for French and German interests along the lines of the metallurgical cartel in existence.

Meanwhile, the French Nationalists are standing ready to overthrow Premier Tardieu if his government makes any move to infringe the provisions of the Versailles treaty.

HARDT HELD ON FRAUD CHARGES; BOND IS $60,000

William Hardt, real estate broker, waived examination when arraigned yesterday before Judge Francis Borrell in the felony court on charges of fraud. He was held to the grand jury on bond of $60,000 after Assistant State's Attorney Richard V. Jackson had asked for high bail.

Hardt, who was taken to the Bridgeview hospital from a sick bed at his home, 1463 Montrose avenue, several days ago on charges of embezzlement, had apparently recovered somewhat from his illness and was able to walk with court.

There were five charges of confidence game and one of larceny by baubles against him. Mrs. Margaret Vackery, 2508 Greenview avenue, one of the complaining witnesses, told the judge she had given Hardt $1,500 to buy mortgage bonds, but that they had never been delivered. Hardt's shortages are expected to reach $150,000, according to the prosecutors.

CHICAGO'S FINANCIAL CRISIS.
Thanks to the joint commission on real estate valuation, discussion of the state of Chicago's municipal finances need no longer be couched in general terms. The commission has provided the facts and figures. It has inquired into the state of the city's corporate fund; the county's corporate fund and the educational fund of the school board and all of them are found to be in a deplorable condition. It is probably fair to conclude that many of the other local governments are little, if any, better off. As for the three funds which were given special study, they were found to have a floating debt equal to about a year's revenue. The reassessment with its delays in tax collection has accentuated but it has not caused the crisis which now confronts the community.

The existence of the floating debt adds millions of dollars to the city's expenses for interest. It prevents prompt payment for services and supplies. Therefore, even honest contractors who deal with the local governments must charge higher prices or give inferior goods to the public than to private customers. The fact that this year's expenses are related not to this year's income but to next years to encourage appropriations beyond income and therefore to add to the growing unfunded debt. The moment when no one can be found to make temporary loans is approaching, and when that time comes the public services must be curtailed.

All of these evils and others are clearly demonstrated in the report. With the diagnosis there can be little quarrel. The remedies proposed by the commission are more properly subjects of debate. The commission recommends that the floating debt be taken up in the form of a bond issue and at the same time that sound fiscal practices be required by law. The local governments are to be required to appropriate within the estimates of income made by responsible financial officers and expenses are to be limited strictly in any year to the revenues actually received that year. Borrowing in a given year against taxes to be received in a subsequent year is to be forbidden.

If we had a different type of public official in office, this program might, perhaps, be accepted without important change. Chicagoans might unite in an appeal to the governor to call a special session of the legislature to enable Chicago's credit to be restored. Unfortunately for the community the character of the present occupants of office cannot be passed over. They are largely if not solely responsible for the present deplorable state of affairs and they are only waiting for an opportunity, any opportunity, to escape the consequences of their profligacy.

The hope of improvement with the Thompson crowd in office is vain. If any evidence in support were required, it is provided in the department estimates just submitted to the city council by his cabinet appointees. With a few exceptions they are asking increased appropriations and it cannot be doubted that the Thompson appointees are acting with the blessing of the man who appointed them and could remove them. Much the same condition is found on the Thompson-controlled school board. No one has yet discovered a burglar-proof safe and we have little confidence in the ability of the legislature to write an evasion-proof law governing fiscal practices. The record of the present city administration leaves no doubt that once the floating debt has been taken off its back the gang will set to work with a will to find new ways of raiding the treasury.

There should be no special session of the legislature and no attempt to relieve the present administrators of their responsibility for the approaching crisis as long as the Thompson forces are in office. When the community has been purged of this influence we may begin to remedy the evils which he did much to create and foster. The sooner Big Bill and his coadjutors in misgovernment are forced out of office the better. Those who wish to restore the city's credit can make no better beginning than by bringing about his removal as soon as possible. His regime is the first and chief obstruction to getting the municipality out of its deplorable predicament.

BUREAUCRATIC BOSSES.
According to report from Russia through Riga Soviet officials do not favor any tendency toward unionism among their workers and remove individuals showing capacity for leadership on this line to jobs where their talents can be suppressed and the potential leader induced to direct them to the interests of socialism. The policy is natural, if not inevitable, and emphasizes the fact that the dictatorship of the proletariat is a dictatorship over the proletariat.

laborship to the proletariat. Like all forms of socialism, communism in practice is rule by bureaucrats and politicians over workers, and it is a rule more tyrannical and unproductive than anything capitalist society and individualism has developed, though dressed up in an idealistic formula. A comprehension of this fact in American labor leadership and the intelligent rank and file gives communist agitation hard sledding in this country.

AMERICA'S SLUMP IN THE AIR.
During the period following Lindbergh's flight to Paris the United States legitimately claimed supremacy in the air. Col. Lindbergh demonstrated that we had better airplane motors than any other nation, the resource by which aviation prestige could be measured. But the distinction which we enjoyed for nearly two years has been taken from us by the inventive and engineering genius of England and Germany.

Aviation is in a period of dynamic development. Achievements in the industry today may be superannuated tomorrow, but America did not sufficiently appreciate the transitory value of Lindbergh's accomplishment. There was a disposition to believe that we had written the last word in the air. That false conviction of permanent superiority on our part has largely eliminated us from the competition of nations for superiority in aviation. The ambition of England and Germany especially has brought rewards to those nations to our relative disadvantage.

England holds the airplane speed record of the world. This distinction was won without competition from the United States, for the former secretary of the navy, underestimating the importance of the speed factor in aviation, refused to permit American planes to enter the contest. Furthermore, England has recently completed the construction of two of the largest airships in the world, the R-100 and the R-101. These ships, together with the German Zeppelins, surpass the progress in blimp construction in this country.

Dornier and Junkers in Germany have contributed to the air resources of Germany with airplanes of remarkable passenger capacity and of important novelty of design. Dornier's plane, the DO-X, carried 169 passengers on its initial flight. It is propelled by twelve motors. Rivaling Dornier is Junkers' monoplane, with passenger quarters in the huge hollow wings. German builders are preoccupied with the problem of perfecting fuel oil motors for airplanes.

If our supremacy in the air was not perpetual, neither does our inferiority need to be permanent. An appraisal of German and English accomplishment should bring to our engineers not merely an understanding of American deficiency in the industry but a determination to restore and to maintain in America leadership in the progress of aviation.

RENASCENT GERMANY.
News from Germany continues to be of first rank importance and significance. We hear now of a new cruiser employing both steam and Diesel engines and of a highly effective type. Recently the Ersatz cruiser surprised expert opinion. The triumph of the Bremen is fresh in our minds. The epoch making encirclement of the globe by the Graf Zeppelin and the more recent successful trip of the great passenger airplane have just won the envy and admiration of the world. German chemistry and steel making are in the front rank of applied science. Modern German architecture is one of the most vigorous and original contemporary expressions of that great art. German shipping, German trade, German industry are rapidly recovering from the prostration of war and post-war experience.

The recovery is one of the most remarkable in history and probably the most significant fact in Europe of today. The German people have passed successfully through repeated ordeals. Huge wastage of life and material wealth, the wiping out of their great merchant marine, the destruction of the mark and the ruin of millions of the most substantial citizens, the almost overwhelming exactions of the peace treaties, revolt and the threat of social and economic chaos, the worst problem of political reconstruction have all been met with fortitude and their consequences are being steadily overcome.

We think this swift recovery and forward sweep is largely due to the escape of Germany from the burden and obstruction of an aristocratic system inherited from a past age. Today the best in the genius of the German people is released and spreads its strong wings to the winds of destiny. German science and pure thought, German art, German industry and commerce are renaissance and claim the admiration of the civilized world. The young republic, well founded upon the virtue of a vigorous, thoughtful and valorous race, rattles no ancestral saber to alarm the world but challenges it to the fruitful rivalries of peace.

Editorial of the Day
A QUESTION OF "LOYALTY."
(Detroit Free Press.)
According to a story coming out of New York, Lieut. Carl B. Allen of the air reserve may be cashiered because he has told truths about certain conditions in the service which the powers that be in the army do not like to see in print. They insist that the lieutenant was "disloyal" because what he asserted tends to "arouse discontent among reserve aviators."

ACIDS IN THE AIR.
MEN and women who work in industries where strong acids are used often complain of fumes. In some cases the complaints come from neighbors. They say the air in the neighborhood of a fume factory made irritating and offensive, if not poisonous, by the fumes which pour out of the ventilating hoods.

In many places where these acids are used the fumes are open and the fumes discharge into the air. In addition to the gases which volatilize, some chemicals are carried into the air by steam due to the heating of water and by bubbles of hydrogen gas. All such acids should be covered by hoods, from which the fumes are sucked by fans through ducts. In this case the "pickling" vats were used. They were connected with ducts leading to the outside air. The workmen in the plant did not complain, but the people in the neighborhood did.

The question was, How could the acid be removed from the exhaust air before it was discharged into the air? This is sometimes done by electricity, but that process is too expensive for small plants. Another method consists in passing the exhaust air through alkalis and in that way converting the waste acid into salts, which are sold. In this case the amount of acid lost did not justify the expense of saving it.

The health department made analyses for acid of the air at different levels in the city. It found that the top of the stack. They found that 17 cubic feet of muriatic acid fumes, 316 feet of sulphuric acid fumes were being discharged in each twenty-four hour period. The air near the top of the stack carried from 1 to 10 grains per million of acid or the other.

It is easily seen how irritating, offensive and possibly harmful this might be under certain wind conditions. The fumes of muriatic acid are not great. Up-ward of 100,000 cubic feet of air, both outside and inside the factory, was neither harmful nor offensive.

CURE FOR THE SCALD.
Mrs. R. C. writes: I should like to tell you of my cure for the scald. For years I had this trouble more or less in hot weather, and this year, at the beginning of summer, I applied mercuric ointment twice a week for two weeks and some more and have had no trouble.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE
Letters to this department must be signed with name and address of writers. HIGH SCHOOL SMOKE.
Chicago, Nov. 15.—(Friend of the People.)—I hereby challenge the authorities of Austin High school to show good cause why we must put up with smoking, gambling and degrading the value of our property by a congregation of students who daily gather in front of our residence during their lunch hour. I have questioned several of the offenders and have been told that it was because the school authorities enforcing a "no-smoking-within-a-block" rule. I think that this is unfair to the students who are subjected to a prejudiced "court," and it shows very little concern for the property owners who are taxed so the school may be maintained.

If gambling is going on the writer of the letter should notify the police and ask them to stop this violation of city ordinance. The complaint of a congregation of students is unreasonable. The rules of the board of education prohibit smoking in school buildings and the police are enforcing the rule. The parents of the students who are doing their best for the children of the neighborhood are the parents of the school. So am I.

AWAITING INHERITANCE.
Chicago, Nov. 15.—(Friend of the People.)—My father died in Los Angeles in December, 1933, leaving no will. Estate, bungalow, bank account, no debts. A cousin in Los Angeles is administrator. Heirs are my mother, sister and a brother, all residing in Michigan. I have done nothing toward protecting or securing my legal share of the estate. What is necessary for me to do?

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO
How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. R. H. A.
AND CHIVALRY LIVETH YET.
So often in this promiscuous age, the age of machinery, of radios, of airplanes, of automobiles, of moving pictures that talk, of automatons that work of a standardization that threatens to invade all human living—do we lament that chivalry, that lovely flower of the Middle Ages, has passed away forever. Even the little fragments that remained over for the early Twentieth Century seem to have vanished. Lovely woman, earning a man's salary or more, can jolly well stand in the street cars; her dainty feet that once trod a Raleigh's silk stocking can now trip through puddles of mud in her own serviceable gaiters; often she pays her own dinner check; and far more often than she stands chatting gaily with men whose heads are firmly crowned with gray and brown fedoras. Yes, the last traces of chivalry seem to have vanished with swains, smelling salts, and suffragettes. But has it? Is it only that chivalry does not make the front page any more; that it is not so sensational as the sound of the battle between wets and dries, or the march of the new army that has arisen against the laws of society and is ever advancing, now holding up a banner, now bombing a clearing establishment or a politician, now crashing fashionable dinner parties and leaving with quarts of diamonds and pearls?

Is chivalry really dead? Gather about us, children, and we will tell you a tale. It all happened in Chicago, and of all places, who would expect to find chivalry in Chicago? Fancy a brave knight in gleaming armor riding his black and prancing steed down the Boulevard. The banditti would knock him off his steed and steal his back teeth before he had gone two blocks, you say. Nevertheless, we sing of chivalry in Chicago.

It was only a few nights ago at early candlelight (and that might be somewhere around 7 o'clock in the evening, my children) that a young woman walked blithely down the street in that halcyon region of the great city known as the Gold Coast because of the immense wealth of those who reside therein. The young woman of whom our tale tells was a chambermaid, employed in one of the stately mansions of the town, but no unhappy, wretched Cinderella was she. A new winter coat protected her from the raw November winds. Under it she wore a new dress and happily she tripped along to post a letter in the mail box on the corner. Thoughts of a moving picture later, with her best young man sitting beside her, flitted through her head, and there was no shadow anywhere across her pleasant, contented lot. Then as she passed an alley (even the Gold Coast has alleys, children, regrettable as it may seem) two men suddenly stepped out and, with pistols pointed at her head, commanded her to walk with them down that dark and forbidding place.

"If you put a yip, yer a gonner," said one of them menacingly.
Trembling with fear, the maid let herself be dragged into the alley, and one of the banditti roughly snatched her new coat off her shoulders. They demanded money, but she had none. She explained she was only walking down to the corner to post a letter, and, consequently, had carried no money.

"Well, gimme that dress you got on," growled the bandit. "My sister's been kickin' fer a new dress, an' mebbe that'll shut her mouth. Take it off!"
The maid burst into tears.
"But I can't take off my dress," she wailed.
"Why can't you?" demanded the bandit. "Are you paralyzed or somethin'?"
"But I can't," explained the maid through her tears. "I can't go home without a dress on."
"To hell with that noise," growled the robber; "take that dress off or I'll take it off for you."
The poor maid blushed with shame. Following the styles of our day, she was attired as the mode required.

"I—I—I," she wailed. "Oh, I—I—I haven't got on any petticoat!"
"We should worry!" said the second of the bandits. "Stop the gab and crawl outa them duds." There was nothing else to do. The trembling, blushing girl took off her dress and handed it over. The bandits grabbed it rather rudely and, warning their sobbing victim that if she moved or made the noise of a mouse for ten minutes they would return and chew her ears off, besides amputating her left leg with a safety razor, they went their way.

After what she judged to be ten minutes, although it seemed like ten years, the poor maid stumbled down the alley and was about to hurry back to Astor street to the great mansion where she lived. But she reeled back in horror. The street lamps seemed like great gleaming suns, illuminating every inch of that stately street. Limousines purred on their way to dinners, theaters, Civic Opera. The sidewalks, usually so quiet and deserted, seemed to her hysterical imagination jammed with mobs of people. And she had on no coat, no dress, NO PETTICOAT! What on earth COULD she do? Shrieking back into the cold darkness, she sobbed helplessly. Then suddenly a man turned into the dark entrance to the alley and stopped.

"What's the matter there?" he asked, kindly.
Sinking still further back into the deepest shadows she could find, the poor girl stammered out her story.
"That's awful!" said the kind gentleman.
"Here! Put my overcoat on and I'll walk home with you."
So the poor trembling girl put on the stranger's nice big warm overcoat and, supported by his strong arm, walked back to the safety of her own doorway.

"How can I ever thank you?" she stammered, gratefully. "Oh, those terrible fends! Oh, my new coat, my new dress! Oh, what could I ever have done without you! I am glad there are some gentlemen left in the world. Oh, those dreadful, horrible brutes! How can I ever thank—"
"Git 't hell outen my coat," said the gentleman, grabbing the garment by the collar and yanking it from the girl. "Y'poor boob, I'm one of 'em that held you up. But I felt kinda sorry for you an' I stayed behind to help you git home. An' now yer home, you can go 't hell!" With which the kind gentleman hurriedly disappeared into the night.

Is there now no chivalry in Chicago? Ah, children, doubt it not again.
A PRAYER.
God keep me child-like
And not too wise;
Let wonder, not wisdom
Each dawn fill my eyes,
That the world I must live in Keep fresh its delights
And I a small Alice Amongst its strange sights.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS
65 YEARS AGO TODAY
NOVEMBER 21, 1864.
WASHINGTON.—Dispatches from the Shenandoah valley confirm previous advices that the rebels are entirely withdrawn from Sheridan's front, with the design, as is supposed, of going into winter quarters somewhere in the vicinity of Hampton. It is possible, however, that Early may be sent out of the valley entirely by the Richmond authorities for the purpose of uniting his army with rebel forces in some other quarter.

NEW YORK.—It is rumored in Washington that Gen. McClellan has consented to be a commission of Democrats to visit Richmond and confer with the rebel government respecting peace on the basis of the Union. Best informed circles, however, are of the opinion that nothing can come of Gen. Butler's schemes, of which this is one.

WASHINGTON.—Secretary of War Stanton is again confined to his bed and his health is believed to be permanently impaired. Many rumors are afloat concerning his contemplated resignation and the appointment of his successor.

NEW YORK.—The mail boat from City Point brings information that on Nov. 17 heavy fighting occurred on Gen. Butler's front at Dutch Gap. The rebels were completely repulsed.

PHILADELPHIA.—The Richmond Sentinel generally looked upon as a Jeff Davis organ, says concerning Gen. Sherman's movements that his first point marked for capture was Macon, 80 miles from Atlanta, and that he then planned on marching against Savannah and Charleston. It continues: "Since Sherman's people at home have heard nothing from him, we trust they never will again. He has a long road before him and it will be our fault if it prove not a rough one."

30 YEARS AGO TODAY
NOVEMBER 21, 1899.
WINDSOR, England.—The emperor and empress of Germany arrived here on their visit to Queen Victoria. They were received by the prince of Wales, the duke of Cambridge, and the duke of York, all wearing German uniforms, and there was tremendous cheering.

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Mass meetings were held in twenty Kentucky counties at which anti-Göbel men offered to Gov. Bradley enough volunteers to put an army of 20,000 in the field within 24 hours to seat W. S. Taylor, Republican, as governor.

CHICAGO.—The city council made Austria the 35th ward.
MANILA.—Gen. MacArthur's reconnaissance entered Dagupan and found that no insurgents had been there for four days. It is now believed that the only Filipino army of any size is in the mountains of the province of Zamboanga, to the west of Manila, and the government of insurgent activity south of Manila, particularly in Cavite province.

A PLAN.
Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 19.—The Chicago plan commission is working out a comprehensive and well coordinated plan for handling the growing auto traffic of the city. But no group with financial backing has tackled the transportation situation in Chicago. Several projects are being worked out so as to insure future logical development.

1. An airport near the city center, the lack of which holds up the development of aviation.
2. A solution of the terminal situation on the south side.
3. An extensive, coordinated fast transportation system.
4. Several projects, such as the inland waterway terminal, the new postoffice, the World's Fair buildings, and the Illinois Central suburban terminal, are in various stages of planning, but they have not been planned as a part of a whole.

The surest way to start things moving to remedy local conditions and to make sure that the projects agree to a general plan is to use an investment and management company for the purpose. Stock ownership is the key to general railroad consolidation and must be considered in the solution of the terminal problem. Such a company could draw up all the plans, as regarding who finances the work, the planning must be done and included in the cost.

The electrification of the railroads would be provided for by the quicker purchase and use of air rights and the elimination of duplicating lines, at the same time being sure that the new terminals were adequate to serve the city. It would take a reasonably long time to effect the final terminal situation by stock control. But in the suburban area there would be several essential early developments, as:
1. Connection of the Illinois Central and the North Western under the river. [Also recommended in the suggested harbor plan.]
2. Service to the south and west sides over the 16th street cut-off of the Illinois Central, connecting with the Burlington.
3. Service through the Union station with the Milwaukee north and west.
4. Extension of the Rock Island through a subway north in La Salle or Clark street, under the river; development of the Milwaukee right of way on the east side of the north branch of the Chicago river to the Wilson avenue "L" station, continuing to the city limits on that right of way.

By no stretch of the imagination can it be thought that the surface lines and elevated system can be made into a rapid transit system capable of serving the Greater Chicago district, not at least without duplicating and cluttering up the city with new lines. The steam suburban services provide a basis for a real system.
An inland airport off Grant park, such as has been at various times proposed, without hangars and facilities for handling freight, is no answer to the problem of developing aviation. Such fields may be satisfactory during the experimental stages of air travel, but they cannot be thought of as sufficient to take

SEVEN POLICEMEN AT A BARRICADE.
Duquesne, Pa., Nov. 19.—One dead, five injured, and the city of crime it is called up to be. Today's TRIBUNE tells us that at that Baur's debut two mounted policemen and three uniformed patrolmen were on duty. In the article, it is made to make us believe they were there to direct traffic. Applaud! We all know that they were there for, and with that a town is in bad shape and police maintenance (payment for better protection) has to have the above described police protection.

A. F. OF L. FIGHTS COMMUNISM TO GUIDE DIXIE TOIL

Green Moves to Offset Reds' Activities.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—The new industrial south is the latest scene of the conflict between the American Federation of Labor and the communist party, it was revealed here today by labor leaders. Officials of the Alabama State Federation of Labor who returned recently from Washington, where they met with national officers to plan for the organization of labor in the south, reported that the communists had "jumped the gun" and had taken in more than 1,000 new members in Birmingham alone in the last two weeks. The Federation of Labor plans to organize the south within the next 30 days, J. L. Hurst, president of the Alabama Federation, announced. William L. Green, president of the national association, is expected to take personal charge of the movement. Tons of communist literature has been distributed in northern Alabama at the various textile mills and other plants. Communist cards are being sold to labor men in the south at $1 for a month's membership.

Use Gastonia Mills Text.
The activities of the communists are especially strong in the vicinity of Gastonia, Ala., where there are several large textile mills. They are also waging a vigorous campaign among the farmers, seeking to prevent farmers from coming in to take the places of the present workers when a strike is called. In the Birmingham headquarters of the communist organization the literature distributed contains appeals for the workers in the Gastonia, N. C., strike. The following are some of the phrases used:
"Fight, O, fight to organize the unorganized workers."
"Rally to the defense of the victims of the Gastonia frame-up."
"Long live the solidarity of the Negro and white workers of the south."
An appeal for funds is incorporated in the literature, which is signed by the international labor defense. According to Paul Aymon, president of the Tennessee Federation of Labor, the purpose of the communist party is to organize, not so much for the advantage of the employed as to create strife with the idea of ultimate revolution.

Rules Out Insurrection Charge.
Marion, N. C., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Judge G. V. Cowper indicated today that he would rule for the defense tomorrow and quash the charge of rebellion and insurrection against Alfred Hoffman, organizer for the United Textile Workers of America, and four others who have been on trial for the last ten days. While the evidence offered by Solicitor J. Will Fries Jr. tended to show that there had been rioting in connection with the textile workers in this region, in the opinion of Judge Cowper no proof of organized resistance to the government or to an act of the legislature had been adduced. The solicitor agreed with the court that the statute, invoked for the first time since it was adopted in 1868 to punish "carpet bag" rule upon a rebellious community, put the present trial on new ground that "none of us is sure of."
If the rebellion case is dismissed, steps will be taken at once to bring to trial the same defendants on indictments charging riot, punishment for conviction of rebellion is fifteen years in prison and a fine. Rioting, a misdemeanor, is punishable by two years on the chain gang and a fine.

BRITAIN REFUSES JOB OF MEDIATING SINO-RUSS ROW

Chinese Chief Bares Peace Attempts.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
MUKDEN, Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Hsueh-shang, head of the government of the three eastern provinces, tonight published a series of telegrams indicating his efforts since Oct. 17 for a peaceful settlement of the Chinese-Russian conflict. The young general's peace efforts began on Oct. 17, when an unofficial attempt was made to persuade the British government to act in a mediating capacity. The British replied that, while they wished for a peaceful settlement, it was impossible for them to act, since the Anglo-Russian relations had not yet been reestablished. They further cited the fact that Germany was already trying to mediate.

Appeal to Russian Minister.
Marshal Chang's effort to interest the British was taken through W. P. Donald, a British subject, who is an adviser to the Mukden government. Mr. Donald then sent a personal telegram to Karakhan, Russian vice commissioner of foreign affairs, at Moscow, from the Soviet ambassador at Peking, urging a peaceful settlement. Karakhan replied on Oct. 25: "I consider any intermediary action unproductive, since the Soviet government's opinion remains unaltered. Negotiations with Mukden are possible only after full acceptance and fulfillment of the elementary preliminary demands of the Soviet government, which were communicated to the German government on Aug. 29 for transmission to Mukden and Nanking."

Chang's Reply.
Marshal Chang replied to this telegram, also in Mr. Donald's name, as follows: "Manchuria's attitude toward the problem has not changed, and if Russia sincerely wishes to negotiate with Mukden Marshal Chang is ready to negotiate on the basis of the 1924 agreement between Mukden and Soviet Russia. I am certain that you understand why Mukden has not yet received, directly or indirectly, the terms which you state were handed to the German government last August, hence I would appreciate it if you would kindly wire the same." Karakhan ignored this telegram and another sent to him on Nov. 6 asking whether Moscow desired a peaceful settlement.

AUTO VICTIM COLLECTS.
Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 20.—[U.P.]—Mrs. Zozan Ivis was awarded $8,500 damages in Circuit court here for injuries received when she was struck by an automobile driven by Lee K. Davidson, Ill. She had sued for $22,000.

WOOL MARKETING PLANS APPROVED BY FARM BOARD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Wool and mohair cooperatives of the United States officially entered the national marketing field with their own central sales agency today, when the federal farm board announced its approval of plans for the new $1,000,000 National Wool Marketing association.

The National Wool Marketing association is the second central commodity sales agency to be set up by the farm board. The Farmers' National Grain corporation, incorporated Oct. 23, now is functioning with headquarters at Chicago. Articles of incorporation, by-laws and marketing agreements of the new wool and mohair association were adopted at San Angelo, Tex., Tuesday by an organization committee of fifteen appointed at a meeting of cooperative representatives with the farm board in Chicago, Oct. 4. C. B. Dennison, live stock member of the board, and C. G. Randall, live stock marketing expert, attended the San Angelo conference, which preceded the annual convention of the National Wool Growers' association. "Immediate steps are being taken to build a national organization for the marketing of wool and mohair," the farm board announced. "Arrangements also are being made for the immediate financing of growers through existing cooperatives. This will be done through pre-shearing advances to ranchers. Money will also be loaned on unsold wool and mohair." L. B. Palmer of Columbus, O., is president of the new association. Members of the executive committee are Mr. Palmer, Roger Gillis, Delrio, Tex.; R. A. Ward, Portland, Ore.; F. R. Marshall, Prosper, Wash., and James A. Hooper, Salt Lake City, Utah.

FIVE INJURED IN FIRE.
San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 20.—[U.P.]—Five men, including Fire Chief Charles J. Brennan, were slightly injured in a fire which destroyed the plants of the American engraving and colorplate company and the Gray & Danielson Radio company. The loss will approximate $500,000.

CORN PAGEANT OPENS TONIGHT AT SYCAMORE

Sycamore, Ill., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—"Gift of the Red Man," a pageant to depict the history of Indian maize and its development into modern corn, will be staged by northern Illinois rural communities at the Community hall here tomorrow and Friday nights. In the east are 257 local residents, with an amateur volunteer orchestra numbering 125 people. Charles F. Wells of the American Playground and Recreation association has been drilling the dancers and speakers and supervising the construction of scenery. Mr. Wells is the author of the pageant, based on a history of corn by Clifford V. Gregory, a Chicago farm paper editor.

MARSHAL NABS 2 FOR ROBBERY.
Tipton, Ia., Nov. 20.—[U.P.]—Captured by Tipton Marshal V. Paul of Lowden after a chase in which several shoes were lost, Ed Johnson and F. Williams, both claiming to live in Milwaukee, are in jail here today, charged with robbing a drug store in Milwaukee, Ill., Monday.

WIFE CONFESSES LOVER IN HOME SHOT HUSBAND

Tries in Vain to Take the room, however, his wife tried to detain him.

"As he started back in," Mrs. O'Brien continued, "Dorr fired again and the bullet hit him in the forehead. He turned and ran down the hall and Dorr fired two more shots, one of them grazing his cheek."

Dorr's Wife on Scene.

O'Brien collapsed on the landing of the stairs and was lying there when Mrs. Dorr, who had been awakened by the shots, came running upstairs. Dorr, according to Mrs. O'Brien, then turned the gun on himself and pulled the trigger, but the pistol had been loaded with only four shells and the hammer merely clicked.

"Don't shoot yourself!" Mrs. Dorr cried. "Think of your two children and get out of this."

"Don't worry," Mrs. Dorr, Mrs. O'Brien told the police she said. "I'll take the rap. I'll say that I shot him."

Dorr then called the police, and when a squad from the Chicago Lawn station arrived Dorr had picked up the wounded man and carried him back into the apartment. O'Brien was slumped over in a chair, but he was conscious and told the police that Dorr shot him.

Believe Wife at First.

Mrs. O'Brien and the Dorr, however, seemed to explain away the accusation, Mrs. O'Brien insisting that she shot her husband as he came out of the bathroom, while Dorr said that he was awakened by the shots and found O'Brien on the stairs. The police were inclined to believe that O'Brien had lapsed into unconsciousness for a few minutes and that he assumed that Dorr had shot him when he awoke to find the man leaning over him.

Mrs. O'Brien insisted, prior to her confession, that she had found Dorr's gun in the basement and had taken it upstairs with her, intending to commit suicide, a previous attempt by poison having failed a few weeks ago. Dorr substantiated this statement by saying that he had left the gun in the basement a year ago and had not seen it since then.

The police began to suspect the veracity of the stories of Dorr and the two women when Mrs. Dorr told conflicting details. At first she said that both she and her husband were asleep when the shots were fired. Then she changed her story to say that she awoke to find her husband standing at the foot of the stairs. Later, she varied it again and told the police that she ran upstairs and found Dorr standing behind Mrs. O'Brien, partly dressed.

Powder Mark Is Clew.

Mrs. O'Brien stuck to her story throughout the day and although her questioners were mystified by some of the circumstances they were being convinced when she related her story in the bedroom, showing how she had hidden behind the closet door and fired. The only flaw in her version

CHARWOMAN, MOTHER OF RICH BRIDE, SAYS SHE'LL JUST CRY ON

OSLO, Norway, Nov. 20.—(U.P.)—A woman who said she was the mother of Adelaide Ingelbert, Norwegian chambermaid, recently wed to William Willock Jr., son of a New York millionaire, found no change in her life today because of her daughter's marriage.

"I am delighted that Adelaide is married," the woman said. "But I just plan to continue my work as a laundress and floor scrubber at the city hall."

"My husband deserted me and our three children twelve years ago. Six years ago I sent my eldest daughter to the United States, where she was a servant until she married a Norwegian engineer in New York. Three years ago she sent passage money to Adelaide. Both daughters visited me last summer. I am delighted that Adelaide is married, but I have no intention of bothering her and her husband."

then seemed to lie in powder marks on the closet door, which the police believed were higher than the position in which she would have held the gun. Commissioner Stages and Prosecutor Ditchburne had concluded their questioning and sent Mrs. Dorr home when Keegan appeared at the detective bureau and confronted his daughter. It was then that she broke down.

At the Holy Cross hospital O'Brien was still in a critical condition early this morning. The bullet which struck him in the forehead took a course around his skull and was embedded at the base of the skull.

AGED PEDESTRIAN KILLED BY AUTO; TOLL IS NOW 880

Frank H. Eisenberger, 72 years old, 7003 South Loomis street, was fatally injured yesterday when he was struck by an automobile at 434 street and Western avenue. The driver, Arthur Goldblatt Jr., 516 Madison street, Oak Park, son of a director of the United Jewish charities, was held.

This death and three others raised the 1929 Cook county motor toll to 880. The other victims:

Nicholas Kurck, 46 years old, 1232 South Fairfield avenue. Died in the county hospital of injuries received Nov. 10, when he was struck by an automobile at Talman and Ogden avenues.

Peter Van Arkel, 46 years old, 8841 South Union avenue. Fatally injured when he was crushed beneath his truck when it was overturned in a collision with an automobile driven by Walter Bush, 23 years old, 3044 South Canal street, at 1024 and Sangamon streets. Bush was held.

Paul Stratzinski, 54 years old, 3466 Belmont avenue. Struck by an automobile driven by Andrew Gerner, 6940 Odell avenue, in front of 4318 Elston avenue. Gerner was held for the inquest.

When the automobile in which he was riding ran off industrial highway at Indiana Harbor, Ind., into a ditch of water 4 feet deep, Stanley Britton, 15 years old, of South Chicago, was drowned. His mother and a friend, Mathew Dragobach, escaped unhurt.

Carl Possetto, 46 years old, 1614 Madison street, Gary, was struck and killed by an automobile last night at 11th street and Broadway, Gary, where he was repairing the street car tracks. The motorist, Edward C. Severn of Gary, was held on a charge of manslaughter.

BABSON BERATED FOR SUGGESTING SENATE ADJOURN

Coalition Members Strike
Back at Writer.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—(Special.)—Roger Babson's appeal to Congress to adjourn in order to give President Hoover a free hand in restoring confidence in the business world this afternoon evoked a storm of denunciation from coalition leaders which sidetracked all other business in the senate for nearly an hour.

Led by Senator William E. Borah (Rep., Idaho), leader of the insurgent Republicans, and Senator Thomas Walsh (Dem., Mont.), the coalitionists attacked the well known statistician and business expert as a false prophet and his views as an alibi for big Wall street speculators. It was Babson who prophesied the market crash.

Says Congress "Fiddles." Babson, in an article published this morning, declared that "the business men of Rome had no more on Nero when he was fiddling during that great panic 2,000 years ago than the business men of America have on our congress, which is fiddling so hopelessly today," adding that "this especially applies to the senate." He proposed that congress "pass one bill giving certain necessary powers to President Hoover, as did the Democratic congress of 1914," and then "stop its bickering," adjourn and stay adjourned until business confidence is revived.

Senator Borah fairly shouted as he read portions of the Babson statement

GENKER, IN A CELL, SURE CAPT. GARRICK DOESN'T LIKE HIM

"Monkey Face Charlie" Genker, for 35 years a keeper of vice resorts, was in a cell at the detective bureau last night complaining that Capt. Luke Garrick of the Warren Avenue police station doesn't like him. Genker, whose place at 426 South Halsted street was raided while Capt. Garrick was in command of the Des Plaines street station, recently opened a cigar store at 12 South Paulina street.

More recently Capt. Garrick was transferred to the Warren Avenue district. Yesterday, Genker told Lieut. Al Booth at the mid-week show-up that Capt. Garrick sent a policeman to his cigar store with word that he was wanted at the station. When he arrived, the captain asked him:

"Charlie, why do you always follow me around?"

"I was in this district before you were," Genker replied. "And I'll be here when you're gone."

"Nobody like you is going to follow Luke Garrick around and get away with it," the captain retorted, and Genker went to jail.

and lambasted the author with all his oratorical vehemence.

"This," he asserted, "is the utterly false and malicious statement, unreliable as to facts and unsound as to opinion. It comes from a man serving special interests which oppose the equality for agriculture we are trying to put into the tariff bill."

TRY McMANUS TODAY AS KILLER OF ROTHSTEIN

New York, Nov. 20.—(AP)—The trial of George A. McManus for the murder of Gambler Arnold Rothstein, which is expected to lift the lid on New York's underworld, will get under way tomorrow.

The twelfth juror was selected late this afternoon. Tomorrow morning at 10:30 the state will begin the outline of its case, with the expectation that it will attempt to prove that on Nov. 4 a year ago, McManus enlisted Rothstein to the Park Central hotel and there shot him when he refused to pay a gambling debt of legendary proportions.

Called as witnesses in the case are men known as heavy plungers at the race tracks and gambling tables from Maine to Florida and New York City to the Pacific.

There is Alvin C. Thomas ("Titanic" Thomas) of Milwaukee and points east and west; Meyer and Sam Boston, who take their last names from the New England city where they have their headquarters; Nathan ("Nigger Nats") Raymond, swarthy little gambler from California; James Meehan, to whom had been turned over for collection the debts Rothstein is alleged to have incurred at a high stake game a few weeks before the shooting; and others prominent in the underworld of half a dozen cities.

WIFE WATCHES SLAIN HUSBAND 15 DAYS; SAYS GOD ORDERED IT

St. Joseph, Mich., Nov. 20.—(AP)—"God told me not to pay any attention to him."

That was the explanation given by Mrs. Erna Kohlbeck, 33, of Three Oaks, for keeping a lone vigil in the house for 15 days while the body of her husband, Frank Kohlbeck, 53, lay untouched on the kitchen floor. She says he sent a rifle bullet through his heart.

Mrs. Kohlbeck is detained at the county jail here pending the report of an autopsy.

The couple, known as religious fanatics, kept strictly to themselves, neighbors said.

Mrs. Kohlbeck, who speaks only German, said today she wrote asking her sister, Mrs. Mollie Bergman, Chicago, to help bury Kohlbeck quietly. The sister notified police who found his body. On the table was a meal prepared 15 days ago, untouched.

as the probable slayer, but he satisfied the district attorney he was in Georgia when "A. R." as Rothstein was known, was shot.

And there will be Bridget Farry, former chambermaid at the Park Central, who thinks McManus was a "fine guy" and has promised to appear in court in an Irish green dress, a gold crown, on her head and gold slippers on her feet.

Mrs. Farry is an alleged eye witness of Rothstein's staggering exit from room 349 at the Park Central.

COUPLE ELOPES TO WAUKEGAN; WED AT 1 A. M.

Miss Genevieve Steffy, daughter of William O. Steffy, head of the Penn China company, and Paul Gentry, 5221 Windsor avenue, were married early yesterday morning at Waukegan after an elopement from the Steffy home at 8200 Kenmore avenue Tuesday night. The couple arrived at Waukegan at 1:30 o'clock, accompanied by another couple who had been married there two weeks ago, and after rousing County Clerk Lew Hendes from bed to obtain a license, were married by Justice of the Peace Walter Dow Wright at his home.

Mrs. Gentry was graduated last spring from the Starrett School for Girls. Gentry was formerly a student at the University of Wisconsin, but has been in business in Chicago for several months.

The girl's parents were said to have opposed the marriage, but Mr. Steffy last night refused to comment on it.

Speeding to Get Doctor

Because Floyd Bailey, 22 years old, 1225 East 44th street, was on his way, when arrested, to get a doctor to prescribe at the event which made him a father, a charge of speeding against him was dismissed by Judge Samuel Heller in the Des Plaines street court yesterday. Bailey dashed out of the court room after the judge had congratulated and discharged him, but a clerk yelled at him as he sped through the door. "He was so excited he forgot the $25 bond he put up yesterday," the clerk explained to Judge Heller.

Only $54 (Less Radiotrons)

Buys this Sensational RCA RADIOLA 33

The radio value that amazed the industry

HERE is the finest tribute to the vast resources and manufacturing skill of the Radio Corporation of America...an amazing radio instrument that will outperform many sets costing double...yet at a price less than an ordinary table model.

By far the biggest radio buy of the year. Here is everything you expect of a good radio...beauty of tone...realism that only the most expensive sets can match...selectivity and sensitivity that only RCA can build into a radio instrument.

In addition, you get the added advantage of another great Radiola achievement...you get the freedom from distorting noises and electrical hum without the costly sacrifice of loss in fidelity and tone range...without that weakening of power and dulling of low and high notes which owners of ordinary sets must suffer when hum is reduced in defiance of electrical research and experience!

Think of it! All this at the sensationally low price...only $54 (less Radiotrons)...a radio value that none but the leader in the industry can produce.

Today...see and hear this marvelous instrument...compare it with even the most expensive models and you'll understand at once why Radiola 33 is the fastest selling radio in America.

RCA RADIOLA 33...the lowest priced, high-quality radio. A compact and charming model wrought in a distinctive modern design. Embodies the most popular radio circuit. Operates from alternating house current. Requires no table. Sensationally low in price...only...$54 (less Radiotrons)

RCA LOUDSPEAKER 100B—The reproducer that has made the Radiola famous for its rich, sweet, mellow tone...for use with Radiola 33...only...$17.50

In addition to Radiola 33, you may select from the only complete line of high-quality sets...ranging in price from $54 to $690...instruments designed to meet every known requirement of broadcast reception. The model you select may be purchased on the convenient RCA Time Payment Plan.

Look for and insist on the famous RCA trade-mark

RCA is the only organization in the radio industry manufacturing a complete line of radio products—vacuum tubes (Radiotrons), receiving sets (Radiolas), reproducers, Radiola-phonograph combinations, broadcasting apparatus, centralized radio equipment, airport and airplane equipment, sound recording and reproducing apparatus, and transoceanic telegraphic apparatus.

RCA recognizes the responsibility of its leadership in the radio industry, and in the present line of Radiolas it has maintained every requirement of quality and endurance which this leadership implies.

WINTER is near

Is your car ready? Three steps are necessary to put your car in shape to meet the heavy demands of cold weather driving.

- 1—Change the lubricant in the differential and transmission, using Polarine Transmission Oil (Winter) or Iso-Vis Lubricant (B).
- 2—Have the chassis thoroughly greased.
- 3—Flush the crankcase with Polarine Flushing Oil and refill with winter grade of either Iso-Vis or Polarine recommended for your car.

These three steps are vital to the good conduct and smooth operation of your car this winter.

Iso-Vis and Polarine meet every winter need. They maintain their viscosity and lubricate thoroughly at any operating temperature. They're highly refined and scientifically correct for all motors.

If you use Polarine—drain the crankcase every 500 miles for maximum efficiency and economy. If you use Iso-Vis, the constant viscosity oil—you can drive a thousand miles or more without changing, for Iso-Vis wears and wears and wears.

QUICK FIRE JURY SYSTEM SPEEDS BOSTON JUSTICE

Chicago Visitors Told How It's Done.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Boston, Mass., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Treatment of crime and crime waves on a scientific basis akin to the heading off of typhoid epidemics by public health officers was expounded to the Illinois Judicial Advisory council today by criminologists of Harvard Law college. For four hours the investigators sat at a long table while a group of experts set forth facts and theories developed in researches they have been making the last four years into crime and law in Boston. Some are working with the Hoover commission as specialists.

The Harvard diagnosticians said the basic need is a change in public sentiment.

"There ought to be a blue sky law against patent remedies for curing crime," said Prof. Felix Frankfurter. "The important need is a change in the opinion of the community towards the problem."

Treat Crime Like Typhoid.
"Not so many years ago epidemics of disease were regarded as acts of God and nothing was done to head them off. There has been a revolution in that and we have departments of public health. They don't wait for a typhoid epidemic before they examine the water. So with the attitude towards crime, in twenty years we can expect to see an important change."

Dr. Sheldon Glueck said that the Harvard research has indicated that the claims of sentimentalists regarding the social redemption of convicts have been rather imaginative.

"We studied 510 prisoner releases in two years in Massachusetts," he said. "We found that 80 per cent had failed in social reclamation. We found 60 per cent were total failures—they had committed serious offenses after release—and 20 per cent had committed petty offenses."

How Boston Speeds Up Law.
In Boston the investigators found delays are almost unknown in getting juries in murder trials, while in insanity pleas the conflict of experts has been eliminated.

"How far, if at all," asked Judge Denis E. Sullivan, "does the shortening of examinations of jurors interfere with the constitutional rights of defendants?"

"In Boston," said the professors "remarkable speed is made in selecting juries. The attorney must tell the judge the question, and the judge then asks the veniremen, if he considers it relevant. The result is that the lawyer drops about 97 per cent of the questions he would otherwise ask. The jury problem as Cook county knows it does not exist."

Judge Harry M. Fisher pointed out that in Chicago weeks are sometimes consumed in getting juries, and in only one had there been delay in getting a jury.

The stenographer broke in at this juncture with the information that he had taken the evidence in twenty Massachusetts murder trials and in only one had there been delay in getting a jury.

Appointive Judges a Factor.
In Massachusetts the judges are appointed by the governor with the approval of his council, and they serve during good behavior. In this respect, the situation here is much like that found in Canada.

Everywhere the Illinoisians have so far traveled they have heard wonderment at the manner in which judges in Cook county have their hands so tied with legal red tape that they have little power beyond refereeing a battle between the lawyers. In Canada the bench and the bar have expressed amazement to hear that a favorite trick of lawyers in Chicago is to bait and badger some of the more temperamental judges, hoping to get an explosion in the record on which to fight the verdict in the upper courts.

All through the trip the investigators have been hearing the idea advanced that courts are established, not for the judges, not for the lawyers, but for the dispensation of justice.

Trained Parole Men Scarce.
"What about probation?" asked Franklin L. Valde. The professors said one trouble was the lack of trained men. One professor told of a recent examination for parole officers in Boston. One test was "use the words 'warp and wool' in a sentence."

One applicant turned in a paper that said: "Warp is a species of bulge. 'Wool' is the noise made by a bulge."

The matter of "insanity defense" was brought up by John D. Black, president of the Illinois Bar association, and Prof. Robert W. Millar. Dr. Glueck said the books are overloaded with laws relating to psychiatry, but pointed out that the Briggs law in Massachusetts has eliminated the conflict of "experts." Under it, in capital cases and certain other felony cases, an examination is made as routine practice by a neutral agency composed of two psychiatrists before the trial.

YES! MANY STILL CROSS CHANNEL ON DE LUXE SHIPS

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, Nov. 20.—De luxe travel across the English channel has lately been made even more luxurious by the addition of the Canterbury to the transchannel fleet on the Dover-Calais route. The Canterbury is a 3,100-ton oil burning steamer used on the Golden Arrow service, which links London and Paris in 6 hours and 35 minutes.

The Canterbury is 342 feet over all, with a 48 foot beam and a depth of 26 feet to the awning deck. Two sets of turbines, supplied with steam at 225 pounds pressure, propel the boat. The steam is supplied by four water-tube boilers of the latest type, burn oil fuel under the closed stokehold system of forced draft.

Room for 800 Passengers.
The Canterbury is designed for first class passengers, and provides accommodations for some 800 persons. There is an observation room and royal suite on the boat deck; a covered in general lounge, palm court and private suites on the awning deck; a dining room, smoke room and private cabins on the boat deck; and salons for men and women on the lowest deck.

The vessel is built with special attention given to lifeboats and lifesaving installations generally.

Although the Canterbury is the newest boat on transchannel services, there are some other excellent craft plying between these and other ports.

Latest Life Saving Devices.
Between Tilbury and Dunkirk, for instance, a much longer route, giving overnight service between London and Paris, there are a number of good boats. The Alsacien, the Lorrain and the Flamand are typical examples. These large boats are comfortably fitted and are equipped with all the latest life saving devices.

PLAN DEMOCRAT RALLY HERE FOR GOV. ROOSEVELT

When Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York comes to Chicago to address the Commercial club on Dec. 10 at its annual dinner, his visit probably will be made the occasion for a Democratic demonstration in honor of the successor of Alfred E. Smith as governor of the Empire state.

Thomas F. Donovan, Democratic national committeeman, already has begun plans for a Roosevelt luncheon which is predicted will be attended by 1,000 or more public officials and business executives. Among those expected to participate are President Cermak of the county board, Col. A. A. Sprague, President Kelly of the south park board, Melvin A. Traylor, W. G. Bierd, D. F. Kelly, and Edward N. Hurley.

It will be Mr. Roosevelt's first visit to Illinois since his election as governor of New York.

UNIFORM CHOSEN FOR THE BLACK HORSE TROOPERS

The official uniform for members of Chicago's Black Horse troop was selected last night at the Chicago Riding club. When the troopers are called out at future state convocations they will present a colorful spectacle in fittings which will include black jackets and boots, white breeches, and a black shako topped with a white plume. The uniform is similar to that worn by the American dragons in the war of 1912.

The final selection was made last night from two uniforms which were worn by Capt. J. T. Knight, commanding officer of the troop, and Corporal E. S. Younkens. They paraded around the arena before the committee of which Mrs. Walter Borden is chairman. Other members are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Busby, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Keen, Britton I. Budd, Albert Cook, high school basketball, and Capt. Knight.

Wins Wife as First Prize!

Reward for taking advice better than he expected. Luck changes at last!

If you don't think your whole life can be changed by chance, read this. It is the story of a young man who was pretty well down and out, but he figured he might win a prize if he took some advice. But let him tell it:

"As far back as I can remember I had been a weakling," says Mr. Calvin L. Floyd of Orlando, Florida. "A headache, it seemed, was to be my life companion. I was always so dizzy in the mornings I could hardly dress. Nothing I ate seemed good for me. Then I attended a health lecture in a sanatorium and the physician talked on 'faulty elimination.' That was certainly my trouble. One of the patients asked him about Nujol. He recommended it highly, saying it could do no harm and should help any person suffering as I was. I decided to try one bottle to see if there was anything in what he said about natural lubrication for the human body.

"It was just last fall that I heard that lecture. What a whale of a difference three bottles of Nujol made in me! Long before I had finished the first bottle my 'companion-headache' was gone. No more tired out feeling. I get a real kick out of life now. By the way, I almost forgot to tell you I found a new life companion, too!"

Perfectly simple, wasn't it? Mr.

Many a life changed by a message like this one.

Floyd just learned the normal natural way to get rid of bodily poisons (we all have them) and nature did the rest.

Nujol is not a medicine. It contains no drugs. It is effective, so you will be "regular as clock-work." You can buy it at all good drug stores in sealed packages for less than the price of a couple of good cigars.

Worth trying? Worth finding out if this simple natural way will make your whole life brighter? Begin today. Millions have found that Nujol makes all the difference in the world. Why shouldn't it help you?

BORGLUM SEES TRACE OF DEVIL IN WASHINGTON

George Washington had a "devil" in him, according to Gutzon Borglum, sculptor, and it is that capricious devil, combined with his driving will, which the sculptor plans to somehow portray in stone.

Borglum believes that the expression of an eye, for instance, can be shown as well in a massive thing such as the head of Washington now being hewn out of a section of the Black Hills in South Dakota, as in a cameo.

The sculptor reported to the Mount Rushmore national monument commission, appointed by former President Calvin Coolidge, yesterday in an all day meeting in the Standard club.

Members of the commission are, J. S. Cullinan, Houston, Tex., chairman; Julius Rosenwald, who left in the afternoon to attend a conference called by President Hoover; Fred W. Sargent; Frank O. Lowden; Mrs. Lorine J. Spooner; Corpus Christi, Tex.; Charles M. Day, Sioux Falls, S. D.; Delos Gurney, Yankton, S. D.; John A. Boland, Rapid City, S. D.; and William Williamson, Custer, S. D.

The four figures in the group, which will cost $500,000, more than three-fifths of which is available, will include Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Roosevelt, figures which represent the romantic spirit of America, Mr. Borglum said.

After more than a year's work, the forehead, eyebrows and half of Washington's nose have been created out of granite. The nose is 19 feet in length, but it is no reflection on Washington, as his face will be 60 feet long. Mr. Borglum hopes to unveil Washington's and Jefferson's heads July 4.

"Washington was more of a king than Napoleon," said Borglum. "There was something of the grandiose about him. He was always rigid before company, but he had a temper and was, in all, a great fellow."

"MYSTERY MAN" IN LEGION PRISON MAY BE U. S. HERO

Washington Starts Probe in Algeria.

ALGIERS, Nov. 20.—(U. P.)—Behind the walls of the Orleansville military prison near here is a mystery soldier of the French Foreign Legion, who knows neither his name nor nationality, but who pretends to recall having been shot with the Americans at Chateau Thierry in 1918.

An aged widow, Mrs. Eliza Jane Pritchard of Cushing, Okla., is convinced that the Legionnaire is her son, Merlin F. Pritchard, and the United States government today put its machinery into operation to find out. Pritchard was reported killed in action in 1918.

The mystery man enrolled as Frank O'Brien, but names mean nothing in the Legion, as half of the soldiers give false names upon enlisting.

Through the state department in Washington and Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, the American consul in Algiers, Oscar S. Heiser, was furnished with characteristics of the missing Merlin Pritchard. He asked prison officials to compare his indications with marks on the boy's body.

"The mysterious O'Brien has been in the prison for many months," Heiser said today. "In one letter to me he pretends to have been shot at Chateau Thierry. He has no papers to prove that he was ever with the A. E. F."

"At other times he pretends to be an Indian, claiming to have been born in Oklahoma on April 7, 1899, and that he worked in New York as a longshoreman."

"In the last letter I received he said he was Merlin Pritchard. Mrs. Pritchard's son is reported to have enlisted in the 9th division of the regular army in Denver during the war. She indicated that if the boy in prison is her son he should have scars on his right thumb and right eyebrow and marks of his right arm's double fracture."

At the prison offices it was said the Legionnaire, "Frank O'Brien," was sent there on July 14, 1928, for a five year term for desertion.

TRY OUT "HAM AND" IN SOPRANO AT THOMPSON'S

Hereafter when the counter jumper in Thompson's restaurant shouts an order of "ham and" back into the kitchen the shouting may be done in a soprano voice. For Thompson officials are thinking of hiring women to replace the men who serve in their string of "one-armed" restaurants.

John R. Thompson, head of the company that bears his name, said last night that men had been replaced by women in two Thompson restaurants, one at Ohio and Michigan and the other on Irving Park boulevard.

"It's only an experiment," he said.

ACTION STARTED TO ADD LAND TO CITY'S AIR FIELDSchool Head Calls Halt on Other Lease Plans.

BY ROBERT WOOD.

President Caldwell of the board of education yesterday ordered that all negotiations for new leases on school property adjoining the municipal airport at 63d street and Cicero avenue be held up pending the outcome of negotiations with the city for the annexation of additional land for the air field.

His action followed the receipt of a letter from Richard W. Wolfe, commissioner of public works, asking the board to start negotiations for a long term lease on 600 acres of land, including and adjoining the airfield. Mr. Wolfe's request followed insistent demands of civic groups and aviation interests that the city field be enlarged to relieve the dangerous congestion of air traffic.

Leases Expire on Nov. 30.

Mr. Caldwell pointed out yesterday that the leases on 213 acres of land desired for airport expansion and now held by farmers will expire on Nov. 30. No leases will be extended and no new leases granted until the school board has endeavored to arrive at a favorable arrangement with the city on the leasing of this property for airport purposes, he said. Mr. Wolfe suggested that the city and the school board start negotiations on the basis of $20 per acre.

Mr. Caldwell said that a golf club is seeking to lease a large portion of the farm land desired for airport purposes, but added that he would favor the city's proposal if a suitable arrangement could be made.

"The school board will be glad to negotiate," he said, "but I can't say whether the board will favor leasing more property to the city. We know nothing of the terms of their proposal."

Farmers Pay $6 an Acre.

He said the golf club had offered $20 an acre for the land which is now leased by farmers for $6 an acre per year.

A total of 109 acres desired by aviation interests for expansion westward is now held by the Laramie Golf club under a lease which does not expire until 1944, Mr. Caldwell said.

Mr. Wolfe's request will be considered by the school board next Wednesday. Whether the board will take action at that time or refer the matter to the buildings and grounds committee, Mr. Caldwell would not say.

CLAIMS YANKEE
SALES PEP HURTS
TRADE OF BRITAINAnd Thus Results Big Jobless Problem.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—(AP)—The high powered salesmanship of American automobile and steel manufacturers is proving a big obstacle to schemes to relieve unemployment, according to Minister J. H. Thomas, working to solve the jobless problem of Great Britain.

Interviewed in the lobby of the house of commons tonight, the lord privy seal urged manufacturers to work toward a standardized car for the overseas market, to be coupled with an efficient sales organization, which might compete with American activity and upset the large proportion of American cars bought in the dominions.

He said it was clear that home motorists must be encouraged to use a higher powered car suitable for export. He stated that the horsepower

CITY IS AUTHORIZED
IN LIBERTY BONDS

Authorization was given yesterday by the city council finance committee to the city controller and the city treasurer to sell $4,300,000 worth of Liberty bonds the city bought during the war. The aldermen were advised that the bonds are now selling slightly above par and the city will make a profit by selling them now. The bonds consist of $300,000 of the first Liberty loan 4 1/2 per cent bonds and $4,000,000 of the fourth loan, also paying 4 1/2 per cent. The money is to be applied to payment of current bills.

tax would be revised before the next budget and might be abandoned in favor of a gasoline tax system.

U. S. Deliveries Prompt.

The British steel industry now has a representative in Canada booking orders for the whole trade. One of the principal difficulties has been that quick deliveries offered by Americans contrast with the several weeks of delay in British deliveries. It was believed this had been solved by an export credits committee to finance huge quantities of British steel of standard pattern, which will be kept in Canada for instant delivery.

Mr. Thomas said that schemes involving $200,000,000 or more already were sanctioned and were dependent no longer on government action, but on outside economic factors. He added he was surveying every British trade. "The object is to try if possible to concentrate on the export market, because I believe that is the only way we can deal with the unemployment problem," he said.

O. K. Coordinated Selling.

Coordinated selling by groups is recommended in the report of the cooperative selling committee of the Rubber Growers' association, adopted by the council of the association at a meeting on Monday.

Central selling in relation to the whole producing industry was declared impracticable, because approximately one-third of the area planted with rubber is under British ownership, one-tenth owned by Dutch concerns, and nearly a half under Asiatic ownership, comprising individuals of many nationalities, races and creeds and numbering hundreds of thousands who are incapable of organization.

O. K. AMENDMENTS
FOR LAKE FRONT
IMPROVEMENTS

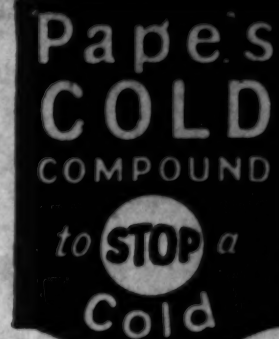

Amendments to the 1919 lake front ordinance, passed by the city council on Oct. 24, which permit development of air rights over the Illinois Central tracks north of Randolph street and east of Michigan avenue, were approved by the South Park board yesterday. This action lays the way open for the construction of the new Randolph street viaduct, the proposed extension of South Water and Lake to meet Field boulevard.

Superintendent George P. Donaghy was instructed by the board to prepare plans for the extension of East 35th street across the Illinois Central tracks in preparation for the World's Fair of 1933. The board voted to lease Soldiers' field stadium to Drake university for a night football game to be played on Oct. 3 next.

A committee, headed by A. R. Harris of the Hegewisch Business Men's association, appeared to plead for the erection of a field house in James R. Mann park in Hegewisch. Others on the committee were: Maj. Henry Lee, state representative; John C. Currier, and Ald. William Rowan (10th).

Thoughts of Cold!

He thought he couldn't play that night, but the cold he'd caught that morning had departed. Most professional people know what really knocks a cold in a few hours; many go through the winter without any trouble from colds. It's a compound that comes in little white tablets. Take one, and that first snuffle is just about the last; or several tablets if you've let the cold go until it's serious.

Pape's Cold Compound is all you ask for; and the druggist charges 35c for a package, and it never seems to fail for anybody.

Many a house of issue sets out to find the needle in the haystack when it advertises a new offering of securities! A recent survey shows that less than one out of twelve newspaper readers can be considered even a prospect for investments; and of these prospects, very few qualify as important customers. To place new securities before the major part of New York's three million newspaper readers, on the face of it, is not always an economical procedure.

This is not to say that the small investors—who furnish the majority of your customers—can or should be ignored. But, as recently reported by a leading investment house, a minority of its customers—42 per cent—took 92 per cent of the total volume of issues. This important group exercises the controlling and stabilizing influence on the market. And it is doubtful whether any newspaper reaches so substantial an element of this key minority as the Evening Post.

Unlike any other metropolitan newspaper, the Evening Post is stronger for restricting its circle of subscribers. By deliberate policy, it reaches upward to select its circulation. Among the 18 out of 1,000 New Yorkers who read it, a quorum of the wealthiest and most able is generally admitted to be present. Through this newspaper the large investors are reached with the maximum coverage and authority, at lowest cost.

Chic Wardrobes

Need Never Be Extravagant Ones
If They Are Cleverly Assembled Here in Our

Specialized Sections

Here so many chic women achieve that well-groomed, latest-fashion air which they hadn't thought to be within their incomes. Here they have learned the secret not only of having smart, carefully chosen frocks and coats, but of having more of them than they had ever thought possible.

Especially this season, when variety has become such an important aspect of the wardrobe, are these sections a boon to the woman who follows style—for here she finds all of the which distinguish the very newest modes. And she finds them cleverly adapted with restraint and understanding—and good workmanship, as well.

Evening Frocks Combine New Fashions $17.50

The Long Full Skirt—

A formal frock of rayon satin has a tight, long bodice, shirred on either side. This accentuates the length and fullness of the skirt, which is slightly longer in the back. It comes in green, pink, maize, and blue, in sizes 14 years to "38." Left above. Moderate Price Frock Section.

And the Fitted Hips—

Bias bands are used to accent the hipline of this rayon satin formal frock. They are joined at the back to form the effect of a train. Godets are low-set in front to add to the flare of the skirt. Green, peach, orchid, blue, and pink. 14 to 18. Moderate Price Section. Right above.

GAMES TONIGHT.
Chicago at Los Angeles.
Toronto at N. Y. Rangers.

BY HAKLAND ROHM.

Chicago opens the hockey season at the Coliseum at 8:30 tonight with the Blackhawks, in second place in the American division of the national league, playing the Ottawa Senators, leaders of the Canadian division. Indications point to a near sell out.

Not only will hockey fans see for the first time the new style of game under the rule changes but they will see a new team in the Blackhawks. Second place was something undreamed of last year and the Hawks are nearer a Stanley cup right now than they have been for three years.

A victory will put the Hawks in a tie for first place in the division.

New Rules Speed Up Game.

The rule changes, which were designed to cut down whistle blowing, speeding of play for face-offs and increasing the number of goals scored, have succeeded beyond all expectations. In the first fourteen games this year, 115 goals have been scored, in contrast to 40 goals in the first 14 games last year. Forty-two goals were scored in the five games Tuesday night. Hockey, fast as it was, has been speeded up.

But the game has changed no less than the Chicago team. Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, president of the Blackhawks, started the rebuilding process last year with the purchase of Vic Ripley and Mush March, and continued it through the winter. The result is a fast scoring hockey team which held Toronto and Los Angeles down and swamped the Americans 4 to 1 and the Ducks 2 to 1.

Primarily the Hawks this year are a team of kids. Eleven of the fifteen men on the squad are 24 years old and younger. One is 25, while the only ones who could be called veterans in point of age are Ty Arthur, 32, Duffy Abel, 28, and Duke Dutkowski, 25.

Six of that squad of fifteen were not wearing the white and black uniforms of Chicago in last year's campaign. Duffy Abel, huge defenseman, was bought from the New York Rangers, but the others are youngsters from minor leagues who have shown tremendous speed and scoring ability in early games. Earl Miller, a member of the Hawks and recalled from Kitchener, led the Canadian Pro league in scoring last year. Tommy Cook, obtained from Tulsa, led the American association in scoring, and Frank Ingram, with St. Paul last year, was third. Art Somers, playing with Vancouver last year, led the Pacific coast league in scoring.

Burns and Ingram Out.

That's quite an array of scoring ability on one hockey club, especially when it is combined with Ty Arthur, Vic Ripley, Johnny Gottsalle, Mush March, and Bobby Burns. Burns and Ingram won't be able to get into tonight's game, as the speedy but hard hit Bobby, who was out most of last year with a broken elbow, is recovering from an attack of diphtheria. Ingram broke a chip from a shoulder blade in practice and will be out two weeks more.

The defense of Taylor and Wentworth is naturally stronger by the addition of Abel, and Duke Dutkowski, who stood out as a defenseman with Kansas City last year, also has been recalled. Dick Irvin, who is retiring from play this year to coach, and Dutkowski are the only members of the Portland Rosebuds, who formed the original Blackhawks, still with the team.

The Hawks are ready for the season with an improved team but they are likely to have their troubles tonight with the Senators.

Galesburg Newsboy, 13,
Dies of Football Injury

Galesburg, Ill., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—An injury to his leg received while playing football caused the death here today of Lyle Green, 13 year old newsboy. He was hurt scrimmaging with other carriers.

PUCK HAWK

Vic Ripley, stocky center of the Chicago Blackhawks, who has deserted his summer job of selling cows at the Calgary stockyards to don hockey pads again. The Hawks open their home season against the Ottawa Senators tonight.

Here's Primer
Hockey Fans

If you know your ice hockey, this is not for you. It is intended solely as a simple explanation of the game for those to whom hockey is a new sport, for those who are interested in the opening of the National Hockey League season at the Coliseum tonight, but do not know the principles of the game.

Hockey is played on an ice rink approximately 200 feet in length and 85 feet in width. Six players constitute a team—a goal keeper who guards the goal, two defense men, and a forward or attacking line of a center and two wingers. The goal is a net strung on two posts four feet high and six feet apart, set ten feet from each end of the rink. The puck is of vulcanized rubber, three inches in diameter and an inch thick.

Goals are scored by flipping this puck into the net with hockey sticks, which are limited to 35 inches in length and three inches in width in the blade. Players may try to prevent the scoring of a goal by body checking, similar to blocking in football. Infractions of the rules are: Carrying the stick above the shoulder, holding an opponent, tripping, loafing in the attacking zone, cross checking (blocking with the stick held across the chest), body checking an opponent into the sides of the rink, charging from behind, roughing a goal keeper, throwing a stick. Penalties are imposed by sending the player to the penalty box (without permitting a substitute) for from two to twenty minutes.

Sixty feet out from each goal a blue line is drawn across the ice. For each team the zones are named, defense, neutral and offensive in that order from the goal defended to the goal attacked. A player may pass the puck to a teammate in any direction in any zone. But a player may not pass from one zone into another, unless the player receives the pass without preceding it in a legal pass. Practically this prohibits forward passing across any blue line, though occasionally a player is fast enough to follow the pass across a line and catch up with the puck.

The attacking trio (the center and wings) may not retire into their own defense area in advance of the puck. In other words, if Ripley, Arthur and March of the Blackhawks have made an unsuccessful pass on Ottawa's goal, the three Hawks may not race ahead of the opponent who recused the puck to turn and check him. They may try to steal the puck from behind, by back checking, but the opponent has to get past only two defense men. This rule, new this year, has been one of the

RIVAL CAPTAINS
PALS IN SUMMER,
BUT SATURDAY?Maroon, Husky Leaders
Foes at Stagg Field.

It's rare that a couple of football players who trained together during the summer vacation meet on opposing teams in a football game, but the long arm of coincidence goes even further in Saturday's meeting of the University of Washington Huskies and Chicago's Maroons. Capt. Paul Jessup of the Maroons spent last summer together "mucking" in a silver-lead mine at Mullen, Idaho. Not only that, but off shift they would line up against each other, Kelly playing an end and Jessup a tackle for a bit of pre-season drill.

Jessup, most famed man on the Husky squad because of his 6 feet 7 inches of height, is the son of a traffic policeman in Bellingham, Wash., which leads easily to some such remark as a "cop" and a "traffic" tower. Tall Paul, however, is carrying on in his father's footsteps, for he's paying his way through college by working as a deputy sheriff of King county, the particular job being turnkey in the jail at night. As long as all the cells are locked he can study in peace, which may be one reason he's an honor student.

Weight Man on Track Team.

He played two years at tackle before being shifted to center this year, and Jessup is a center of the track team. Despite his great height, Jessup doesn't play basketball in college, though he did in high school.

While Kelly is no midget, weighing 196 pounds, he's far from Jessup's size, but the Husky will be up against a bigger man Saturday. At center he'll face Buck Weaver, the 6 foot 4 inch, 285 pound Arkansas who, by the way, also is a shot putter. The third when those two come together should shake the foundations of Bartlett gymnasium.

Kelly bears the distinction of "being" a member of the Maroon team since he was 6 years old. He was born and reared around the University of Chicago, and as a youngster would scale the fence to watch practice.

Husky Enjoy Snow.

As a prep at St. Ignace, Kelly played football and captained the team in his senior year. So it's not much wonder that he now leads the Maroons.

The Huskies polliwoked through a practice in the white flakes and icy winds at Soldiers' field yesterday. And they liked it. There was no scrimmage, except dummy work, of course, with the main cogs in the Husky machine working on ways and means of stopping the Maroons' flank passes.

Ramsay, the lad who had a slight concussion of the brain from a jolt in the first practice, was back in uniform, but a new casualty appeared in Thurle Thornton, a half back, Thornton, the only vegetarian on the squad, has developed a boil on his knee, while temporarily painful, is expected to be completely cured by Saturday.

MAROONS POLISH ATTACK

Coach A. A. Stagg is prepared to present probably the most versatile attack he has ever taught a Chicago team on Saturday, when the Maroons close their season with Washington on Stagg field.

This week the Old Man has demonstrated more formations. Now it seems that his team can go through the entire game without duplicating a play. Most of the attack is based on the flank formation, with passes the crux of the offensive tactics.

Stagg worked one outfit on defense last night with the yearling team, using a shift similar to that used by Washington.

THEY'LL MEET IN PREP TITLE FIGHT

Not Even Whisper
Players Ponder

If it's a world series contest a fan may razz the umpire or the team till his throat is raw. That's baseball. If it's a national open golf tournament he may even cough as Jones or Hagen sinks the winning putt and get away with it. But ladies and gentlemen, at the national championship rounds now in progress at the Drake Hotel, you can't even whisper.

It also is bridge temperament, if you prefer. But it constitutes the rules established yesterday by some of the leading players of the country who are in Chicago to demonstrate what can be done in auction and contract bridge. The event is the third annual national tournament under auspices of the American Bridge league. An array of trophies, some tremendous and some small, will be distributed among the winners.

Bans were laid on spectators yesterday, not by the officials, but at the request of the competitors themselves. So the scattering fringe of interested onlookers who had thought to profit by peering over the shoulders of the champions as they led, fanned and took in their tricks, were unceremoniously shooed out of the sacred confines of the double rows of tables. And a great quiet fell, wherein the flipping of the pastboards on the polished surface of the tables was the only sound that ruffled the churchly silence of the main dining room of the Drake, cleared for the occasion.

The intense abstraction with which the outstanding players of the country, grouped around these card tables, consider their plays could be forgiven by any bridge enthusiast who ever attempted to make good on a bid of four spades, doubled and redoubled. Or even on two no trump, not doubted. But those to whom counting their trumps means nothing and going set doubled even less, will find it foolish beyond compare.

Feminine members of the league who will be conspicuous in the play include Mrs. E. D. Stahl, Miss Margaret Beech, Mrs. H. E. Parsons, and Mrs. C. W. Nokes. Aurora, and A. N. Birch, Aurora; Blake C. Hooper, Cleveland; and Mrs. J. E. Bruns, Minneapolis.

Winning pairs in contract qualifying rounds: Mrs. John Osborne, Milwaukee, and Mrs. Lewis Thomson, Chicago; Mrs. A. G. Keck, Winnetka, and Mrs. Arthur McDermott, Evanston; Zina J. Frost, Aurora, and A. N. Birch, Aurora; Blake C. Hooper, Cleveland; and Mrs. J. E. Bruns, Minneapolis.

Gabby's Tonsil
Out—Positively
the Last One

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The bit of tonsil that escaped when the surgeons conducted a search of Gabby Hartnett's throat last summer finally has been captured. Whether it means a recovery of the Cub star's former ability to throw remains to be seen. At least, it will help, in the opinion of Dr. Richard Street, who performed the operation on Tuesday at the Chicago Memorial hospital.

Blame Tonsil for Sore Arm.

Hartnett, who went home immediately after the job of surgery had been completed, now will await developments, if any. Dr. Street inclined to the belief that infection from the tonsil had been causing the pain in the catcher's arm. After a period of time calculated as sufficient to eliminate the poison, if any, Gabby will put the arm to some kind of strenuous test, and if it feels O. K. nothing more will be done.

Another item touched on by William Veck, Cub president, yesterday was a possible trade for Dazzy Vance, the Robins' hurler. Reports have persisted that Vance would blossom out in a set of Wrigley's flannels next season, but there seems to be some exaggeration involved. The Cubs have not made any bids for Vance. Neither are any going to be made, unless the Chicago bosses have a change of heart. Briefly, Vance isn't wanted here, despite the fact that he can pitch when he feels so inclined.

Seek Burelligh Grimes.

As for Burelligh Grimes, something else can be said. The star spitballer is supposed to be on the block because of a run-in with Jewel Ens, who succeeded Donie Bush as Pirates manager late last season. The Chicago club has made no inquiry in the matter, but as soon as President Veck meets up with Barney Dreyfuss, the Pittsburgh owner, there will be an attempt at a deal of some kind. To capture Grimes the Cubs would have to give up talent, but could do this without hurting themselves if Dreyfuss didn't ask too much.

It now is practically certain that the 1930 major league dates will be shortened by a week. The final date will be Sunday, Sept. 23, instead of Oct. 6, as was the case this fall. Presidents Heydler of the National and Barnard of the American favor the shortening, and that makes it almost a certainty that it will be put over. The opening date already has been set for April 15.

Arlington Track
Stock Redemption

BY FRENCH LANE.

The American National Jockey club has begun the work of retiring $500,000 of the preferred stock in the corporation. In line with its policy to operate the big Arlington Park turf plant on a nonprofit basis the redemption is being made at par without interest.

The $500,000 was part of the profits the 29 day race meeting conducted last July netted. It will redeem 20 per cent of the preferred stock.

When the group of wealthy Chicago sportsmen took over the track early in the year they put up $2,500,000, for which they received preferred stock. There was a provision that the stock wasn't to pay dividends. Thus, while they are beginning to get some of their money back out of the sporting proposition, profits and interest are missing.

The total profits for the July meeting was about $800,000, and the $200,000 not used in the redemption of preferred stock is being put into improved tracks and into increased purses and stakes for the next racing season. It was announced by Charles A. McCulloch, who is chairman of the board of directors in the nonprofit organization.

Chicagoans have been active bidders in Kentucky during the last two days, where the annual fall thoroughbred horse sales have been under way.

Richard J. Nash, whose horses race under the racing house of the Valley Lake stable, made a number of purchases, paying $5,000 for a yearling son of Westy Hogan-Dress Up. Other Chicago buyers included E. J. Lehmann, W. H. Goeltz, and Jake Lowenstein. C. J. Fitzgerald bought numerous horses, and it is believed he was acting for a number of Chicago sportsmen. B. S. Michell, former trainer for Mrs. J. D. Hertz, also purchased several young horses for racing this winter in his own interest at Arka Caliente.

ENGLEWOOD GETS
GAME IN DALLAS

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Englewood High school of Chicago has been invited to play a New Year's day game against a selection of Dallas high school players. The proposed contest would be sponsored by Arabia Shrine temple.

ENGLEWOOD UNDECEDED.

Englewood officials last night were unable to say whether the team would accept the Dallas game. There has been talk of the game, but nothing definite accomplished, it was announced.

MISSTEP EASILY
WINS HANDICAP;
IS DISQUALIFIEDBateau Gets First Place
Karl Eitel Second.

Bowie, Md., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Misstep, the middle weight's foremost candidate for 1929 handicap honors, failed to get credit for coming in first on a fast Bowie track today, but in losing he put in an impressive bid for the rich Southern Maryland handicap, to be decided Saturday.

The great four year old from the Le Mar stock farm raced back to his early season form to down a classy field of routers in the White Marsh handicap at a mile and a sixteenth, but was disqualified. As a result the official placing read: Bateau, first; Karl Eitel, second; Gaffman, third.

With M. Garner in the saddle, Misstep was rated along back of the pace to the turn into the stretch. Here he was allowed to swerve to the inside, blocking Bateau, a speedy daughter of Man of War, carrying the silks of W. M. Jeffords. Misstep went on to win easily by a length and a half, with Bateau second.

Jockey Ambrose, however, immediately lodged a claim of foul, which was upheld by the stewards. J. J. Coughlin's three year old, Karl Eitel, was moved up to second and the Canadian owned Gaffman, from the Seagrass stable, placed third.

PREP ELEVEN SPEED PRACTICE FOR TITLE GAMES

With the public high school football championship at stake, as well as the right to represent their league against the Catholic league champion, Schurz and Lindblom are hard at work in preparation for their gridiron battle Saturday afternoon at Soldiers' field. Coaches Bob Koehler of Schurz and E. L. Moore of Lindblom have been driving their boys all week, but promise a letup after another rigorous session today.

Largely due to the ability of Capt. Febel to kick points after touchdowns and the weight of the south sides, Lindblom is conceded an edge. And if there is any doubt about Febel's teammates giving him chances to try placements after touchdowns, let ten defeated teams attest to Lindblom's scoring power.

Schurz has an alert aggregation that can be depended upon to give Lindblom a test. But tabulations of past games bringing together eleven of the north and south sides in championship battles show that superiority rests with the south side. With the exception of victories of Lane and Schurz in recent years, Englewood, Lindblom, or Hyde Park has shattered hopes of north side routers.

The championship of the Catholic league will be decided Sunday at Soldiers' field, with De Paul and De La Salle, finalists last year, when the former triumphed, renewing their rivalry.

SPORTSMAN HAS
OF POST, REPORTRing Board Checks
"Ticket Scandal."

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Affairs of the $7,000,000 Chicago Stadium yesterday continued in more or less of an up-ramp. While the executive committee of the stadium, led by the board of directors was striving valiantly to effect the appointment of a new president, the Ring Board checked the "Ticket Scandal."

The name of Clark, which bobs up almost every time there's a sport crisis in Chicago, appeared in the reorganization plans of the stadium. Mr. Clark, vice president and general manager of the Sinclair Refining company, long known nationally as one of Chicago's sportsmen and capitalists, has been tendered the presidency of the stadium corporation, according to dispatches last night.

The reports said that Mr. Clark tentatively had told New York and Chicago financial and sports interests that he seriously would consider accepting the post were he formally elected.

It is explained that the selection of Mr. Clark would be looked upon by certain of the stadium directors as a boon to sports, which would bring a close cooperation between the New York Madison Square Garden, the stadium's greatest rival, and the local amusement palace.

Would Be Born to Sports.

Mr. Clark's election, it is said, is desired by Chicago men of affluence who have invested heavily in the stadium corporation and virtually is demanded by New York financial interests affiliated with the Garden corporation, with the proviso, of course, that Mr. Clark will take the job and actively direct its destinies.

Added to the mass of contradictions, confusion, and general scurrying about yesterday was the statement of Gen. Clinlin that for five weeks he has been conducting an investigation of the stadium's returns on ticket sales.

Gen. Clinlin said his investigation had not progressed to the point where he was able to charge connivance of any kind, but that he had established that the count to the commission had been $1,350 short on each of the last stadium boxing shows.

The investigation included a search of the records of the printing concern which furnishes the stadium tickets, according to Gen. Clinlin.

Gen. Clinlin said he would make a demand on the stadium management for back taxes as soon as he can determine the exact amount he alleges is due.

Harmen Denies Charge.

Paddy Harmen commented upon Gen. Clinlin's statement as follows: "Although a stadium official who has not resigned has been in charge of the tickets, I consider the statement a part of the plan to discredit me."

"The charge is preposterous purely as a matter of mathematics, if nothing else. The man in charge of ticket sales must make affidavit as to the number of tickets he has received and this must be with the number given in the printer's affidavit. When the check up comes, the sales and the tickets must balance the amount of tickets printed. Any discrepancy would show up immediately.

"If persons did come in on tickets other than those regularly printed they would have to get by the inspectors and the inspectors are hired by the commission, not the stadium."

Conferred in New York.

According to dispatches from New York last night, which brought Mr. Clark's name to the fore, a delegation composed of J. J. Mitchell, James Norris, Harold Strots and Sidney Strots went to New York a month ago, and there conferred with Dick Hoyt, a broker and a director of the Garden corporation, who was one of the guiding spirits with Tex Rickard in the financial promotion which resulted in the building of the new Madison Square Garden.

What transpired in the conference has not been revealed either here or in New York, but it is said that the day of the New York pilgrimage Paddy Harmon was slated for ouster as head of the $7,000,000 project he conceived and promoted to realization.

Several days ago, according to the New York version of developments, a committee called on Mr. Clark to ascertain his views on the matter of the presidency. It is said he at first demurred but yesterday advised an official of the Stadium that he "had not definitely turned down the proposition."

Committee Met Yesterday.

This report, of course, is in direct disagreement with Mr. Clark's statement that he never has been approached in the matter and that he obviously could not decline an invitation he never had received.

A meeting of the Stadium executive committee had been called for 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon for the announced purpose of electing a new president. However, after the call for Friday had been issued a hasty summons for a meeting yesterday afternoon was sent out and the executive committee convened at the office of James Norris for the second meeting on successive days.

Here again the New York Garden and the Chicago Stadium versions of the goings-on diverge.

New York says the precipitate, secret meeting was held so that Sidney Strotz, secretary-treasurer of the Stadium, could spread the good news that Mr. Clark had consented to head the reorganization. The Chicago end, Mr. Strotz speaking, is that despite his hurry up nature the meeting was purely routine and accomplished nothing.

How Mr. Clark Became Director.

Last night's reports gave further credence to the rumor that Jack Dempsey is in line to become fight director of the Stadium. According to the rumored plan, he would confine his work to athletic promotions.

Mr. Clark is not one of the heavy stockholders in the Stadium corporation. When asked about the reports that Mr. Clark was to succeed him, Mr. Harmon said he thought it would be a successful move, but would comment no further on the rumored negotiations.

Harmon said that he had recognized Mr. Clark's standing as a sportsman when he induced him to become a member of the board of directors. "When Maj. McLaughlin withdrew from the directorate I went to Mr. Clark to ask him to fill the place," Harmon said. "Mr. Clark told me he would not invest in the stock, but consented to join the directorate. I made him eligible by registering one share of stock in his name."

A New York newspaper yesterday, before the special meeting in Chicago, printed a piece to the effect that Jack Kearns, manager of Mickey Walker and former manager of Jack Dempsey, had been offered the Stadium job.

A. A. U. Action Sports Boon, Says Griffith

Action taken at the annual convention of the A. A. U. in St. Louis whereby university and college athletes need not register with the A. A. U. for open competition goes a long way toward healing the breach between these groups.

Maj. John L. Griffith, athletic commissioner of the western conference and a member of several committees of the National Collegiate A. A., yesterday asserted such action was the thing colleges and universities had fought for years. It was the contention of the university and college officials that if athletes were eligible to compete in intercollegiate athletics they certainly were eligible to take part in A. A. U. competition without registering.

The new ruling is expected to pave the way for greatly increased competition among universities and colleges and the athletic clubs. E. C. Delaporte, athletic director of the C. A. A., has scheduled two hockey games with Minnesota, and negotiations now are pending for several swimming meets with colleges.

Although the universities and colleges have won the major point in the controversy with the A. A. U., there still is one more matter that may or may not be settled at the annual convention of the National Collegiate A. A. in New York City during the holidays. For years the N. C. A. A. has sought representation on the American Olympic committee. This committee previously had been composed entirely of A. A. U. men despite the fact American Olympic teams were made up mostly of college athletes.

BREAK GROUND FOR NEW YACHT CLUB NOV. 30

Arrangements were completed yesterday for the breaking of ground for the new Chicago Yacht club at the foot of Monroe street. It has been decided to break ground with an anchor, something which has never been done before, according to Chairman George Getz. The ceremonies will take place at 12:45 p. m. on Nov. 30.

All members of the yacht club and those of other boat organizations will be invited to be present. Rear Admiral Crossley, commandant at Great Lakes Naval Training station, will be on hand with his staff. The Great Lakes band also will be present, in addition to 200 Sea Scouts.

Piling will be driven as soon as possible so that it will have a chance to settle during the winter. Construction will start on March 1 and the building, which will be one of the finest of its kind in the world, will be ready for occupancy on Jan. 1, 1931. George Woodruff is the present commodore of the club.

MEXICAN TEAM LOSES, 28 TO 0, TO MISSISSIPPI

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Mississippi college defeated the University of Mexico today in the second game of intercollegiate football ever played in Mexico. The score was 28 to 0. The game was a part of the dedication ceremony of the Workers' Athletic field at Valbuena. The Mexican team lost its first game to Louisiana college, 59 to 0, on Oct. 5. Mississippi smashed over three touchdowns in the first quarter for a 21 to 0 lead. Mexico found itself after this period and held the American team scoreless until late in the final period when Mississippi put over a fourth score.

Deer Barber Shop in North Woods Keeps Bucks Trim

BY BOB BECKER.

Deer in the north woods will soon "yard up" for the winter. Believing in the old adage, "In union there is strength," the deer group together in small bands, pick a dense thicket (such as a cedar swamp), and there make a stand against the elements and the wolves.

Such a location is known as a "deer yard." Michigan is granting protection to areas in which the white tails assemble, and in some counties feed is provided during the most severe part of the winter.

When we were in the upper peninsula of Michigan a few days ago one of the most interesting deer signs was what the old woodsmen with us called a "deer barber shop." Such a "shop" is nothing more than a young sapling against which the bucks rub their horns when they are getting rid of the velvet.

One day when three of us were hunting a cut-over section we observed several of these trees which had served to give "treatments" to the bucks' heads. It was apparent that the animals liked to come out of the timber and feed on the grass in the open glade. And here the bucks would come to rub their antlers against young saplings. Some of the young trees had been used so much that every bit of the bark was scraped off close to the ground.

MARQUETTE GRID SQUAD WORKS AGAINST FROSH

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 20.—(Special.)—Working on a frozen field, the Marquette university varsity romped through stiff offensive and defensive scrimmage against the freshmen eleven here this afternoon, shining on offense but playing below par on defense.

A back field composed of Johnny Slak, Emmet Klaus, Mel Brosseau and Myles Graney, all sophomores, bore the brunt of the ball carrying and delivered several touchdowns.

Defensively, the varsity was slipshod against the freshmen who were using plays which probably will be tried here on Thanksgiving day by the Marquette's Kansas Aggies. The Aggies play Nebraska at Manhattan Saturday for the Big Six conference championship.

All varsity regulars, with one exception, were in uniform today. Co-Capt. Ken Radick, right tackle, and more recently right end, still is favoring an injury received in the Boston college game and was replaced on the wing by Walter Welch, a reserve guard.

Hugh McQuillan Marries Chorus Girl in Rye, N. Y.

New York, Nov. 20.—(Special.)—Hugh McQuillan, who in his day was one of the bad boys of major league baseball, was married in Rye, N. Y., last Saturday to Gladys Nelson, of the "Sweet Adeline" ensemble. It was learned today, McQuillan was a pitcher for the New York Giants, and while on that team he divided his time between winning ball games and ducking process servers who were trying to haul Hugh to court to pay his alimony.

Zorilla and O'Down Fight to a Draw in Cincinnati

Hoffman Due Here Today for Marriner Bout

George Hoffman will arrive from New York this morning to complete preparations for his bout with Les Marriner in the windup of Jack Dempsey's show at the Coliseum Tuesday night. He will work this afternoon at the Barry gymnasium.

Two years ago Hoffman represented New York in the intercity amateur Golden Gloves tournament here. Appearing in the final bout, Hoffman had to beat his man to tie the Chicago team. He came through with flying colors and displayed as much skill as most present professional heavyweights.

Dempsey has arranged an all-heavyweight card. Profits of the show will go into a Christmas basket fund.

Pelecio to Fight Shea.

Eddie Shea, west side featherweight, and Babe Pelecio of Newark, N. J., have been matched in the banner event of Promoter James C. Muller's show at White City Monday night. It will be the Newark fighter's first appearance in Chicago.

Last Tuesday Pelecio stopped Herman Silverberg in California. Previous to this fight Shea and Silverberg met, and the latter cut Eddie around the face so badly he was compelled to cancel his engagement with Chick Suggs. They will box eight rounds at 130 pounds.

Joe Packo, a Hungarian light heavyweight, has been signed to meet Johnny Burns in the eight round semi-windup. The Hungarian is credited with victories over Chuck Wiggins and Yale Okum and a draw with Tommy Loughran.

Griffith Trains for Uscudun.

Mike Dundee, who stopped Suggs in two rounds last Tuesday night, will clash with Eddie Anderson of Moline in another eight-rounder. Harry Pierre and Jackie Stewart, local 122 pounders, will meet in the other eight round bout. Two four round openers will round out the card.

Do You Know Ice Hockey? Here's a Primer for New Fans

factors in nearly tripling the number of goals scored.

The puck may be kicked in any area, but a goal scored by kicking or throwing does not count. Any player may stop a flying puck with his hands but every one, including the goal keeper, must get rid of it immediately.

A player may not loaf in his attacking zone, that is, near the opponent's net, but on losing the puck must return to the neutral zone. This avoids "planting" a player near the net, to be "fed" by long passes.

The puck must at all times be kept in motion toward the opponent's goal, except as prevented by players of the opposing side. Backward passes, if deliberate, may be penalized by "benching" the player making the pass for two minutes and putting the puck in play ten feet in front of his goal, with no one permitted between the point of face-off and the goal but the goal keeper. Face-offs, which is the manner of starting the game, as well as putting the puck in play after every infraction of rule or penalty, consists of tossing the puck between the centers of the opposing teams by the referee.

These are essentials to the understanding of hockey. This explanation is made entirely on the basis of the hockey as it is being played in the major league.

NOTRE DAME TO MEET WILDCATS WITHOUT ROCKNE

"Stay in Bed a Week," Doctor Tells Coach.

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Knute Rockne will not be on the sidelines directing Notre Dame's attack against Northwestern at Evanston Saturday. He agreed today to stay in bed for another week nursing a blood clot on his leg.

Assistant Coach Tom Lieb, who had charge of the Notre Dame forces against Georgia Tech and Drake, will supervise preparations and accompany the team to Evanston. It is doubtful whether Rockne will be in condition to go to New York on Nov. 30 for the Army game.

Shock Troops Drill in Snow.

Snow again forced the varsity indoors today. The shock troops were sent outside for about 15 minutes to get used to the weather conditions under which they may have to perform Saturday. They rolled about in six inches of snow in an offensive scrimmage against a picked freshman eleven until they looked like so many snow men.

The varsity worked inside under Assistant Coach Tom Lieb on defense against Northwestern plays. Lieb lined up his purple jerseyed reserves explained each known formation of the Wildcats, and then sent the first team into a shadow scrimmage against them.

The shock troops had live scrimmages against the same reserve club and had little trouble in stopping Purple thrusts, although they were fooled several times on passes and a double reverse play.

Will Present Full Strength.

Rockne will be able to send his full strength against Dick Hanley's men this Saturday since the squad is entirely devoid of cripples for the first time this year. Frank Leahy was back from a second series of hurts this season.

Tom Conley was still at right end, but Manfred Vesia, varsity man, will be able to play this week. Ed Collins and John Colrick alternated at left end in today's drill and both will no doubt see action this week. Dick Donaghy, who has been understudying Leahy, will get into the Evanston fray.

No indication was given today from the weather man that Notre Dame will be able to hold regular practice outside this week or possibly next week in preparation for its Northwestern and Army games. Snow continued to fall this evening and a thaw would leave the Cartier practice field too muddy for any effective work.

MOON MULLINS—A CHANCE FOR JOHN GILBERT

Notre Dame Tough? So Are We—Wildcats

Cold winter blasts sweeping off Lake Michigan yesterday served to stimulate the zest with which the Wildcats gridders continued their task of getting ready for the visit of Notre Dame Saturday.

Snow flurries and near zero breezes kept the Purple clad warriors stepping at a fast pace as they went through a long dummy scrimmage against the freshmen.

"Notre Dame is tough, but so are we," appears to be the sentiment in the Wildcat camp. Purple players have respect for the ability of the Ramblers, but feel that they are not unbeatable.

A Wildcat lineman summed up the situation as follows: "Notre Dame has a lot of tough players. But we are tough, too. In football one tough player isn't much better than another tough one. We can hand them just as much as they hand us."

The slowness with which Al Moore's injured side is responding to treatment has caused Coach Hanley to make several shifts in his back field. Bill Calderwood, a senior playing his last game, has been shifted from full back over to Moore's post at left half.

He worked out in that position yesterday and may get the call to start Saturday.

Larry Oliphant, regular right end, is still somewhat cracked up from the Ohio fracas and may be replaced by Bob Gonyea. Gonyea is running signals with the first string and appears to be a likely starter.

Coach Hanley is pleased with the playing of Englebristen at tackle and may give him a chance to open hostilities against the Irish.

Big Ten Rings Down Curtain on 1929 Football Saturday

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Although the Notre Dame-Northwestern struggle at Evanston will command the interest of central states football fans Saturday, other Western conference games will attract their followings.

For instance, Illinois and Ohio State will meet at Columbus to determine which shall occupy second in the Big Ten. Each team has won two games, lost one and tied one. Illinois fell before Northwestern and tied Iowa. The Orange and Blue were victorious over Michigan and Chicago. Ohio State was tied by Indiana and lost to Northwestern. The Buckeyes won from Iowa and Michigan.

Since the beginning of football relations between these two universities, their annual battles have been closely fought. Several times either team has scored victories in the closing seconds of play. Saturday's game will mark the final contest for both elevens.

Homecoming for Hoosiers.

Wisconsin, which defeated Chicago but lost to Northwestern, Iowa and Purdue, will take on Minnesota. The Badgers and Gophers will mingle at Minneapolis. Minnesota has won two games and lost a like number this season.

Indiana, which upset Northwestern last Saturday, will clash with Purdue, newly crowned Big Ten champion, at Bloomington. It will be homecoming time for the Hoosiers. Although Purdue appears by far the stronger, anything may happen in this battle. In former years the best team has not always won and the same may be true Saturday.

Michigan, which has defeated Harvard and Minnesota in its last two starts, will clash with Iowa at Ann Arbor.

Ruth Asks $85,000 Salary for One Season, Report

French Lick Springs, Ind., Nov. 20.—[U.P.]—It was reported here today that Babe Ruth, home run king of the New York Yankees, will ask $85,000 for a one year contract and $75,000 annually under a two year agreement. Col. Jack Ruppert, Yankee owner, who is here to confer with the Babe about signing, said that there would be no argument about the Ruth contract, adding that it probably would not be signed until January in New York after the major league meetings.

The results were so convincing that, through his great newspaper, he was personally responsible for thousands of men and women taking The Keeley Treatment for Liquor.

WHY!—"Less strokes to the shave More shaves to the blade"

Swede-a-Chrome Steel

The blade principles used in the perfect new Dunhill Blade were made possible only by the invention of a new steel—Swede-a-Chrome. The use of Swede-a-Chrome Steel is an exclusive Dunhill feature!

2½ Times Thicker

The vital thickness of the Dunhill Blade is 2½ times that of the usual wafer blade. As a result we are enabled to give the edges a much finer tempering and a far superior hardening.

(NON-CRACKABLE)

Hollow-Ground Edges

The extra thickness of the Dunhill Blade permits a depth of shaving edge much greater than that of the usual wafer blade. As a result we are able to give the edges genuine hollow grinding!

Concaved Centers

The center portion of the Dunhill Blade is concaved on both sides. Thus the thinner center takes on the curve of the razor while the thicker edges remain rigid—at the correct shaving angle!

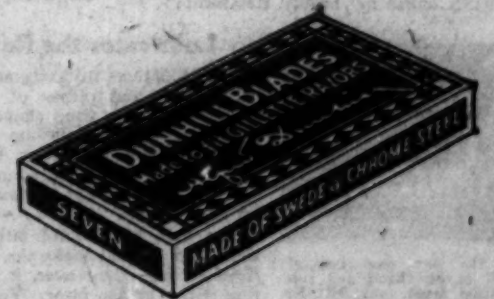

THESE four features of the Dunhill Blade are the reasons why it requires "less strokes to the shave" and gives "more shaves to the blade" than any other safety razor blade you have ever used! Thousands of men have already proved the truth of this statement by actual test. They have proved to themselves that the perfect new Dunhill Blade heralds the era of a new shaving comfort—a new shaving speed—a new shaving economy! One packet of Dunhill Blades will prove this to you, too. Buy a packet today—wherever razor blades are sold.

MICHIGAN SQUAD DRILLS DESPITE COLD AND SNOW

Outdoor Workout Forces Players to Step Lively.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Neither a blinding snow, which left the ground covered with a three inch blanket, nor the bitter cold which numbed hands, could keep Michigan's varsity indoors as preparations for the finale with Iowa here Saturday were continued today.

Howard Poe, veteran guard, who will play his final game Saturday, reported, though not in uniform, and was worked in a bit in his "civilian" He will be ready for action tomorrow, and Trainer Hoyt has given assurance that the entire squad, with the possible exception of Hudson, injured in the Harvard battle, will be in condition Saturday.

AT IOWA.

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Iowa's Hawkeyes will aim to reduce Michigan's advantage over Hawkeye eleven at Ann Arbor Saturday. The Wolverines have won four of six games with the Hawkeyes and in 1922 piled up a 107-0 score, which drove the Hawkeyes from the Michigan schedule for 21 years.

AT WISCONSIN.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Twelve Wisconsin varsity gridironers will practice their last time tomorrow under Cardinal colors, as the Badgers prepare for their season's finale at Minneapolis Saturday. Those for whom the practice will be the last include Capt. John Parks, Muskogee, Okla., guard; Harold Rehbock, full back, and William Sheehan, quarter back, Portage, Wis.; Lewis Smith, end, Jefferson, O.; Ebert Warren, end, Akron, O.; Bill Kettler, tackle, Lake Delavan, Wis.; John Line, guard, Madison; August Bachus, guard, Milwaukee; Don Dunaway, full back, Racine, Wis.; Harry Hansen, center, Cleveland, O.; Edward Swiderski, guard, Duluth, Minn.; and Larry Shomaker, tackle, Herrin, Ill.

AT MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Another casualty was discovered today in the University of Minnesota football squad as the Gophers were driven indoors by cold and snow. Bert Oja, center, was hurt early in the Michigan game and played to the finish, but today the injury did not respond to treatment with the result he joined the noncombatants. Stein, a sophomore, will have the call against Wisconsin Saturday if Oja can't start.

AT ILLINOIS.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Three Illinois varsity athletic teams will invade the Ohio State campus Saturday and a fourth will engage one Buckeye team here as the fall sport season comes to a close.

The football team seeks to maintain second place in the conference and the soccer eleven needs a second victory over the Ohioans for the Big Ten title. The cross country runners will participate in the conference meet at Columbus while locally, the Ohio State B eleven plays the Illinois reserves.

AT OHIO STATE.

Columbus, O., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Coach Williamson today installed deception into the offensive working of his Ohio State back field. He had first string backs going through signal drill the first part of the afternoon. Later his new trick plays were put into practice against the freshmen.

When the varsity was put on the defense the freshmen made long gains, using Illinois plays. It was only on the forward passing department, that the freshmen failed.

AT LOYOLA.

The Loyola kicking game is in the process of renovation for the Ramblers' battle with South Dakota State Saturday at Loyola. Les Molloy and Tommy Flynn have slumped in their punting, and Coach Lamont has been working them overtime all week.

Purdue Looks at Plays That Beat Wildcats

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Mittened and coated, Purdue's championship football squad slivered through a lengthy drill here this afternoon in preparation for the clash with Indiana Saturday that will determine whether the Boilermakers are to remain in the undefeated class.

Drill in stopping the Indiana offense that scored two touchdowns against Northwestern was emphasized throughout the afternoon.

AT INDIANA.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 20.—[Special.]—Fourteen men on Indiana university's football team will end their careers on the gridiron Saturday in the traditional Indiana-Purdue game here. Last year the Hoosiers lost nine men.

The Indiana line will be the hardest hit. Those who play their last game Saturday are: Kenneth Bennett, Linton, guard; William Shields, Muncie, tackle; J. W. Unger, West Point, Miss., tackle; James Crowe, Markle, end; Carroll Ringwalt, Indianapolis, guard; Frank Hojnacki, Detroit, Mich., guard; Branch McCracken, Monrovia, end; Joe Dudding, Hope, tackle, and Wilbert Callerton, Kenosha, Wis., end.

Five men will be lost from the back field. They are Frank Faunce, Marion, half back; Richard Carlson, Indianapolis, quarter back; John Mag-nabasco, Clinton, full back; Paul Bay-lay, Indianapolis, full back; Lowell Todd, Bedford, full back.

In the Wake of the News

FOOTBALL UPSETS. THAT are termed football upsets this season have been the despair of self-appointed forecasters such as The Wake and others. However disconcerting such upsets may be to "experts" and however disastrous to those who value winning percentages, they are the finest thing possible for the sport itself.

In the Big Ten it has come to the point where almost no issue is a certainty in advance. There are several reasons. There is uniformly good coaching. Possession of the ball changes more often than in the old five yards for first down days. Similarly with the open game there are more breaks.

There is another factor that is difficult to analyze. That is mental morale, or team psychology, or whatever you want to call it. With greater equality of competition there are fewer "soft spots" on any schedule. Eleven are keyed not for one game, but for several. Results appear to prove that an eleven can stand just about so much keying up—then a slump. Several eleven this year have looked like entirely different outfits only a week later.

We join the public in enjoying this situation. No one likes "setups." Passing the title around meets popular favor. Never was a conference champion more warmly welcomed than Purdue. That is, in part, because it is the first title for the Boilermakers; in part, admiration for Purdue persistence and pluck.

The Wake has no desire to shoot deer. Neither have we any desire to

Payne Arrives on West Coast; Bick Bout Is Off

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 20.—[U. P.]—Cecil Payne, bantamweight, who recently conquered Bushy Graham, leader of the division, arrived here today from Louisville, Ky., for a match with Frankie Bick, local favorite, only to find that Promoter Frank Schuler had canceled the match.

England Beats Wales on Soccer Field for 32d Time

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 20.—[U. P.]—England defeated Wales in an international soccer match at Stamford Bridge today, by a goal to 0. The match was the 32d in the series since 1879, and of the series England has won thirty-two games and Wales one while the others have been draws.

Camel has the quality that smokers depend upon is all right to experiment but a pity to spend too much time experimenting when you might be enjoying the fragrant pleasure of smoking Camels.

It has been the experience of many smokers, after trying other brands, that Camels give constant and unflinching pleasure. Their mildness, due to choice tobaccos and expert blending, makes it possible to smoke them liberally without any tiring of the taste. This quality, which smokers have learned to depend upon, will be maintained, because Camels are made for those who know and appreciate the real pleasure of smoking.

when they learn the difference they flock to Camels

"I'm Now Addicted to Mint Julep Shaves!"

"If using BRISK shaving cream means falling off the wagon, I'm taking a headlong plunge," writes R. A. Porter of South Orange, N. J., "I'm 'on' the mint julep shave for life!"

"I've heard the claims of all the various shaving creams and tried them all, but nothing ever did the work like BRISK. Man—just to put it on your face is like a cool breeze on a hot, burned skin! But the way it helps the old razor—you'd never think a whisker had any resistance at all. I now shave in half the time it formerly took and never have any cuts, scratches or soreness. In fact I call my morning BRISK shave my beauty treatment!"

Take the flat, oval box of BRISK in one hand and your moist brush over BRISK.

Start in shaving. Boy! How the whiskers go down before you start when BRISK paves the way.

all day long. BRISK is new, even unto the box made for men only. And it holds an amazing lot of shaves because you have to use so little compared to other shaving creams. Get BRISK now at any good drug store or toilet goods counter—fifty cents.

BRISK has four brothers: ZEST, a refreshing after-shave lotion; TRIM, a hair dressing in cleanly stick form; SMOOTH, a powder that kills shine without shaving powder; STIP, a new type "stipic" that closes cuts pronto!

Lubricates the Razor Stroke.

BRISK lathers instantly and freely in hot or cold water—and plenty of lather is the first requirement of a good shave. BRISK absorbs two to three times the amount of water that old fashioned shaving cream does. Hence it makes two to three times the amount of lather—and a lather that stays moist on your face until you finish your shave!

The rich, moist lather quickly "cuts" the beard oil and soaks the hair soft for easy, clean cutting. Moreover, it lubricates the cutting stroke of the razor. You know how a bit of soap on a saw eases its passage through a log—well, that's how BRISK smooths the path of the razor. The razor does not "pull" or bump along over your face, but glides sweetly over the skin, cutting down the hair cleanly and closely and almost without effort.

Every stroke of the razor does a clean job. No need to go over and over the same spot and "butcher" your face to get a close shave.

Starts the Day Right for You.

The man who starts out with his face feeling clean and looking fit starts out in a winning stride. BRISK gives you the kind of shave that starts the day right for you and keeps you in pace all day long.

Carefully Selected Investments

When the First National Bank of Chicago was established, in 1863, it began to buy high grade bonds. It has bought them during the sixty-six years since that time in increasing volume.

The investment activities of the First National Bank and the First Union Trust and Savings Bank have been concentrated for years in the Bond Department of the latter bank. Through this department hundreds of millions of dollars of the banks' funds, as well as the funds of individuals, corporations, estates, banking institutions and insurance companies have been safely and profitably invested.

Six decades of experience in weighing security values, a broad diversity of issues thoroughly investigated, an investment service of the highest class—these are the major advantages offered to investors who buy from this bank. Inquiries regarding investments are invited without obligation.

PROFIT TAKING OFFSETS BULLISH WHEAT REPORTS

Prices Decline Over 3c;
Corn About Steady.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Profit taking yesterday on several liberal sized lines of long wheat, attributed to Winnipeg and local professional, combined with pressure from houses with eastern and northwestern connections, more than offset increasing reports of rust damage from Argentina.

Prices declined 3 1/2¢ to 4¢ from the final of the previous day, and the close was about at the bottom, with net losses of 2 1/2¢ to 3¢. Buenos Aires was off 2 1/2¢ at the last, and a cable received early in the day said an over-bought condition existed there. Winnipeg lost 3 1/2¢ to 3¢ for the day and Liverpool, 4 1/4¢.

Decline in the wheat market was regarded by a majority of operators as only natural after an upturn of 15¢ within a week, and at the inside prices were off only around 3 1/2¢ from the best figures of Tuesday. Support was less aggressive than of late, and the market showed little disposition to rally. There was buying of Decu and selling of May by cash interests, and also selling of wheat and buying of rye and corn by spreaders.

Rust Spreading in Argentina. Harvesting is on in the northern section of Argentina, and cables claimed that reports regarding light wheat were exaggerated, but there were many reports of the rust spreading over the balance of the country, with serious damage indicated in parts of Cordoba and Santa Fe, and the rust is now being found in southern Buenos Aires. In the latter section harvest will not start for three to four weeks, and the trade generally looks for considerable damage. Estimates on the yield in Cordoba are being cut down, as a failure is indicated in some parts of that province. There was a marked reduction in the foreign demand for cash wheat with no sales of consequence indicated at the seaboard, but the basis at the Gulf was firm, with No. 2 hard quoted at 2c over Chicago December and No. 1 hard at 5c over. A partial holiday on the continent had some effect on the demand.

A bullish construction was placed on the government weekly weather crop report, as winter wheat generally reported in good condition, except in the Pacific northwest, where rain is badly needed. Light snow was reported in Canada.

December Corn Tight. December corn acted tight and responded readily to commission house buying and short covering, with offerings light on the way up. However, the deferred deliveries were weaker, due mainly to local selling on the decline in wheat, with buying against bids checking the decline. The finish was unchanged to 1/4¢ lower. Country holders to arrive were larger with purchases of 75,000 bu. made by local handlers. Shipping sales aggregated 156,000 bu. with the spot basis steady to 1/4¢ higher. Buenos Aires closed 2 1/2¢ lower, with May at 6 1/2¢, or 2 1/2¢ over Chicago.

GOVT BONDS LEAD AS MARKET RISES TO HIGHER LEVELS

CASH GRAIN NEWS

While foreigners showed considerable interest in cash wheat, sales in all positions were generally light, as the market has advanced very sharply of late, and foreigners were not disposed to follow the upturn. Local shipping sales were 3,000 bu. wheat, 156,000 bu. corn, 28,000 bu. oats, and 3,000 bu. barley.

Points Out Strain of University Heads; Cites Many Duties

New York, Nov. 20.—Thirty-five new college presidents have been elected since Jan. 1, 1923, six elected in 1923 inaugurated, four active presidents designated, and presidential affairs of ten other institutions placed in the hands of staff members pending filling of vacancies, says Archie M. Palmer in an article appearing in the Association of American Colleges Bulletin for November.

As to what is required, he writes: "Only a superman can for long meet the constant professional demands placed upon him in such broad and varied fields as those of scholarship, campaigning for funds, balancing budgets, administering educational programs, hiring and firing, directing building projects, lecturing, personal relationships, representing the institution publicly, statecraft, serving on innumerable committees, diplomacy, and incidentally running a college. The strain on the human frame—to say nothing of the strain on mind and spirit—is enough to break any normal man in a short time."

Only one of these new executives is a woman; eighteen are members of Phi Beta Kappa, and twenty are included in the 1928-29 edition of "Who's Who in America." Ages range from 30 to 66 years.

Here's Novelty as Two Women Plan for Party

BY THALIA

Every social season is featured with a certain quota of fancy dress parties, and it's always interesting to note what new ideas hosts and hostesses have been able to evolve to engage the interest of guests.

Mrs. Louise de Koven Phelps and Mrs. George R. Nichols Jr., have planned an affair that really is novel, and was, I should imagine concocted under the influence of summer activities at Watch Hill, where both of them spend their summers. They've arranged for a dinner dance at the Opera club on Tuesday evening, Nov. 21, and have indicated that each guest is to come prepared to participate in his or her favorite sport.

Whether they have committed themselves by such an announcement to provide polo fields, skating arenas, and the like for those so inclined is quite clear to me, but the party itself will be a great success.

Mrs. Phelps has just returned from Europe, where she went after garnering a new crop of honors at golf at Watch Hill, and Mrs. Nichols is now in New York City for a short stay.

Another affair that may be called a fancy party is a red and white dinner dance to be given by Mr. and Mrs. William H. Bush at the Casino on Dec. 7 for their debutante daughters, Carol and Emeline. The girls are in wear white frocks, and the young men wear tuxedos.

Mrs. Elizabeth Drake, daughter of the John B. Drakes, was one of the bridesmaids in the wedding yesterday afternoon of Miss Elizabeth James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip L. James of New York City, to Reginald Herbert Church, which took place at the Central Presbyterian church in New York. The Jameses are former residents of Chicago.

The bride wore ivory satin, princess style, and a train lined with pale green chiffon. Miss Marjorie James was maid of honor for her sister, and wore yellow tulle and tulle and a crown velvet turban, as did the other bridesmaids. They carried African roses, and yellow sweet peas.

This might be entitled "Musical Comedy Lovers' Ball." Dorothy Reay, who was developing quite astonishing talents in the song and dance line, is engaged, and will henceforth be interested in pots and pans than in dancing lessons.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mason Reay of Highland Park, Dorothy's parents, make the announcement of her betrothal to James Arthur Younglove, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Clute Younglove of Glenview, and although the news could hardly have been considered a surprise, there was a luncheon yesterday at the Reays' residence in Highland Park to proclaim it officially.

Miss Reay attended Les Tournelles, in Belgium, and since she appeared in the service club show a few years ago has been in New York studying. Mr. Younglove is a graduate of Cornell and a member of Chi Psi fraternity. No wedding date has been set.

Mrs. Philip D. Armour will be the solo attendant of her sister, Miss Betty Omden, daughter of the Thomas G. Omden of New York, at her wedding today to Leslie Hyde Pell at St. Paul's Episcopal church in New York. Miss Herbert Shipman will read the vows, which will be followed by a reception at the bride's parents' apartment at the Park Lane hotel.

The third and last of the Drama League's series of lectures will be given this afternoon at the Arts club by Martin Rowland of the French University of the University of Chicago. His subject will be "Contemporary French Drama." Mrs. James H. Hough, Mrs. Clarence Hough, Mrs. Louise Hough, and Mrs. Edwin T. Hough will pour at the tea following the lecture. The French consul, Count de Ponteville, will be a guest.

Mrs. Royden J. Keith is to give a talk at the Women's Athletic club and mainline party to see "The Age of Innocence" on Saturday for Miss Deane Dewes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Dewes, who made her debut this month.

To dress formally or not is the question confronting the Theater Guild subscribers who will attend the evening of "Strange Intercourse" next Wednesday at the Blackstone theater. The play begins at 8:30 o'clock, and who wants to step forth in pastel taffeta and satin slippers or tulle and tulle at such an hour? The dinner hour intermission is from 10 to 11 o'clock, and there will be no dinner parties at nearby hotels and clubs. Subscribers for the evening night include W. Rufus Abbott, Arthur Aldis, Mrs. Cyrus Bent, W. Scott Blair, E. A. Cudahy, Harry Eckhart, Mrs. Leroy A. Goddard, Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, Mrs. John T. Pirie, Frederick H. Rawson, and Col. A. A. Sprague.

Christmas week festivities will be sponsored by the presence of the Yale club members, who are to give an annual concert on Dec. 23 at the Opera club.

"Not Rebels, Heroes," Say Daughters of the Confederacy at Session

Bloom, Miss, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Meeting in the statehouse President Jefferson Davis of the confederacy chose for his residence, the United Daughters of the Confederacy paid tribute today to Mississippi's contribution to the cause of secession and proclaimed the confederate soldier "not a rebel, but a hero."

"The U. D. C.," said Mrs. W. C. N. Merchants of Chatham, Va., president general, "is an unique organization, all loyal, devoted citizens, believing in the doctrine of state rights and local self-government."

"There is no sound of measured tread," she said, "yet 65,000 members of the daughters are on guard, from the fields of Pennsylvania, across to the Mississippi, all over this land, where there are graves known only to their God."

"They are on guard to see that they are called not rebels, but heroes, for the men of the south were patriots, and it is the duty of this organization to hold aloft the torch of truth."

Adolphe Menjou Is Better 2d Day After Operation (Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, Nov. 20.—The condition of Adolphe Menjou, the famous debonair villain of the silent pictures, is noticeably satisfactory, doctors announced tonight. Although he will not be allowed to see visitors for two or three days yet, scores of enthusiastic fans have been crowding the lobby of the American hospital to see the actor.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dowdle were hosts to a party including Mrs. Edward Campbell Farmer, Mrs. Frank Quinn, Mr. and Mrs. William McNulty, and Mrs. Frederick Crosby, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Chasely, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Chasely were guests of the Stanley Fields. With Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Yager were Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Cantwell Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Dougherty.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Goldberg were with Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Ols Jr., and Maj. and Mrs. L. R. Lohr. The William V. Kelley box was occupied by the group including Mrs. George Meeker, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Meeker, Mr. and Mrs. John Broekman, and Warren Parsons.

Prairie Club Hike. The Prairie club will take its weekly hike Saturday in the vicinity of Gooseville, leaving at 1:30 p. m. from 307 Plymouth court by motor coach. The walk, which will cover a distance of six miles.

MRS. PAUL C. CRONIS. (Gordon Photo.)

Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Cronis, who were married on Oct. 5, have returned from their wedding trip to the Pacific coast and are residing at 5525 North Campbell avenue. The bride is the former Miss Astrid C. Bremberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bremberg of 5660 North Maplewood avenue.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY (Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—The state functions in the White House scheduled for the month of December have been cancelled because of the death of Secretary James W. Good. They are the diplomatic reception announced for the fifth, the cabinet dinner on the twelfth. The diplomatic reception is always the most brilliant one of the state functions and there are many new members of the diplomatic corps who will meet formally until New Year's day, when the President and first lady hold their great reception to diplomatic and official society. They will meet later that day at the breakfast to the diplomatic corps given by the secretary of state and his wife in the Pan-American Union building.

The Cuban ambassador and Senora De Ferrera have recalled their invitations for the month of November and dinner, one of which was for the dinner on Friday evening in honor of the secretary of state and Mrs. Henry L. Stimson.

Gives $425,000 for Presbyterian Church in National Capital

Presbyterians of the United States are about to build a magnificent "national" church in Washington, D. C. An unsolicited, anonymous gift of $425,000 toward the project was announced yesterday at a meeting of the general council of the Presbyterian church in session at the Fourth Presbyterian church. The announcement was made from Washington, through Dr. Charles Wood, pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian church in the capital.

The council appointed the Rev. Dr. William Hiram Poukes of Newark, N. J., to take charge of the fund, as requested by the donor. It was stated that the idea which underlies the project is to build a fitting edifice of such beauty and proportions as to reflect the spirit and aspirations of millions of Presbyterians in America. It was observed that because the Presbyterian church had no suitable edifice in the national capital to receive the body of Woodrow Wilson that honor went to the Episcopal church, which is building a great cathedral there.

A budget of $12,000,000 for home and foreign missions and general church agencies was approved by the council. The council adjourned last night to meet in Philadelphia on March 3.

WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Carpenter Wiswell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Wiswell of 2624 South Seelye avenue, to Dr. Francis George Shisler, took place last Friday evening at the residence of the bride's parents. The former Miss Wiswell is a graduate of Francis Shimer college at Mount Carroll, Ill. Dr. Shisler was graduated from Northwestern university. After a wedding trip they will reside at 1921 Longwood drive.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—The state functions in the White House scheduled for the month of December have been cancelled because of the death of Secretary James W. Good. They are the diplomatic reception announced for the fifth, the cabinet dinner on the twelfth. The diplomatic reception is always the most brilliant one of the state functions and there are many new members of the diplomatic corps who will meet formally until New Year's day, when the President and first lady hold their great reception to diplomatic and official society. They will meet later that day at the breakfast to the diplomatic corps given by the secretary of state and his wife in the Pan-American Union building.

The Cuban ambassador and Senora De Ferrera have recalled their invitations for the month of November and dinner, one of which was for the dinner on Friday evening in honor of the secretary of state and Mrs. Henry L. Stimson.

Scientist Says Cosmic Rays Help Create Iron, Helium, Silicon

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 20.—(AP)—One more step in unraveling the mystery of the creation of matter was reported today by Dr. Robert A. Millikan, Nobel prize winner and director of California Institute of Technology.

This creation does not touch the primeval origin of all substance, such as the Book of Genesis describes, but the supposed daily creation of four of the most abundant elements, oxygen, helium, silicon, and iron.

The evidence presented was of a form of radiation called cosmic rays, so named because they came from all directions of space day and night, and are not concentrated, like light, in the direction of the sun or stars. They are so much shorter than X-rays that they are believed to penetrate completely all living bodies.

Dr. Millikan explained why he thinks they represent creation of matter. They are too short to come from any known earthly radiation, such as radium; their lengths agree with the tremendous energies which scientists impute to both the annihilation and the creation of matter.

Annihilation, said Dr. Millikan, takes place in the hot centers of the sun and stars, and the cosmic rays do not come from that source. Furthermore, their formations agree "beautifully" with requirements of rays from creation of matter. Dr. Millikan did not assert that he had proved this creation, but said it was indicated, and the only apparent stage from which it could emanate was the vast cold reaches among the stars.

Heretofore, he said, the most penetrating cosmic rays he had detected penetrated only about 200 feet into the earth. Now he and his associate, Dr. G. H. Cameron, have found them down to 500 feet, and Dr. Regener, in Germany, has measured them at 700 feet.

It is these extremely short penetrating rays which he believes indicate formation of iron.

Nature Makes the Parents Responsible for Their Offspring

My Gladys Huntington

A book on the care of babies by Miss Carolyn Conant Van Blarcom, a noted authority on the subject, can be had at the Tribune Public Service Office, 1 South Dearborn street, for 50 cents, or by mail for 65 cents.

"O, dear," she said to me with a half humorous, half worried smile, "you make it so hard for the mothers. You make them responsible for everything."

It did give me a guilty twinge. And then I had to defend myself. "I don't have anything to do with it. It's nature that makes them responsible. And besides, all the intelligent mothers know they're responsible without my telling them. Listen to this—"

And I read the following extracts from a charming letter: "My husband is a busy country physician and our home routine is consequently often upset. We have found that when we are trifling or fussy from loss of sleep or overwork our children are also unusually trying. We have come to the conclusion that the fault lies with us—that we are our own problem."

It really does boil down to that, and many mothers realize it, though an astonishing number do not. As witness a number of letters I have received lately, of which the gist is something like this:

"My little girl is growing sulky and disobedient and cries so easily. I have talked and talked to her, but it seems to have no effect. I am away at business all day and she won't obey the young girl I have to take care of her. What do you think all the child and what can I do?"

In most of these cases the cause is obvious—the child needs her mother's love and she is not getting it. The substitute who probably cannot give her the affection and interest she needs, and also doesn't know how to manage her. The mother is responsible, whether she is powerless to change the conditions or not. It is not the child's fault. But many women do not easily see their responsibility, do not see that the origin of these behavior difficulties is traceable to them.

Sometimes even when a mother recognizes these facts, she cannot do much about it, particularly if she is forced to work outside her home every day. But some mothers go to business every day and they don't care, or like the additional money. Their children have to take what they can get—and often what they get is not at all what they need.

In any case, I'm not the hard-headed monster who makes parents responsible for their children. It's nature that does it, and while she can't go to the extreme of calling it your fault that they're artistic or mechanical or bent, that they're thinkers or doers, that they're highly gifted or average, that they're executive or administrative, that they have red hair or brown, are chubby or slender, have brown eyes or blue, she (nature) is justified in holding you to account.

Patterns for Clotilde

(Registered U. S. Patent Office.)

WOMAN'S AND MISSES DRESS.
Tobacco brown silk crêpe will be smart for this dress that is rather suggestive of the princess silhouette, with its rounded bodice and curved neckline. Godets inserted at either side of the front make the dress flare at the hemline and end in the hip yoke that buttons at the center back. The bodice also closes at the center back with button trim. Pointed turn-over collar that is round at the back, is made of silk crêpe and in a yellow beige shade, repeated in the cuffs on the tight fitting sleeves.

The pattern, 2980, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years, and 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards of 39 inch material with 3/4 yard of 35 inch contrasting.

How to Order Clotilde Patterns.
Write your name and address plainly on dotted lines, giving number and size of each pattern as you want. Inclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred; wrap it carefully) for each number, and address your order to Clotilde Patterns, CHICAGO TRIBUNE, 247 Park Avenue, New York City.

Note—Clotilde patterns are made in New York exclusively for the Chicago Daily Tribune. They are perfect in fit, up to date in style, and the easiest of all patterns to use.

Bright Sayings of the Children
The Tribune will pay $5 for each child's saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in newspaper or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Address bright sayings to Auntie Sue, The Tribune, Chicago.

Grandma had been visiting us for a week and 2 year old Ralph was usually naughty. Finally I took him to task and said, "Why are you such a naughty boy? Why don't you be a good boy, as you are when we are by ourselves?"

He raised his head, and looking me straight in the eyes, replied: "Me don't like two women tell me what to do."

Our Barney was playing with Tim, who lived next door, and we could see that Barney was obliged to give up to Tim in everything. That evening we mentioned it, and Barney said: "It's hard to keep on the rich side of him, but I'm trying to till I get him sized up."

"And then what?" asked father. "Then," was the startling answer, "if I think I can lick him, I won't try so hard to keep out of a fight."

Every month our mother must tell them at the office. Another business girl who has not discovered Midol! The natural process of life does not interfere with duty when these wonderful tablets are taken. They bring complete ease in five to seven minutes; no matter how difficult a time you've always had! Midol! marvelous, non-narcotic, as any druggist familiar with the formula can assure you. The quick and complete relief is due to its acting directly on the organs affected. Midol! is obtainable at any drug store for fifty cents, in metal case.

Midol! is not confined to any certain days or age. It relieves at any time of life. Its ease is felt immediately in cases of nervous headache, backache, cramping, hot flashes and all febrile pain peculiar to women.

Net Scarves and Hair Ornaments Win Favor

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence.)—There are many—no, not "many" but "mesh" notes—coming to the theater these days. And sometimes they do not compose the popular silk net evening gown or the equally popular silk net flounce on a gown of other fabric. Sometimes, as you see exemplified in today's sketch, the net is confined to the minor touches.

This is a day of charming evening accessories. Muffs, fans, gloves, jewelry, handkerchief and bags must with slippers and hosiery carry out the proper message of the frock and wrap. And, speaking of accessories, the long bob and the knot which have supplanted the boyish coiffures of some months ago have brought out numerous hair ornaments. Long pins studded with rhinestones or mayhap real diamonds are apt to give dash to one side of the chignon. Also does the long Chanel bar usually developed in brilliant assist in that feminization of the coiffure now so apparent.

We are showing today the effect of a novel sort of wide silk mesh bordered with tiny balls of chenille designed by Madeleine for evening wear. These evening scarves have been launched before, but this is an exceptionally charming version. It occurs in white to accompany a delightful evening gown of white georgette.

This gown contrasts a princess back with a broken line in the front and the latter divides its opinion between a girde plain on one side and a shirred on the other. A large bow accents the side and the skirt displays an ingenious manipulation of drapes.

Speaking of the shirred motif, it must not be forgotten that this is a favored evening touch of the moment. Both Lanvin and Patou, for example, are partial to this treatment.

Give Plays Tonight.
Players drawn from the Gladiators Mummies and the Jack and Jill theater will present two one-act plays before the woman's auxiliary of the Chicago Surface Lines tonight. The cast is under the direction of Ben Adam and will offer one of his plays, "The Shoe on the Other Foot." The second play will be "A Boy's Proposal."

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS
When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become clogged, channels often get so water backs up, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get so water backs up, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of good water.
